

Yales edge Harvards 14-13 as Bob Kahler tallies twice; Butch Luther, Alfson score

By June Bierbower.

The Huskers' end situation, which may be called "acute," if one is speaking in relative terms, isn't any more so that way than is Missouri's or Oklahoma's, in all probability.

Missouri was plucked cleaner than a singed hen when Blaine Currence, Stillman Rouse and the two Orfs were lost. Right there went the four best ends the Tigers had, with only reserves Norvalle Wallach and Frank Amelung left. Wallach is 6-3 tall and weight 204, and will probably be Jimmy Starmers main aid in catching Paul Christman's passes next fall. Bob Steuber, a 190 pound freshman, who has played some time in the backfield, and who is a sprinter in addition, may get one of the starting positions. Any way you look at it, though, the Tigers have only two experienced men—and men who didn't play much at that. It will be interesting to see what Paul the Chrissie can do without his ends.

Oklahoma lost Frank Ivy, John Shirk and Alton Coppage, three of the best ends in the conference, but they're not quite in as bad a fix as Missouri. Two giant ends, Louis "Tree Top Sharpe" and Lyle Smith, who played a little as sophomores last year, and got in some competition may be the regulars. Tom Stidham, though, is trying Bill Jennings, a very capable back, and Cliff Speegle, an outstanding center, at end. That indicates either that Stidham thinks the end situation is pretty acute, or that the Sooners have backs and centers to spare. What with Matthews, Jacobs, Martin and a few more returning in the backfield, and with Marsee and Wood back as centers, the Sooner coach can at least afford to experiment during spring drills.

Ray Prochaska and Fred Preston, two major lettermen returning for the Huskers, have been playing regularly for the Harvard squad, and look like the starters next fall. The Husker ends, with the exception of Bob Ludwick, lack speed, and the coaching staff has been shifting the ends around fast and furiously to find someone to pair up with the ex-Lincoln high player, who turned in a good defensive game Saturday.

Harvard's last quarter drive failed to overtake the Yales yesterday, and the Eli's edged out a 14 to 13 victory as Warren Alfson's placement after his touchdown sailed wide of the bars.

Bob Kahler scored twice for the Yales, then Butch Luther ran 40 yards for a Harvard touchdown, and Alfson blocked and recovered John Thompson's punt for a score.

That left the score 14 to 13. Harry Hopp having converted both Yale touchdowns, as did Alfson for the Harvards, but the Red guard couldn't tie the score, as just before Biff Jones sent the two teams to the showers.

BOB KAHLER Journal & Star.

One drive halted.

The Yale firsts started against the Harvard seconds, and with Harry Hopp and Vike Francis playing the leading roles, got to the Reds, but were stopped for downs there. Dale Bradley, tho, punted into the stiff wind for the Eli's, and the ball went out of bounds on the 15.

Harry Hopp from that point pitched one to Bob Kahler who got the first Yale touchdown, then kicked the extra point.

Later in the same period after Bradley had kicked out of bounds on his own 42 the Eli's started their second scoring drive. A pass from Hopp to Bus Knight, and two consecutive first downs by plunging Vike Francis, who was ripping things up, put the ball on the Reds' 8.

From that point Mr. Kahler went into action again, and scored on a reverse. Hopp padded the second extra point.

The Biffer sent in his first Harvard team against the Yale seconds, and early in the period Butch Luther got away for a 25 yard run to the Eli 36 for the Harvards. Don Rubottom passed to him for a first down on the 26, another pass took it to the 18, and Wayne Blue made it a first and ten on the 14. Blue couldn't get his hands on a bad pass from center, and Willard Bunker recovered it on the 20 for the Reds to stop the first threat.

John Thompson punted out on his own 42 three plays later, Luther got two yards on a reverse, then took the ball from Blue on a reverse through tackle and sped 40 yards for the first Harvard touchdown. Alfson made the extra point.

Hold for downs.

The second Harvard score came after the Yales had held the Reds for downs on the four yard line. Don Rubottom had punted over the goal, and he returned John Thompson's punt back to the Yale's 45. Two Rubottom passes were knocked down, then Wayne Sindt, subbing for Walt Luther, whipped around end on a reverse to the 18. Rubottom went to the 14, but a fumble put the ball back on the 27. Rubottom then shot one toward Ray Prochaska in the end

Softballers start despite bad weather

Seven games played yesterday; 21 Barb clubs enter tourney

Seven intramural softball games were run off yesterday, despite the cold weather, in the first day's competition in the year's last sport.

Phi Gamma Delta piled up the biggest score of the day, as they walloped Phi Sigma Kappa, 23 to 2 in a League 5 game. In another tilt in the same league, Farm House put on a 6-run splurge in the fourth to beat the Delts, 7 to 2.

Only one League 4 game was played, as the DU's edged out Pi K. A., 10 to 9. Pi Kappa Alpha got three uns in the last inning, but could not overtake the DU's.

John Stoddard pitched the Bet's to a 5 to 2 win over Kappa Sigma, holding the losers scoreless except in the fourth. Sullivan pitched for the losers. In another League 3 game, Sigma Alpha Mu walloped Sigma Chi, 11 to 4, getting 5 runs in the third and four in the fourth frame.

The Phi Delta got nine runs in the third and fourth innings to beat the Sigma Nu's 13 to 5 behind pitcher Bill Ryan. In the day's other game, also in League 2, the Acavia's put on a four run rally in the fourth to beat Sigma Psi, 5 to 4. The Beta Sigs countered with three in the fifth, but couldn't beat the Acacia's.

Twenty-one teams have entered Barb play, as entries closed yesterday. Schedules will be made out, and play will begin April 17.

Teams entered are Y. M. C. A., Cornhusker Coop, ACBC, Baldwin Hall, Union Leaders, Tappa Kegga, Brown Derbies, 330 Athletic Club, Stratford Hall, Pawnee Club, Cornshellers, Johnson Hall.

KKK, Blue Heaven, Termites, Dirty Irish, Comamnders, Dark Horse, Hoosier Hot Shots, G-men, Juggernauts.

Spring practice begins for cage candidates

Nearly a score of candidates reported last night to Coach W. H. Browne for the first spring basketball drills of the year.

Browne explained and demonstrated plays to the cage candidates, then sent several teams thru a scrimmage, in which he alternated the different fives.

Drills will continue thruout this month until the early part of May. Next session is set for Wednesday night of next week.

zone, but Jones ruled interference on the pass, and it was the Reds' ball on the four with four downs to cross the goal. The Blue line dug in, though, as Wayne Blue and Rubottom netted exactly no gain in four tries at the Eli's forward wall.

Ken Simmons' plunging and an offside penalty got the Yales out to the 16, but Alfson came charging in to block John Thompson's fourth down put, recover the ball, and make the score 14-13. Alfson then missed the extra point, and Jones sent in his two third teams to end up the scrimmage.
