

Ida Migliario to speak here

Household editor sixth on vocational series

"Opportunities for Home Economics Trained Women in the Business World" will be Mrs. Ida Migliario's subject when she appears today as sixth speaker on the vocational information series sponsored by the office of the dean of women and the AWS board.

The speech will be held in the social rooms of the Home Economics building on ag campus. Mrs. Migliario will also hold individual conferences from 2:30 to 4:00 in the social rooms.

Mrs. Migliario is the editor of Household magazine, which is published in Kansas. Her speech has the approval of the chairman of the home economics women in the business group of the American Home Economics association. The subject chosen will cover both the fields of journalism and Home Economics.

All women interested in the subjects concerned will be welcome to individual conferences with Mrs. Migliario.

22nd annual Farmer's Fair opens May 4

Ag Goddess Gwen Jack reigns over festivities; Ed Rousek is manager

With Gwendolyn Jack, goddess of agriculture reigning over all festivities, the 22nd annual Farmers Fair opens on ag campus May 4. Edwin Rousek of Burwell is manager of the fair.

Every student takes a part in the affair which is the biggest event of the year on the farmers' campus. The Fair is presented to demonstrate the activities of the college to the public.

Fair board.

Other members of this year's fair board are: Ganis Richmond, agricultural exhibits; Annabelle Hutcheson, concessions; Peggy Sherburne, and Betty Jo Smith, home economics exhibits; Keith Gilmore, horse show and rodeo; Ellen Ann Armstrong, and Jane Brinegar, indoor show; Sylvia Zocholl, and Will Pitner, publicity; Bob Wheeler, parade; and Fred Whitney, construction and efficiency.

Report finally clears college 'Red' muddle

The American Student Union is a "communist front" organization, the American Youth Congress is not.

That is the contention of the Dies congressional committee investigating un-American activities in the U. S. The branding of the one organization and the white-washing of the other were contained in a report to congress on the work of the committee.

The American Student Union was listed with those organizations that the committee alleged are controlled by communist leadership that is boring from within to revise the U. S. system of government.

Don't quote--

(Continued from Page 1.)

Interest have been discussed by professors in their classrooms. But—the DAILY cannot get one word for publication. Why are they afraid? There is nothing to fear. If their opinions are good enough for class-room time, they are good enough for space in the DAILY. If their opinions are interesting to students in class, they are interesting to DAILY readers. Why, professors, don't you give the rest of the student-body, who are not in your classes, the chance to read your opinions. . . of what are you afraid?

The printed word is not an empirical and mystical thing. It is merely ink on paper. It is not harmful—especially in the DAILY, where, even if we wished to do harm, we have to answer to the Pub board. We will not misquote. We will print nothing you wish kept quiet. . . Isn't that the truth? But please don't keep so quiet. How about a break?

The Trend Is To Rudge's

"The American Way of Life"

BEGINS AT HOME

In the American scheme of things, everything stems from the home. Never has this been truer than it is, today. Never has it been more vital that our homes should reflect the American way of life. That they should be beautiful, livable . . . inviting to the stranger within our gates!

We can give you a lovelier home . . . NOW—this year—if you'll let us!! If you'll let us help you as only a store like ours can—by placing at your disposal a wonderful array of the things you need; by bringing you the newest . . . the best . . . that the market has to offer; by suggesting practical decorating ideas; by arranging for payment-in-easy-stages; by giving you the kind of service we like to think of as typically American!

Come—see for yourself. Visit our Home Furnishings departments—Monday See your long-cherished dream-for-your home take shape before your eyes See how easy it is to live well—at home—the American Way!

Rudge & Guenzel Co.