

Union sparkles after thorough summer cleaning

Housewives may think their houses clean and shining after the semi-annual house-cleaning, but they have nothing on the Union. Immediately after school was out last June, three custodians began the job of making the Union literally shine.

First step in the cleanup of the structure was "shampooing" all the rugs and drapes in the building with a special cleaning mixture. Then all the Venetian blinds in the building were washed, waxed and polished. But with this the custodians had only begun.

The Union air-conditioning system, run to keep students cool and comfortable at a cost of $30 a day, was completely overhauled. The air-conditioning system will be in use this fall as long as the weather remains warm.

Dirt, holes fixed.

Students who put their feet on the upholstered furniture and burned holes with cigaret ashes made the job harder, for all the furniture was repaired and cleaned with the same mixture used for rugs and drapes.

Light as day the Union will be, for all light fixtures were taken down and cleaned. New bulbs were put in to replace those burned out.

Floors were waxed and polished thruout the building. On the outside steps, which bear the brunt of hard wear, another special process was used to make them really white. All the marble at the front entrance was cleaned.

Walls in the game room and the student publication office were also repaired.

Van Kirk will teach voice

Appointment of Mrs. Lenore Burkett Van Kirk as instructor of voice in the school of music this year was confirmed by the board of regents in its last meeting and announced Thursday by Chancellor C. S. Boucher.

Mrs. Van Kirk has closed her private voice studio and will devote full time to her university work, according to Dr. Arthur Westbrook, director of the school of fine arts. She was associated with the music department once before, from 1932 to 1934.

Mrs. Van Kirk attended Pine Manor, Wellesley, Mass., and was graduated from the University of Nebraska in 1918 with the degree bachelor of fine arts. She is soprano soloist and director of choral music at First Christian church and is director of the American Legion Auxiliary chorus. She has coached with Richard Hageman, Proschowski, Oscar Seagle, and Douglas Stanley of New York City.

YWCA vespers will start Oct. 1

YWCA vespers will start Oct. 1. Other events as yet not definitely scheduled, but which will come during the first week of October, are the first of the freshman commission groups, and the tea to sign up for membership on the 13 commission and service staffs. Dates will be announced within the next two weeks.

Harvard gives Auble post as assistant in economics

Harvard, exercising a seldom-used privilege by conferring an appointment on someone who has not taken work there, has awarded Arthur G. Auble, Nebraska university economics instructor, an assistantship appointment in its economics department.

Having earned his A.B. at Hastings in '38, Auble came to Nebraska in '38, having received the Miller & Paine business research scholarship for that year. Last year he was graduate assistant instructor of economics here.

....SHE'S a freshman!

SHE'S new at Nebraska U., but she's making friends right and left—and because she's so wise about clothes, no one guesses she's new at buying them.

SHE sought EXPERT ADVICE from Miller's Clothes Consultants (former U. of N. girls) and learned clothes lessons the easy way . . . she continues to seek their aid when she buys campus togs.

BECAUSE she started from scratch, she knows the importance of fundamentals, of classics that will wear and wear, making a foundation for next year's wardrobe, with some things lasting through all four of her college years.

TAKE COATS, for instance. She buys a YEAR ROUND STYLE, of covert cloth, with a PLAID WOOL LINING which can be ZIPPED OUT if there's lots of sunshine. Right now she can get just such a coat at MILLER'S 60TH BIRTHDAY SALE, only $18. (Second Floor).

SHE brushes her hair 'til it shines like gold, lets soft, natural-looking curls show 'neath a sport HAT, a snap brim type that can be dipped or twisted or turned to suit her face and mood. She chooses fur felt because it can stand being batted about. 2.95. (Second Floor).

SHE knows that one truly interesting GADGET worn on her frock is worth a dozen insignificant ones, so she chooses something in JEWELRY that she'll enjoy tomorrow just as much as she does today. If she likes dogs, or horses, or birds or flowers she can have them in the new PINS. About $2. (Street Floor).
