

Gunnar Westin tells of Scandinavia today

Swedish university historian speaks in Temple at 11 on present crises—'Everybody has gone crazy'

"Everybody has gone crazy over there and I don't know when I'll go home," were the words of Dr. Gunnar Westin, Swedish author and historian, who will speak on "The Scandinavian Countries in the Present Crisis" at a university convocation at 11 this morning in Temple. The public is invited to attend.

Westin, chairman of the department of church history at the University of Upsala, the oldest university in Sweden, arrived in America in January. He toured the east lecturing to colleges, universities and churches and is now on his way to the west coast.

History authority.

An authority on church history, Westin believes that the Protestant in Scandinavia is stronger than in any place in the world. The future of Christianity in Europe is not at all dark but it is having a hard time according to Westin. At the present time the people are unable to support the church; they have nothing to give.

Dr. Westin is also an author on church subjects and has published numerous books from medieval history to the present day. One book is now being printed by the Oxford University Press under the auspices of the Royal Institute of International Affairs, which reports on the relation of the church and state in Germany and Sweden.

French club brings movie

'Best foreign picture' plays in ballroom

"The End of a Day," named "best foreign picture for 1939," will be shown under the sponsorship of the French club in the Union ballroom tomorrow at 4 and at 7:30.

The French movie, noted particularly for its characterizations, presents the tragic story of aged actors doomed to spend their declining years in an actors' home.

Musical background.

All of the old men and women in the movie unconsciously plays out in real life the part he played on the stage in his prime. The play is cleverly worked out against a musical background, and released with English sub titles.

Leads in the movie are played by Victor Francen, Louis Jouvet, Michel Simon. Other actors are Madeleine Ozray, Gabrielle Dorziat, Arthur Devere, Arquilliere, Sylvia Joffre, and Jean Ayme.

The picture is directed by Julian Duvivier.

Quest for lost youth.

Jouvet, standout of the film, plays Don Juan as he did on the stage, and in his quest for his lost youth almost persuades a young girl to commit suicide. Other actors are Marny, an actor's actor, played by Francken, who never has achieved his deserved fame, and Cabrisade, portrayed by Simon, who all his life has played an understudy.

Tickets are available for 25 cents in U hall 108, or at the door.

WAA convention delegates discuss U.S. youth problems

Six members of Nebraska's WAA council last week attended a convention of the North Central district of WAA at Bloomington, Ill., at which problems of the American youth and their treatment were discussed. The convention was held at Illinois Normal state college.

Topics discussed were, "What Service Does the American Youth Want and Need?" and "How Can the WAA Help Youth Achieve a Set of Values and Ideas Which Will Guide Them in Living?" The general conclusion reached was that "they (American youth) need

Lincoln Journal and Star. GUNNAR WESTIN.

Feeders' Day to feature barbecue

Plans for college session April 19 anticipate over 2,000 Husker farm folk

Plans for the annual Feeders' Day to be held at ag college Friday, are nearing completion and more than two thousand farm and city people are expected to be on hand. The day's activities will feature the general session, a program for women, a baked foods show, the annual Block and Bridle club dinner, a barbecue, and an informal luncheon for newspapermen.

The women's session will be based on discussions about "Farm and home living, Prof. W. J. Loeffel, chairman of the animal hus-

(See FEEDERS, Page 6)

Uni music students, audience to participate in Lincoln's Musical Jubilee at coliseum

William Temple directs Singers, Men's Glee Clubs

Not just music students but the audience too will participate tonight in a Musical Jubilee to be held in the coliseum at 8 o'clock.

Included in the 300 students who will take part in the program are members of the University Men's Glee club, University Singers, university bands, and Pershing Rifles. Dr. A. E. Westbrook will supervise the program. William Tempel will be in charge of the vocal groups, and Frank Cunkle will accompany on the organ. The university band will be directed by Don Lentz, and the second band in the south balcony will be directed by Ward Moore.

Sunday Journal and Star. WILLIAM TEMPLE.

Sing old songs.

During the program the audience will join with the student chorus in singing many old familiar songs, such as "When You and I Were Young Maggie" and "Auld Lang Syne."

Other old favorites which will be sung are "My Wild Irish Rose," "The Old Rugged Cross," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "Home on the Range," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "God Bless America," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," and "America."

Ten songs selected.

These ten songs were selected from favorites voted upon by the public, with a five dollar prize going to the person who had the most nearly correct list.

The program will also feature a trumpet trio composed of Neil Short, Robert Buddenburg, and Robert Krejci. Nina Armstrong, in

Office of FCA to speak at convo

Mr. P. M. Mayer, personnel officer of the Farm Credit Administration of Omaha, will speak at a convocation Thursday at 3 p. m. in ag hall, room 306. His subject will concern the selection of personnel for the administration, and all seniors desiring personal interviews with Mr. Mayer can make arrangements for the interview in the Agronomy office, room 110.

Seniors may now order commencement bids

Seniors may order their commencement invitations and cards now at the Nebraska Book Store or the Co-op Book and Supply Store.

The invitations are available in different forms. They may be red lettered if desired and may be ordered with either leather or cardboard folders. They will contain the names of the graduating class and a complete commencement program.

Latest cloud to appear on the political horizon concerns the filing of Sarah Miller, Sigma Delta Tau, for the office of Ivy Day Orator, caused by the original statement issued by the Student Council elections committee that women were eligible for the office.

A member high in the Student Council announced last week that women were eligible to file for the office of Ivy Day Orator, as well as to vote for that office. With this information at hand, Sarah Miller, Sigma Delta Tau, filed

(See COED, Page 2)

Nothing doing says Council; girl disgusted

Miller files for Orator but election committee rules her ineligible

Lincoln Journal and Star. JUDGE FLORENCE ALLEN.

Honors convo lists 632; Allen speaks

Six hundred and thirty-two students will receive recognition for high scholastic standing at this year's annual honors convocation to be held in the Coliseum Tuesday. Of this group, 368 are men, 264 are women.

Special speaker for this program is Judge Florence Allen of Cleveland, Ohio, the only woman barrister on the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, and she has been listed in a national survey as one colonial costume, will sing "In the Gloaming."

(See ALLEN, Page 4)

The public is invited to this hour and a half long program of singing and entertainment. Tassels will usher.

DR. A. E. WESTBROOK.

Inquiring reporter finds...

A man--of course! Ivy day already too much a ladies day

By Marjorie Bruning.

When Ivy Day Orator-Innocents election day rolls around tomorrow, should women be allowed to run for orator? In view of the Council ruling last year women were declared ineligible for the honor, Monday despite the fact that one was permitted to file last week.

In a survey conducted by an inquiring reporter yesterday, the majority of students interviewed were of the opinion that in order not to break tradition, the Ivy Day

Faction takes only recourse to elect man

Faculty Committee says judgment of Council's election group correct

With their original candidate, William Clineberg, second ranking senior in law college, ruled ineligible, and their alternate candidate, Gail Olson, law senior, refused placement on the ballot due to a ruling of the elections committee, the liberal party at a meeting late last night decided to continue its support of Gail Olson, its alternative candidate for Ivy Day Orator and to write in his name on the ballots at the polls tomorrow.

In a meeting at 6 p. m. last night the elections committee rejected the liberal faction's alternative candidate, Gail Olson, on the grounds that the liberals should have selected an eligible candidate instead of later-determined ineligible William Clineberg in the first place.

Despite the fact that last night (See ELECTION, Page 3)

WAA to hold mass meeting

To award scholarships, install officers tonight

WAA will hold a mass meeting tonight at 7 in Grant Memorial at which officers for the year 1940-41 will be installed, and three scholarships of $25 each will be awarded.

Four awards will also be made to senior girls who have participated in the most intramural sports during their four years in school, and Elnora Sprague will give a summary of the district convention which she and six other students attended last week in Bloomington, Ill.

Two for participators

Two of the $25 scholarships will be given to people who have participated in WAA activities, and one will be given to someone who has not necessarily participated.

Officers to be installed are: president, Hortense Cassidy; vice president, Elnora Sprague; secretary, Mary Ellen Robison; treasurer, (See MEETING, Page 3)

Two old guard remain

Sunday's DAILY NEBRASKAN stated that Dr. E. H. Barbour is the only survivor of the noted band of young men who came to Nebraska in the eighties and helped make the school famous through their accomplishments. Dr. H. H. Nicholson another member of this group in the field of chemistry is also still living.

Dorothy Jean Howard, arts and sciences freshman:

"I think women should be allowed to run. 'Ivy Day is ladies'

(See REPORTER, Page 2)