

Scanning the Sportscope

BY JIM EVINGER.

The world of major league baseball is a funny whirligig of rapidly changing events . . . It was just a month ago that the World Champion New York Yankees were in the bottom of the American league cellar . . . Now they have entered the first division, but will have to play .700 ball or better for the remainder of the season to come close to repeating.

Not only the Yankees, but also the lowly St. Louis Browns have been surprising . . . The middle of last week, the Browns were in fourth place for a few days, but have now faded.

Jumpers.

The jumpers—high and vault—are having their innings . . . In an exhibition a few weeks ago, Les Steers of the San Francisco Olympic club bettered the world high jump mark by clearing 6 feet 10 1/2 inches. But the mark will not go down as official, however.

At Fresno, on Saturday, Cornelius Warmerdam leaped an inch over the 15 foot vault mark for a new world's record . . . Nebraska's Bob Simmons also took part in the fast field of runners . . . Husker Bob placed fourth in the 400 meter race and fifth in the 400 meter hurdle event.

Nebraska racing fans will get their last glimpse of Ak-Sar-Ben horse flesh on the Fourth, which will mark the closing of the 1940 season—a most successful campaign as far as the officials at the Ak are concerned.

Heute mir, morgen dir.

Patty Berg—the girl wonder of golf in the late 30's—is now being supplanted by a 15-year-old from Atlantic, Ia., one Phyllis Otto by name. Another name that is creeping back into the sports pages is Mildred "Babe" Didrikson Zaharias who is booming her way around the links in figures equal to men's par.

Chancellor C. S. Boucher battled his way to a regulation score over

Ping pong tourney opens

Golf play begins July 10; swims, softball continue

First round of the men's ping-pong and tennis tournaments must be played off by Monday evening, July 8. All scores should be posted on the tournament brackets in the Union checkstand. Second round deadline will be Friday, July 12. Two out of three sets will decide the winners in either tournaments.

Three Golf Flights. Golfers have been divided into three flights for a tournament to proceed at Pioneers Park. Deadline for the first round of play will be Wednesday, July 10. All tournament scores and winners must be posted at the Union checkstand.

Mixed swims continue to be scheduled for next Thursday, July 11 in the university pool. A health permit must be secured from the student health office first, however.

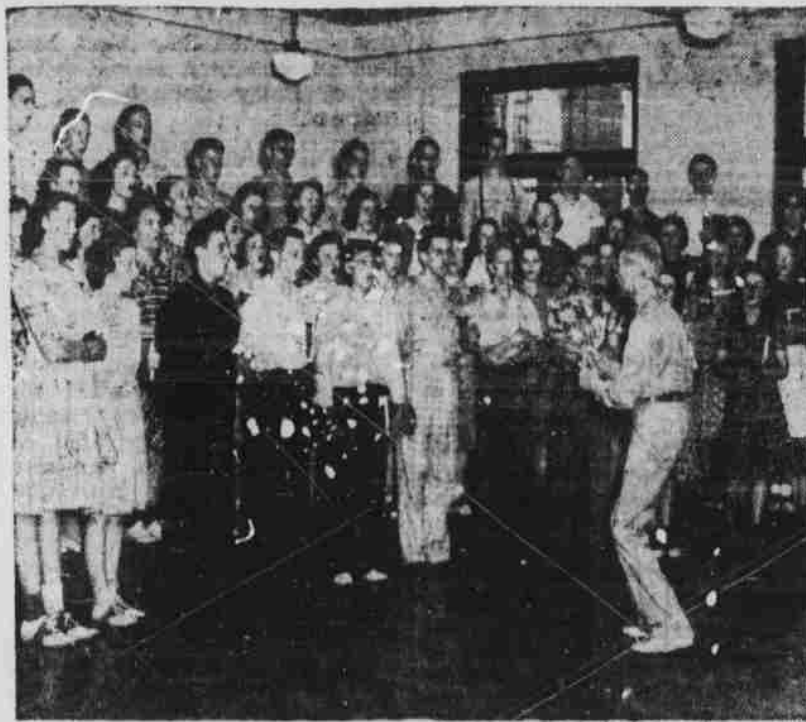

Softball enthusiasts may meet every night Monday thru Friday at 6:45 p. m. on the north athletic field.

the Country club course over the weekend . . . A fellow like that would have been greatly welcomed on Nebraska's golf team this spring . . . But, the ironical part of it all is that the Chancellor is "ineligible."

Two of major league's "forgotten men"—Rogers Hornsby and Dizzy Dean—are the idols of the Texas league . . . This pair are making comebacks—and how . . . In a poll for all star places, these two are leading all competitors . . . Diz is hooked up with Tulsa, while the Rajah is managing Oklahoma City.

Question Dept.: Can you name the manager of the Boston Bees, Philadelphia Phillies, St. Louis Cardinals, and St. Louis Browns? . . . All right, now the names of the four horsemen of Notre Dame—can you name them? . . . And lastly, what are the names of head coaches of the Big Six schools?

Music campers "give"

Singing and playing for dear life and the fun of it, the All-State high school orchestra and chorus practice for their final performance Tuesday night.

Above Dr. A. E. Westbrook coaxes a long note out of the chorus, and below Emmanuel Wishnow sets the orchestra sending.

Violinist . . . Henry Brahinsky delights audience in senior recital

Henry Brahinsky, senior in the school of music, delighted some 200 people who heard his senior violin recital in the Union ballroom Monday night with his playing of Glazounow's "Concerto in A minor." The complete work was played in one movement and with impressive feeling.

Also featured on his program a Chaconne by Bach, done with mathematical precision, and the "Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso" of Saint Saens. Brahinsky was accompanied by Houghton Furr.

The complete program:

- Chaconne; Bach.
- Concerto in A minor; Glazounow; (In one movement.)
- Nigun from Baal Shem Suite; Bloch.
- Tango; Albeniz-Elsman.
- Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso; Saint-Saens.
