

Ag 'Y' night to draw 100 participants

Recreational facilities of city YMCA available for second annual party

More than a hundred ag students are expected to gather at the city YMCA on 13th and P tonight to take part in the second annual all ag 'Y' night, Morris Myers, chairman, said yesterday.

Swimming, bowling, dancing, roller skating, ping pong, and games will all be available to the ag students who make the trek to the 'Y' tonight. All the facilities of the 'Y' will be open to the students.

All students invited.

Every ag student is invited to drop in between the hours of 8 and 11 to take part in whatever recreation each prefers, the chairman said. Everyone who attends can choose his own entertainment, if he likes, or can take part in group games and recreation.

Whether or not students have indicated a preference on the bulletin boards in ag hall or the Home Ec building, they can take advantage of any of the recreation offered, since the preference lists were only to get an approximate idea of how many were interested in each sport, the chairman pointed out.

This second Y night is being sponsored by the ag YMCA and YWCA in cooperation with the Social Council. There will be a small charge for bowling, swimming and roller skating.

Twenty musicians present recital

School of Music presented departmental recitals Wednesday afternoon in the Temple. The voice department was represented by eight students. The piano recital, consisting of numbers which were to acquaint students with what moderns are doing in composition had 12 participants. A talk on modes of modern composers was given by Henry Brahinsky.

Four students presented numbers in the violin recital. The concluding recital of wind instruments was represented by two flutists, Louise Ide and Don Hartman.

Following are the voice recitals: "Una Furtiva Lagrima," Richard Kausel; "When I Have Sung My Songs," Roma Blin; "Dainty Damsel," Carleen Hohensee; "Love, This Is My Heart," Hazel Arpke and Byron Lower; "Sacrament," Lester Lock; "I Love Thee," Marie Galman; "My Sweet Repose," Earl Jenkins; "The Trumpeter," Robert Budenbarg.

The following piano recital was given—a recital to acquaint students with what moderns are doing in composition:

Talk on Modes, Henry Brahinsky.

"The Drowsy Shepherdess," Henry Brahinsky.

"Around the May-pole," Albert Gregory.

"Enchantment," "Sunday Afternoon Music," Everett Stewart.

Epilogue.

"A Mystery," Wanda Robison.

"Here They Come," Marcile Poppe.

"Melody," Aronita Daskovsky.

"Song After Sundown," Betty Bracken.

"Little Prelude," Alice Brooks.

"The Sunbeam," Pal Prime.

"Valse," Roma Bibi.

"Autumn Fields," "Hide and Seek," Rosalie Schlesky.

"Red Light, Green Light," Jean Stott.

The following violin recital was given: "Serenade," Martha Armstrong.

"Sonata in D Major," Thomas Piereson.

"P Major Concerto," Allegro, Hazel Friske.

"Concerto E minor," Allegro molto appassionato, LaVaughn Owen.

The following wind instrument recital was given:

"Sonata in B-flat," Louise Ide, flutist.

"Sonata in G Major," Don Hartman, flutist.

Accompanists for the recitals were: Betty Jean Horner, Paul Koenig, Alvera Hodges, Guy Swanson, Cleo Blackledge, Cleve Grunzinger, Gwen Kemist, and Keith Sturdevant.

Pi Mu Epsilon sponsors contest

Pi Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematical society, will hold its annual mathematical contest Thursday, May 9, from 3 to 6 p. m.

The contest is divided into classes. The first one is calculus, open to all students who have had calculus in the past year or are now taking it. The other class includes freshman mathematics; this is open to all students who have received credit in analytics in the past year or are now taking it. A $10 prize is being offered for the highest score in each of these two classes.

Details may be secured from Mr. Donald Christensen, president of Pi Mu Epsilon, 307 M. E.

Ag grad to study Nebraska potato insect control

Roscoe E. Hill, graduate of the University, will go to Scottsbluff soon to study and supervise potato insect control in western Nebraska. Professor M. H. Swenk, chairman of the entomology department, announced yesterday.

Mr. Hill will attempt to develop more satisfactory control measures for serious insect pest of the potato crop, and will co-ordinate his work with that done by the U. S. Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

Hill graduated from the university in 1934, and received a master's degree in 1936 with a major in entomology. He has also studied at Illinois U. and Iowa State college.

Barbs return from convention

"This year's national convention of the Independent Student's association was larger than either of its predecessors," said the representatives who attended the convention at Purdue. A total of 197 visiting delegates were present at the conference. Twenty-eight universities and colleges from all over the country were represented.

Next year the convention will be held at the University of Texas in Austin. The barbs of Nebraska may be able to invite it here the following year.

Pound lectures before 6 out-state groups

Dr. Louise Pound of the department of English spoke Saturday at Fremont before a combined meeting of English classes and

Index figures show upturn

March business better according to statistics

Nebraska business activity recovered slightly in March after sharp declines in January and February, according to W. A. Spurr, university statistician. This indicates the possible resumption of the upward trend in the state's business that has continued irregularly for two years. The decline in building activity and department store sales last month was more than counterbalanced by gains in bank debits and postal receipts, after seasonal adjustment. Complete reports now at hand for February, however, show losses from January in all nine business measures listed below excepting output of electricity.

In the following table each business indicator is adjusted to remove normal seasonal changes and the effect of the irregular calendar, thus revealing underlying trends. The general business index is a weighted average of the first items listed.

NEBRASKA BUSINESS BAROMETERS 1935-37 equals 100%		Mar.	Feb.	Jan.
		1940	1940	1940
General business	112	111	113
Bank debits	105	98	99
Department stores sales	88	93	100
Postal receipts	105	102	100
Building activity	166	190	190
Electric power output	126	131	131
New car sales	76	81	81
Pay rolls	112	116	116
Unemployment	104	106	106
Life insurance sales	76	82	82

*Preliminary.

literature groups. She appeared before the English classes of Midland college, the senior high school, the literature department of the Women's club, the Fremont Blair and chapters of the American Association of University Women, and before a group from Schuyler.

Cues for the Coed

Coeds who had planned to go on picnics last week-end were no doubt very disappointed—or else they braved the rain and snow and "what not." I hope you have better luck this week-end, though, coeds, because picnics and playclothes are still the thing, so

You will want to go to Rudge and Guenzel's, where they have a fine selection of playclothes. They have a cute two-piece washable number with solid-colored slacks and a checkered band blouse priced at $5.90. Also a rayon slack suit styled by Paulette and featured in Mademoiselle at $10.95.

Your outfit will not be complete without the many-colored cork soled play sandals. They are heat proof and washable for only $1.95 and $2.50 at Rudge's.

Featured

at Rudge's also is the Striped Hobo Shirt for $1.00. This colorful inner or outer washable shirt is just the thing for either slacks or skirts, all to be found in Rudge's Sportswear—Second Floor.

With all the unpredictable weather we are encountering now, it's a good idea for coeds to have an extra hat or two on hand...

And

the place to shop for your new spring hat is the Nancee Hat Shop. Nancee's is the headquarters for the typical collegiate Sportster, Pork Pie, and School Girl in all shades priced at $1.00.

Be sure to see those popular huge brims in high shades featured at the Nancee Hat Shop. Nancee's carries all head sizes—21-23, and also purses and gloves to match your costume.

Go now

to the Nancee Hat Shop at 133 So. 13th St., and ask Roslyn B. Moore about the new "Lay-Away-Plan." Phone 2-3033.

Back to sport and playclothes now, coeds, for they are really "the thing" of the moment.

Among the comfortable and smart playclothes I found at Gold's were the chambray playsuits in pastels, plaids, and stripes, priced at $5.95. Gold's is also featuring smart chalk striped cottons with a cunning flair skirt for $3.95, and flower-garden print playsuits for $5.95.

I'm just "wild"

about the new cinnabar slacks with long-sleeved white shirts—sold separately at $2.95 each at Gold's. A really "ultra" fashionable attraction about this outfit, though, coeds, is that you can buy a matching or contrasting pocket skirt to go with this set for $2.95.

Block and Bridle chooses Kruse

Election of Marvin Kruse, junior from Loretto, as president was the main business at the Block and Bridle club meeting Wednesday night. Oscar Tegtmier was named vice president and Keith Gilmore elected secretary.

Plans for initiation of new members and the honors dinner to be held in connection with the 28th Feeders Day, April 19 at ag college, were also discussed.

Ed Rousek was named manager of the livestock judging contest to be held Saturday and open to all university students. Registration in both senior and junior divisions will be held at 7:30 a. m. Saturday in Animal Husbandry hall. Last year both divisions drew a total of 120 entrants.

Receipts from a basketball game between a William & Mary honor fraternity and a faculty quint will be turned over to the Finnish Relief fund.

Chicagoans attend convo

United Airlines executive, Mullady to come April 15

Cyril Thompson, assistant to the president of United Air Lines, and W. F. Mullady, vice president of the American Trucking Association, both of Chicago, have notified the College of Business Administration that they will attend the second transportation conference April 15.

The program this year lists fifteen nationally known speakers, each an authority in his field of transportation. Every transport agency will be represented in the roundtables, with speakers from the railroads, truckers, water ways groups, and air lines as well as from national and state public service commissions.

Transportation Chairman C. M. Hicks received word Thursday that F. L. Taylor of Hartford, Conn., will fly to Lincoln for the Monday program.

Time To Get Your WEDGIES

The gayest, most comfortable shoe fashions that ever walked the campus! SKETCHED are two new members of this shoe family; one is a STEPIN with open toe and cut out trim. The other is a WALLED TOE, STEPIN of beige Perkins cloth, with dark tan calf trim, or in blue with white trim.

650

Wear wedges for their extra comfort, extra support and the grace they give to your posture. They give heel and toe balanced comfort.

Women's Shoes—Second Floor.

TWO COLORS are BETTER Than ONE!

PYJAMAS

and

GOWNS

NOTE the pyjamas pictured; they come in vanilla with cherry red, or bon bon pink with bon bon blue. You'll like the dash of having one leg in one color and the other of another tone. See these same colors in GOWNS, too, in a draped, Grecian style.

Each,

295

MILLER & PAINE