

Socially Speaking

By Jo Duree

It was just another day but a couple of sort of peculiar things transpired . . . it seemed definitely odd to see Marjorie Adams and Ed Muir coking with dates, seated against opposite walls . . . it seems that the Union isn't the only thing that's come between them . . .

The lads who returned Eleanor Watson's 19 lost dollars have narrowed down to a couple of Sig Alph pledges . . . It's nice to know with Eleanor that there are a lot of good guys in the world . . .

The Alpha Sigs have been smoking on Wendell Snocker . . . understand that the girl is in Denver . . .

It didn't take Norm Veta, Sammie pledge, long to feel right at home at NU . . . perhaps the fact that he found one girl in the Sigma Delta Tau house to date every datable night hasn't made Norm any more homesick for Wyoming . . .

Back in school is Jack Scott, Sigma Nu, and back in school on Jack is the Sigma Nu pin Mary Lee Adams used to wear . . . with those people seeing each other does it mean the pin will be rehung?

Sept. 28, Barbara Rosewater, Alpha Xi Delt Mortar Board, is to be married . . . Elgin, Ill., is her destination . . . Two of her sisters, who were married the past summer, were Irene Selliers and Eleanor Collier . . .

There are rumors that Walt Rundin, SAE, is cutting in on his young roommate who has been dating Alpha Phi Virginia Chambers . . .

What happens when the three or four AOP's get together and compare the line that Phi Gam Al O'Conner must indubitably be putting out to each . . . or perhaps he has four differing approaches?

The Kappa Deltas are tossing a closed party Saturday night and among those present for any festivities that might pop up are Steadles Jo Robeck and Delta Sig Bill Turney; Meg Mohrman with Acacia Dick Morse; and Jean Ferris with Reuben Harmon, Farmhouse . . .

Beta Sigs have pledged John Bauermeister and Floyd Stork . . .

The younger generation Kappa Sigs huddled over a lone coke and the topic under discussion was the identity of Marge Stewart, Alpha Chi pledge . . . To wit: Alpha Xi Delta Pris Campsey is wearing a diamond—from Don Bower—naturally.

Thursday at 5 p. m. Following is the list of actives returning this year: Bert Allen, Donald Young, Aubrey Pettit, Dick Peters, Edward Milder, Marvin Murphy, Dwight Moell, Dean Horn, Adrian Foe, Edward Danielson, Clyde Reed, William Brodbeck, Ralph Batty, Frank Brakel, Dick Bresce, and Francis Cox.

Democracy: The "Association for the Prevention of Taking Off Hats in Elevators" is a Washington, D. C., organization. It is dedicated to the belief that removing hats promotes class distinction because hats are removed for female passengers and not for the female elevator operator. Besides it's embarrassing to bald-headed men.

Campus groups plan exhibits for AWS Mart

Pictorial presentation of activities takes place at Ellen Smith Saturday

Attempting to interest women students in ways to spend their leisure time, AWS, women's organization, this year is initiating a pictorial presentation of the various activities open to women in the form of an All-Activities Mart. This realistic drama will be presented Saturday from 1 to 4 p. m. in Ellen Smith hall.

Every organization on the campus which is open to women will participate. Leaders in the various groups will be on hand to describe their displays and to explain their organizations to the students. The purpose of the narrators is to tell women how they can get into activities.

AWS has arranged this unusual presentation not only for women interested in getting activity points, but for those who wish some beneficial way to spend leisure time.

It is not necessary to arrive at 1, for students may come at any time before 4 and look around at the various displays.

Organizations participating are: YWCA, both ag and city campus groups

AWS, the sponsors
Tassels, women's pep organization

WAA, women's athletic association.

Former ROTC head dies

Col. Francis Jewett was uni commandant 1925-30

A former head of the ROTC at Nebraska, Col. Francis F. Jewett, died early Sunday morning at his home in Lakeland, Fla., following a heart attack.

Colonel Jewett was commandant of the university regiment from 1925 to 1930. He received his B.A. degree from the University of Minnesota in 1901, and his commission in the army in 1902. During the first World War he was a major, serving overseas in 1917-17. He was retired in 1936 from his post as colonel; then he moved to Lakeland.

His wife, Clara, and three sons: Lt. Richard, West Point, Robert, and Charles, survive him. Colonel Jewett was buried in Arlington national cemetery, Washington, yesterday.

universities all over the nation. Lieutenant Pershing first organized the group when he selected the most proficient men in drill to form a crack drill squad that would be an example to the rest of the drill unit. The squad continued and was first known as Varsity Rifles before assuming its present title.

The Rifles is now made up of a crack squad, a rifle team, and a crack platoon, and has as its main objective the making of better military men.

Serving Pershing Rifles as officers this year are Captain Milek, 1st Lt. McPhail, 2nd Lt. Ashton, and 2nd Lt. Cackle. Men selected in the try-outs must serve a pledgedship of a semester and one six weeks before initiation. All men in the unit drill each Tuesday and Thursday at 5 p. m.

The actives of Pershing Rifles will hold their first meeting
