Something lacking in Spring for there are no serenades

By Agnes Wanek.

Everybody will admit that spring has sprung and has been sprung for sometime, but it appears that something is lacking from the usual romantic atmosphere of a college campus. It's not pinhangings because there are plenty of them to hear about and it isn't picnics, formals or Sunday night suppers; it isn't Ivy Day because that's coming. Ask any ten girls and they will say the answer is serenades. OK, boys, where have they been? The only serenades heard this spring occurred when the ATO's, Phi Gams, DU's and a few others serenaded the Alpha Chis when their province convention met here not long ago. So it seems that the crusade for the week is more and better serenades.

THE 'OLD GUARD' is at last surrendering to the onslaught of spring... and love... and things. Fiji Marvin Thompson, who long has been a dyed-in-the-wool anti-dater, is succumbing to the influence of spring. Since the organization of the Friendly Five (you remember, they're the boys who all date in the same house on the same weekend) Bub has fallen into line. And speaking of falling, they say that he really is falling for AOPi Kay Hanley. If the pace keeps up, they'll have to change the name of the club to the Friendly Four.

WAY WAY DOWN SOUTH

are the thoughts of DG Gerry Wallace these days since she received an appointment to work in New Orleans. For weeks she waited and waited for the postman. Each day she smiled less until one day last week, the good news came and since then she's been smiling all the time. Congratulations.

DON'T HOLD YOUR BREATH

while you read that Sigma Chi Bill McKerney and Theta Barbara York are once again on the steady list, because no one knows how long it will last. But the old order changes, and maybe this is the real thing.

IT'S TOO BAD

but because of the rain and generally unfavorable weather, the monumental Fiji-Tau Tussle has been postponed for a few weeks. So it looks as if we will have to wait until May 25 to find out who will be in possession of the great Golden Goblet for the next year.

IVY DAY EVE

will be the occasion when Larry Clinton brings his famous band to the Coliseum for the Student Union birthday party. Sigma Kappas Geraldine Hubbard and Betty Jo Lehman will be there with Chi Phi's Virgil Blumhorst and Don Hagen. They'll go to dinner beforehand.

KAPPA PHI

banquet and installation was held

Friday night in the Student Union. Toastmistress was Hiva Mills, and hostesses were Margaret Jean Stromer, Genevieve Hoff, Dorothea DeKay, and Ada Charlotte Miller. The theme of the banquet was "A Goodly Heritage."

'DAYS OF 76'

were observed last night by the Theta Xi's who dined 76 strong at the Cornhusker last night in celebration of their 76th Founder's Day.

masks over the faces of the chosen ones.

Crimson robed Innocents walk among the eligible males who are scattered over the greensward, selection being signified by tackling of the candidate, making him an Innocent as soon as he hits the dirt.

Innocents were nominated by the university men at the Ivy Day Orator-Innocents election April 18, and Mortar Board nominees were selected by university women at the May Queen election March 19.

The Ivy Day program will be opened by the interfraternity sing, featuring male choruses from several fraternities, starting at 9 a. m. Entry blanks have been issued to the various fraternities by Kosmet Klub and are to be filed by Monday at 5 p. m. Each fraternity may use 25 men, including the director, but in addition may use an accompanist. Delta Upsilon is defending its last year's championship and seeks a second clasp on the trophy cup, which becomes the permanent property of any fraternity winning it for three consecutive years.

Judging for both the interfraternity sing and intersorority sing will be made on the basis of general excellence of the participant's efforts rather than on technical perfection. Taken into consideration, however, will be the appearance of the group, selection of song, tone quality of the voices, balancing of parts, and interpretation as shown in style, attack and diction.

At 10:15 Bryce Smith will deliver the Ivy day oration, his first public appearance since his election April 18. The morning program will close with the planting of Ivy and recessional of the May Queen.

Intersorority sing will open the afternoon program with eleven choruses from as many sororities singing for a silver cup, which, for the past three years, has been won by Kappa Alpha Theta and which will be on display until Thursday in Long's bookstore. In order of their appearance they are Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Phi, Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta

Coed Counselor board to install 140 women

One hundred and forty women, who will act as big sisters to incoming freshman girls next fall, will be installed by the Coed Counselor board this afternoon at 2:30 in Ellen Smith.

Board members, who selected the counselors on their ability to assist in the orientation of freshmen, will install the new group.

Presiding at the initiation will be Mary Bullock, head of the board. Assisting her will be Ruth Grosvenor, Beth Howley, Harriet Talbot and Priscilla Chain, also board members.

Introductions.

The Coed Counselor sponsors, Miss Elsie Ford Piper and Miss Letta Clark, along with dean of women Helen Hosp, will be introduced to the group.

Following the initiation refreshments will be served.

The counselors will be divided into separate groups to work under individual board members at a mass meeting Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. First work taken up will be the writing of letters to all women who will be freshmen
