

Iowa State batters Husker ball team in second tilt 25-8

By Jim Evinger.
It's an ill wind that blows no good!

That was exactly the situation that the Nebraska baseball team encountered Tuesday afternoon. The Huskers fought two losing battles, one to the weather elements and the other to Iowa State, the latter by a 25-8 score.

The wind was not exactly cyclonic but the Cyclones were. The score, bears out that fact. The storm was rather calm at first but the State scoring was a raging hurricane at the finish. In the last three innings, the Cyclones blew across 17 runs.

Three in first.

Iowa State scored three runs in the first inning and two more in the second, but the Huskers came back to tie the score up at 5-all in the third inning. From there on, however, the Huskers were handcuffed until the final frame.

Two more scores crossed the plate in the fourth and one more in the sixth. The real fury broke in the seventh when nine runners crossed the mathematical hassock. Five more scores came in the eighth and only three runners could find their way around to home plate safely in the ninth inning.

The Huskers scored their runs in the fifth on four singles and a double by Warren Gabelman. The final three runs for the Scarlet came in the ninth on three hits, a walk and an error.

Garay starting pitcher.

Bob Garay was the starting Husker hurler but was replaced in the seventh by Bob Searle, Harry Truscott and Sid Held followed in that order to the mound in the final innings.

Second baseman Gordon and Catcher John Thompson hit homers for the Cyclones to lead the Iowa State attack. Mylenbusch and Erickson pitched good ball for the winners considering the strong wind that was carrying the ball far into the outfield on simple flies that ordinarily would have been infield outs.

Dow Wilson was on crutches for the game and the Husker spark-plug will be out for the remainder of the season. The flashy second-baseman injured his leg in a slide into second base Monday. His place in the infield will be taken by Leonard Van Buskirk.

Pool addresses Omaha audience

About 200 people were present to hear Dr. Raymond Pool, chairman of the department of botany, speak on the "Fjords and Fjelds of Norway" in an address at Joslyn Memorial in Omaha Sunday.

He spoke about the history of Norway, its geographical background, general environment, and the development of civilization upon the characteristics of the Norwegian people. Although Dr. Pool pointed out now and then some geographical features of importance in the present war, one of his first statements was that his lecture would be based on Norway previous to this conflict.

Uni profs attend science meetings

Chadron Nebraska was the scene of the meeting of the Nebraska Academy of Sciences last week. Eleven members of the geography and geology group of the university attended the meetings and arrived back here Sunday. Among those who made the trip were Dr. N. A. Bengtson, Byron Barton, Royce Knapp, Virginia Thurtle, Edna May Lundy, Margaret Dale, Olga Anderson, Pauline Hamilton, Julius Mallrich, Erna Mott and Dr. McEwan.

Geography students end field trip series

Annual field trips by students in Economic Geography 72 were concluded Saturday after visits to Louisville, Weeping Water, and the state fish hatcheries. Students studied methods of producing fish for stocking lakes and rivers at the hatcheries.

Team leaves for invasion of Oklahoma

Fourteen Husker baseball players were selected yesterday by Coach Wilber Knight for a three-game road trip into Oklahoma this weekend.

The team leaves at three this afternoon for a Thursday night game against Oklahoma A. & M. at Stillwater. Friday and Saturday they meet Big Six champions, Oklahoma, at Norman, to wind up the Big Six season. Two games with Colorado here next weekend complete the schedule.

Men selected for the trip are catchers Al Schmode and Cliff Hurley; pitchers Sid Held, Bob Searle, Harry Truscott, Bob Carey, Ernie Swanson; infielders Frank Rubino, Leonard Van Buskirk, Oscar Tegmeier, Vernon Thomsen; outfielders Warren Gabelman, Lance Ray, John McDermott.

Softball finals end Interfraternity play

This week ends up fraternity intramurals play as softball games are slated to be ended before the week-end is over. Scheduled for play in the quarter finals are the Phi Deltas and Farmhouse, with the winner to play the A G R's in a semi-final game.

The other semi-final contest between the Kappa Sigs and the D U's ended with the D U's winning a place in the finals against

Francis, Rohn, Ken Simmons, Blue slated as NU fullbacks

Prep, Lincoln whole show in year's athletics

Lincoln high school and Creighton Prep practically monopolized sports titles in state interscholastic competition the past year, winning between them every championship except the wrestling crown, which Omaha Central took.

Lincoln won the mythical football crown; Prep was undefeated in gridiron play. Prep beat Lincoln in both the baseball and basketball finals. The Red and Black won swimming, track, and both individual and team laurels in golf. Prep won singles and doubles in tennis.

Worrall to coach at Walthill high

Charles Worrall, former member of the Husker football squad, has been appointed coach at Walthill for the coming year. Worrall, who coached basketball at Cathedral high, this winter, succeeds Bob Elliott, ex-Husker cager, who goes to Aurora next year.

the winner of the A G R's and either the Phi Deltas or the Farmhouse. Whether there is to be a consolation game is not as yet determined.

No Husker fullbacks will be lost from last year, and none will be lost after next fall, so at present the position looks promising indeed for the Huskers.

Vike Francis and Henry Rohn who lettered last year as sophomores are back. Francis, who hit his stride late in the season, was a terror in spring practice at smacking the line. The big boy is a mean linebacker, and can be called upon to punt when he is needed.

Rohn, who scored at Pitt as did Francis, missed most of the practice sessions this spring because of the extraction of several teeth, is gaining weight, and can be counted on as a good yardage getter next year.

Simmons Returns.

Listed with the veterans, too, is Kenny Simmons, the Valentine buster. Simmons saw some service last fall but not enough to letter. Tough as the proverbial nails, he flashed fine ground-gaining form this spring, and is becoming a defensive star.

Then there is Wayne Blue. Blue, inexperienced last year, was held out of competition. Since then he has improved his defensive and blocking abilities, to become a leading fullback candidate. Blue showed up especially well as a plunger in spring practice.

Seems strange, but Red Littler doesn't hold a single state high school track record... Littler didn't run the 440 at the state meet... in his senior year in high school he was bucking a strong wind in the hundred and twenty which made new records out of the question... only tennis team to beat Iowa State this year is Nebraska... the Ames team is out for revenge Thursday, but the Rundle-Huston-Ankeny combination should be too much for them... Oklahoma's victory over Missouri Monday cinched the Big Six baseball title for the Sooners... second place winner in the 1929 Nebraska high school oratorical contest was Frank "Red" Mueller, now Lincoln high baseball coach... first place in the contest went to one Sprangler Arlington Brugh—Robert Taylor to you.

Al Blozis has been in the nation's eye all year is by far the country's leading shot putter, but li'l Alfred has a competitor in one Stan Andersen... Andersen, the Stanford football player, has been improving in the shot all year, and last Saturday chucked the weight 55 feet 3 3/4 inches... Blozis' best mark is but 5 inches better... Andersen's performance came in the Stanford-Southern Cal meet, which U.S.C. won, despite all qualms to the contrary... Bob Peoples, U.S.C. javelin thrower, got the year's best spear toss, 222 feet, 9 1/2 inches, in the meet... that was 7 inches farther than the best toss previously this year, which was also by him... just for comparison, the world's record is a neat 258-2 1/4, held by a Finn named Yrjo Nikkanen... only one man in the country has broad jumped better than 25 feet this year... he is Don Blount, Dartmouth, who got 25 feet 3/4 inches at the Penn relays.
