

Society . . .

Well, if this is life and love at NU, give me an aspirin

By Agnes Wanek.

Bad news is in store for the picnic-minded socialites. As long as this column seems to forecast the weather day after day we may as well break the news that we have it on good authority that there will be a snow storm Friday, a hail storm Saturday, and a dust storm Sunday. Any weekend plans had better be cancelled. After all it is practically (we say practically because the ingenuity of some of our prominent campusites, including Beta Jack Hyland, and Sigma Chi Grant Thomas, is amazing)—it is practically impossible to have a typical Nebraska picnic in such weather conditions.

FLASH!

In honor of his engagement, Theos Thompson has persuaded his dad, (you've probably heard of the dean in one way or another) to persuade the Chancellor to declare a three day holiday beginning Friday of next week. Sorority houses will have two-thirty nights on Friday and Sunday and on Saturday, all sorority girls will be provided with keys to the front door.

THIS IS

the straight dope and the Student Council will please note. The University has decided that in response to the student strike which has been going on for two days, an all-University party will be held at the Hotel Fontenelle in Omaha a month from Sunday. Glenn Miller and his orchestra will play and as part of the floor show, Rosita Royce will present her dove dance with which she fascinated the Kosmet Klub pony chorus (especially Paul Svoboda). Rumor has it that Beta Orval Hager is taking both D G Nan Talbot and Kappa Mary Ella Bennett. Other dates include ATO John Mason and Alpha Phi Florence Moll; Pi Phi Virginia Clemans and Beta Alumn Doc Elias; and Sig Alpha Alex Mills and his great love from Oaceola.

PINHANGINGS

of the weekend have an unusual turn to them. If you will notice, the Steuteville twins of Alpha Xi Delta and Mortar Board fame, are now the proud possessors of two fraternity pins, both from the same man who has had so much trouble telling them apart that he fell in love with both of them.

Is it only rumor that Beta Dick deBrown has hung his pin. If it is true, there will be many broken hearts lying around.

SIGMA NUS

have decided to build an annex to the house so instead of having their traditional Gold Rush party this year they are going to use the money for the annex. In addition they are sponsoring a bridge benefit and tickets will be sold only to university men students.

Strike—

(Continued from Page 1.)

It appeared for about 24 hours that the performance would be called off due to this unforeseen disaster.

Members of "Ski Stealers" pony chorus struck! Not for higher wages but because their theatrical rights and integrity have been blasphemed and hampered by the impending appearance of a professional strip-teaser.

"Beefy hoofers" sit down.

Armand stormed. Armand coaxed. Armand pleaded. Armand demanded. But the chorus stood up for their rights as thespians. "If SHE does a strip-tease—we won't do ours, so there, too!"

"But, fellows," Mr. Hunter begged, after the 18 pony-chorus members had been on strike for 27 hours. "Miss Lee's performance is art—pure art. And she says that if she's to appear at the World Premiere of our show, along with Greta Garbo, Clark Gable, Mortimer Snerd, Charlie McCarthy, Vivien Leigh, and those other stars, she'll do her strip-tease—or else, she won't come at all."

An infringement of rights

The pony-chorus was not impressed. They held that even if Miss Gypsy Rose Lee's dance was artistic and would enhance the beauty of the show, their strip-tease, they said, was just as artistic, and would do just as much to enhance the aesthetic quality of the production. And, besides, it was an infringement on their rights—her appearance was against the professional ethics of the theatre—and, to import Miss Lee for the premiere would be to stifle Young America's initiative and ambition.

"NO," the chorus chorused. "If she strips, we WON'T!"

For hours all was darkness on the Temple front, then, after 29 and one-half hours of deliberations, conferences, threats, and compromises—Armand consented to their wishes. "Okey, men... you win. Miss Lee is out. After the way you've stuck to me through thick and thin... beer and ale... whiskey and soda, I CAN'T let you down."

Armand cries and cries . . .

"Please forgive me," he murmured, as he burst into tears. The chorus, on seeing how gracious Hunter was, looked up with their 18 pairs of big red eyes, and said, "Gawsh, Armand, we can't do this to you . . . If Miss Lee won't strip, we won't either (Besides the faculty just sent word to us that we'd better not strip, or the whole bunch of us would be expelled flat on our dancing-panties)."

There will be NO strip-teases at the World Premiere of "Ski Stealers."

Morgue—

(Continued from Page 1.)

filed in the new morgue at an approximate cost of 50c each. First semester profits of the DAILY have already paid for the cuts.

Kennels for type lice.

To house all press cuts, photographs, files and empty bottles belonging to the DAILY, the morgue will fill the southeast corner of the Union basement formerly occupied by the Awgwan. Ten feet long kennels for DAILY'S type lice will run along the south wall, with filing cabinets containing cuts of all university professors and their wives and ex-wives built above.

Wadsworth speaks on natives' family life

J. R. Wadsworth, chairman of the department of romance languages spoke on "Family Life Among the Natives of Martinique and Guadeloupe and the Panama Islands", before the Social Work majors luncheon Saturday noon. Wadsworth explained that the Panama island races have been kept pure by a unique law which allows no British officers or other strangers to stay on the island overnight.

Martin tells of watches

Prof. O. V. Martin of the physics department will address the fifth annual convention of watchmakers in Nightwatch, Conn., on the mechanical phenomenon of "Why the Back of a Watch Is Always Behind Time."

Lancaster tells how

"How to Clean Up by Sponging Off of Others" is the title of an article written by Prof. L. W. Lancaster of the political science department in the current issue of the paper GRIT.

Dean writes fish article

Dean H. A. Foster of law college has written an article on New England fishing controversy (from the standpoint of the fish) which appears in the Michigan Law Review.

Patterson is pertinent

Prof. Charles Patterson writes a pertinent article in this month's Market Guide entitled "The Psychological Reason Why Chinamen Don't Eat Grapefruits With Chopsticks."

Hosp speaks of charm

Dean Helen Hosp will speak before members of the Charm School this week. Her subject will be "What Some Girls Carry in Compacts Is Enough to Make Anyone Blush."

"MUST HAVES" from now on!

Spectators

Unquestionably your most important! Here in every smart way! White with Blue, Turf Tan or Black Calf or Alligator! The "bump toe" pump also in Banana and Turf Tan. High, casual, college or pyramid heels. CONNIE, PARIS FASHION or ROGERS HALL SPECTATORS!

$2.95 to $4.95

Saddles

Definitely all your favorites! Front or Side-Ties. White with Blue, Black or Brown. White or Red Sueded Rubber soles!

$2.95

Play Shoes

Absolutely your "most of musts!" Bright, gay colorful! All the newest styles! Reds! Blues! Yellows! Whites! Combinations! Wedgies! Plaid linings!

$1.95 and $2.95

LINCOLN SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Final Concert of Season
Monday Eve., 8 P. M. April 1

St. Paul's Church

DON LENTZ

Honorary guest soloist

Single Admission—$2.00
On Sale at Door.

LOCALLY OWNED • LOCALLY CONTROLLED

GOLD & CO.

WE GIVE S & H GREEN STAMPS