To the 1940 B.D.O.C.,

Jack Cole ...

Congratulations to the Best Dressed Man on the Campus. Chosen from five runnersup—Harold Rohde, Merrill Englund, Stanley Bridenbaugh, William Niehus, and Verne Rawalt—, selected from twenty-four nominees by a representative group of seven coeds, the campus acclaims you.

In conducting the 1940 B. D. O. C. contest we have attempted to further at Nebraska casual and distinctive attire. Appropriateness has been the key-word in the current contest. As examples of this theme in dress, various organizations entered candidates.

To those candidates, to the signers of their nomination blanks, to the judging committee, and to the entire student body we extend our thanks. The contest is of your making. You have made it a success.

Harvey Brothers

and Style

Because it's Spring, because you feel a need of something new in clothes, you'll want to stop at Harvey's to rejuvenate your wardrobe. You'll see cheerful, individual colors, not too loud, but with a personality. You'll see new lines in clothes that give you an extra lift.

Back this year and stronger than ever is the three button single breasted drape... smart diagonal weaves... distinctive new stripes in a wide variety... rough and smooth finish cloths in buoyant spring colors including teal blue and sage green... Shetland imported tweed for an easy drape, a casual general wear suit.

Lines this year broaden your shoulders, narrow your waist, give you a new feeling in your clothes. You'll find all these features—lines, color, material in our new spring suits.

... 22⁵⁰ to 27⁵⁰

For an additional touch of color to compliment your spring suit... a telescope or a campus created "Cornhusker" hat... jaunty shapes in distinctive shades... mint green, chestnut brown, tobacco, squirrel gray, and sage blue. You'll see many of them this spring. Get yours now at.....
