That race between Taisto Maki and Greg Rice in the Finn's first appearance in the United States should be a great one.

Maki holds the world outdoor records in the two and three miles, while Rice, who seemingly is just hitting his stride now, broke the world's indoor records in both the two and three mile races within two weeks.

Maki's outdoor marks are 8:53.2 for two miles, and 13:42.4, the latter being considerably faster than Rice's mark of 13:55.9.

Rice, in setting his indoor two-mile mark, put together halves of 2:12, 2:16.1, 2:18.3, and 2:09.6. That last half speaks highly of his finishing kick, as the little Notre Damer actually came through with a 60 second final quarter mile as he sprinted away from his opponents at the race's end.

There's some doubt that Rice can beat Maki, but there doesn't seem to be any doubt that he's on the way up to even greater things than he achieved in college.

That idea of Rube Hoy's to do away with the expulsion of basketball players after they've made four fouls seems like a good one in several ways.

A football player can be thrown out of a game for little short of mayhem, while a basketball man may make four little fouls, some of them very unintentionally, and have to leave the game.

Falls City, Jackson high prep victors

Three favorites come through to easy wins in meet's first round

Falls City, defending state high basketball champions, took an impressive 46 to 22 win from Albion last night in their opening game.

Grand Island got past Scottsbluff 19 to 12 after trailing the westerners 9 to 8 at the start of the last quarter.

Lincoln got a scare for three quarters from Schuyler before winning 35 to 28. Floyd Wilkinson, star Red and Black center, came into the game at the start of the last quarter with Lincoln behind 22 to 21 and sparked his team to victory.

McCook proved too strong for Omaha Benson and won 39 to 31, after the Bunnies had pressed nearly all the way.

Creighton Prep established itself as a strong contender for the state class A basketball championship yesterday afternoon as the Junior Jays walloped Hastings 43-15 in the tourney's opening game.

Jackson, a pre-tournament favorite, won over Nebraska City, 38-21 in an uninteresting game.

Fremont built up an early lead, but barely pulled away from Norfolk, 27-26, in the best of yesterday afternoon's games.

Sidney's crew overpowered a weak-looking North Platte aggregation, 45-20, as they led all the way in a rather raggedly played game.

In the afternoon's Class B competition, Friend looked like a threat as they subdued Benedict in the session's high scoring game.

Class "B" scores last night, Minatare 52, St. Francis of Humphrey 36; Culbertson 28, Calloway 20; O'Neill 22, Oakdale 19; Harrison 29, Guardian Angel of West Point 30.

Trumbull showed a good looking team in beating Melbeta, 38-28, in Class C competition.

Class "C" scores: Assumption 25, Plymouth 24; Republican City 31, Wood Lake 17; Duncan 36, Greenwood 19; Comstock 34, Sumner 12.

the violin department in their recital and Mr. Ward Moore of the faculty lectured and played four numbers.

Accompanists, Guy Swanson, Jay Norris, Malcolm Hayes, Fay Masnie, Betty Jean Horner, Keith Sturdevant, Gwen Kemist, Paul Korung, and Elizabeth May.

Scores of the top four teams were: University of Wisconsin, 4,206; Texas A. & M. college, 4,203; New Mexico, 4,198; and Nebraska, 4,192.

Table with columns: Name, School, Pos., Height, Weight, Year. Lists players like Clay Cooper, Marvin Mesch, Blaine Currence, Richard Harp, Sidney Held.

Honorable mention: Marvin Snodgrass, Oklahoma; Jack Horacek, Kansas State; Martin Nash, Missouri; Don Ebling, Howard Engelman, Kansas; Bill Watson, Missouri; Gordon Nichlas, Iowa State.

Records of the men chosen for the DAILY'S all Big Six basketball team speak for themselves, but just to refresh your memories, we'll review their accomplishments.

Jimmy McNatt, Oklahoma's star forward, led the conference in scoring, and there's no reason in the world he shouldn't be chosen.

Ralph Miller, the Kansas junior, came into his own this year. Miller, the greatest player ever turned out of a Kansas high school, has been hampered by a bad knee throughout his college days.

Herb Scheffler of Oklahoma gets a weak vote over Blaine Currence of Missouri at center. It was Scheffler who kept the Sooners in the race especially in the last half of the season when he started scoring.

Bob Allen of Kansas was the balance-wheel of the Jayhawk team. Allen was listed as a center, but could star at any position on the floor.

John Lobsiger of Missouri, all-conference two years in a row, and captain of the Tigers for two years, is a great player.

Clay Cooper, the best forward Missouri had; Marvin Mesch, who really scintillates when he plays forward; Currence, Dick Harp and Sid Held of the Huskers complete the list.

Five Husker cinder stars to Chicago

Littler, Hunt, Smutz, Wibbels, Brooks enter in Armour Tech meet

Five Cornhusker track stars will perform for the Huskers at the Armour Tech relays in Chicago Saturday night, as the Nebraska indoor season comes to an end.

Coach Ed Weir announced yesterday that Red Littler, Bill Smutz, Harold Hunt, Harold Brooks and Ed Wibbels would leave Friday night and return Sunday from the meet.

Littler will run the 60, and possibly the 440, after having won both events in the Big Six indoor meet.

First outdoor appearance will come in the Kansas relays which are held on the next last Saturday of April.

WAA sends two delegates to convention

WAA is sending Hortense Casady, president-elect, and Elnora Sprague as official delegates to the national WAA convention at Normal, Ill., April 11, 12, and 13.

The delegates, one of whom will be a national committeeman, will be abetted by seven junior and sophomore WAA council members.

Miss Loize Montgomery will attend the convention as WAA sponsor.

Show ring competition, ball highlight weekend

Tickets for the tenth annual Junior Ak-Sar-Ben ball are now on sale. The ball will open the celebrations for the annual Junior Ak-Sar-Ben weekend on the ag campus Thursday and Friday.

Theme of the dance, at which Gene Pieper's orchestra will play, is that of St. Patrick. The Activities building will be decorated in keeping with this Irish figure.

Instruction in fitting, handling the animals and show ring practice have occupied the time of the more than 70 students who have entered the Saturday night competition.
