

Bradley, J. Thompson score touchdowns, Schleich kicks extra point as Harvards win

By Jim Evinger.

It may be the spring season, but the weather elements gave football a fall background, Saturday afternoon, as the Cornhusker Harvards and Yales battled on the stadium sod in typical mid-November weather, cloudy, dreary, windy, and the temperature hovering around the middle 50's.

The outcome of the game however, found the Harvards nipping the Yales 7-6 and being the complete masters of the situation thruout the first three quarters. Freshman Dale Bradley pushed across the first score, skirting end for 5 yards and Vic Schleich placekicked the extra point that spelled victory for the Reds in the second period.

Another freshman, John Thompson, added the second touchdown, also sweeping end to score from the 20, but George "Bus" Knight's placement was blocked in the last quarter.

Reds Get to 10.

The Harvard first had it all over the Yales in the first period with Dale Bradley and Walter "Butch" Luther sparking a drive that took the ball to the Yale 10, but a last down pass from Bradley to Marvin Athey was long on the goal line as the quarter ended.

The Harvard seconds were not to be denied. In the second canto, they came back with another rush aided by Bradley passes to Fred Metheny and to Marvin Thompson for a first down on the 10 yard line. On the third play, Bradley lugged the ball over from the 5.

The first teams came back in the third quarter and the Reds got back to work again. Don Rubottom, Wayne Blue, and Butch Luther supplied the fireworks, working the ball to the Yale 12 before losing the ball on downs.

Yale's seconds came back to spark the play in the last period led by Johnny Thompson and Ken Simmons. The Yale score came late with Thompson running 20 yards to score. Harvard a few plays previous had stopped a Yale drive on the 4.

The Harvards gained their victory thru a more spirited drive, which was especially noticeable between the play of the first teams. Only injury of the day was suffered by Theos Thompson who wrenched his knee. Lineups:

Around sixty aspiring baseball players were out yesterday as the diamond team played two games at the same time... which is a very nice turnout for temperatures like Saturday... from the sublime to the not-so-something or other: Johnny McDermott, veteran Husker, played his first intrasquad baseball game the other day... on his first time at bat on the first ball pitched Mac batted out a home run... he came up to bat twice again in the same inning, and struck out.

High schoolers: Howard Debus, great Lincoln athletic star, is well on the way to another great track season... in the interclass meet at LHS, Debus did 51-4 in the shot, 159-9 1/4 in the discus, and pitched the javelin 184 feet... He didn't even enter the pole vault in which he got over 12 feet last year... some time ago he broad jumped for the first time... got 21 feet on the first try... for those who noticed in Cy Sherman's column Tuesday about the off-campus UCLA agent who is trying to line up Waldo Winter of Jackson; about the Oregon State enthusiast who is after both Winter and his teammate Red Neihardt; and about the Iowa booster who is trying to lure Neihardt to Hawkeyetown: A similar article appeared in Paul Zimmerman's Los Angeles Times column on the same day... Zimmie, a former Husker trackman, evidently got his information from the same place as Cy, and said he could furnish proof of what he said to Pacific Coast Commissioner Atherton or anyone else.

Varsity baseball team beats freshmen 11-3 in 7 innings

Cold weather cut the scheduled varsity-freshman baseball game to seven innings yesterday, but when the dust cleared the Husker varsity beat the frosh 11 to 3. Sid Held and "Ole" Swanson pitched for the winning club. Held, promising sophomore pitcher from Lincoln, also hit a home run in the sixth inning.

Coach Wilbur Knight's diamond hopes did not take long to get started as they scored two runs in the first inning when Le Master walked, McDermott got on on Sauer's error and they both scored on Lance Ray's clean single into left field. In the second frame Bill Kinnamon, yearling catcher, leaned on one of Held's fast balls for three bases scoring Manzitto ahead of him. Held's circuit clout and Kinnamon's triple were the only extra base blows of the day.

Wildness due to the early season coldness kept pitchers in hot water most of the afternoon. Varsity pitchers did not walk a man while two freshman chuckers, Bob Fast and "Ange" Ossino walked a total of seven men.

Coaches Knight and A. J. Lewandowski shifted lineups at frequent intervals. Knight alternated two men in five positions in order to get a better lineup on new material under fire.

Bernie Le Master with two hits out of three trips to the plate, and Dow Wilson with two for four, and Lance Ray with a perfect day at bat in two trips were the leading hitters. Frank Coffman, frosh second baseman, was the only first year man to get more than one hit.

Sixty men reported for the workout and two games were played. The second Husker club played a frosh team on the yearlings' diamond.

Defending champions return in field events at KU relays

LAWRENCE, Kas., April 3.—For the first time in the history of the Kansas relays, defending champions will compete in every one of the field events at the big track and field carnival April 20. All six of last year's winners in the field events are back to defend their titles. Two of the men will be shooting for their third straight championships. "Glamour boy" of the Kansas Relays the past two years has been Beefus Bryan, colorful University of Texas pole vaulter. The Longhorn ace won the pole vault both years, setting new records on each occasion. In 1939 he vaulted 14 feet 2 inches here and 14 feet 1 at the Border Olympics. Other two-time winner is big Elmer Hackney from Kansas State. Hackney pushed the iron ball 50 feet to win here as a sophomore and last year set a new meet record in winning. Hackney improving. Later in the season the Wildcat star made the second best heave in sports annals, by putting the shot 55 feet 11 inches. A wrist injury handicapped Hackney early this season, but he has been looking much improved recently. Big as Hackney is, he has to concede the size championship to Jack Hughes of Texas, last year's winner in the discus throw. The burly Longhorn weight man scales in at 260 pounds. Hughes consistently has been bettering the Relays discus record of 154 feet this season. Dick Schnacke of Iowa State will have to down a crack field to win the high jump again this year. Schnacke made the best leap of his career, 6 feet 5 1/2 inches, to win here last spring. The Iowa State star is one of four seniors among the defending champions. Schumitzky returns. Two Missouri aces round out the crew of last year's winners who will be back in action April 20. Sol Schumitzky, limber Tiger broad jumper, leaped 24 feet 4 1/2 inches to capture his event as a sophomore last spring. Missouri's other winner was Bob Waldram, southpaw javelin thrower. Waldram, a high school sensation, was second here in 1938 and moved up to first last year. Both years he hurled the javelin more than 200 feet.
