Thompson, Blue on second

Sophomores rise in Jones' lineup change

Firt string remains intact; George Knight still in sweat clothes

The Biffer juggled the lineup on the second team again, Wednesday, and Marvin Thompson, Mitchell end, and Wayne Blue, Tecumseh, fullback, both sophomores, are now working on the seconds.

George "Bus" night was still in sweat clothes and was limping as a result of the sprained ankle received in the Minnesota game.

Metheny may play.

Roy "Cowboy" Petsch and Theos Thompson will handle the burden of the signal calling against the Jayhawks. There is a possibility of Fred Metheny, sophomore quarterback, of seeing action at Lawrence on Saturday.

Yesterday, the varsity went thru drills on passes and undertook in a scrimmage. Butch Luther and Herman Rohrig were running in good style for the firsts. Kansas plays were again run off by the Scout club.

Jayhawks wave long injury list before Huskers

From KU News Bureau.

LAWRENCE, Kas., Oct. 17.—An injury list that is growing steadily is one of Coach Gwinn Henry's biggest worries as he gets his University of Kansas football team ready for its game with Nebraska's Cornhuskers, Saturday.

Seven Jayhawkers were unable to play against Drake due to injuries and even more may be on the sidelines Saturday. Ralph Schaaque, 6 foot 4 inch end, who has been out with a shoulder injury, may be able to play against Nebraska, but there is no assurance of this.

Hagen sprains ankle.

On the other hand, Bob Hagen, sophomore blocking back, suffered a severely sprained ankle in last week's game and his playing Saturday is doubtful. Bob O'Neil, sophomore end who played almost a half against Drake, is the victim of a case of poison ivy, to add to Coach Henry's troubles.

Already on the hospital list, in addition to Schaaque, were John Burge, two year letterman end; Larry Finney, husky sophomore center; Harlan Altman, sophomore passing star; Steve Meade, 236 pound tackle; Floyd Conway, sophomore end; and Tony James, 247 pound tackle.

Jayhawks try passes.

Consequently the Jayhawk practice sessions this week probably will be limited to light workouts in an effort to prevent any further injuries. The Kansas passing attack will be given considerable attention for one thing.

Providing that they have 11 able-bodied players left at game time, the Jayhawkers hope to be able to make the contest another hard fought one.

Kansas improving.

After disappointing the fans by losing the season opener to Iowa State, the Crimson and Blue eleven showed improvement in downing Drake 20-6. In the latter game, Henry's team appeared capable of playing some fine ball.

The Kansas punting has not been very impressive to date, but should get better as the season progresses. Handling the kicking duties have been Ed Suagee, chunky fullback, and Don Pollom, sophomore right halfback.

Suagee, an Indian boy from Bartlesville, Okla., has been doing a fine job of backing the line. Despite the fact that he did not play much the past two years, he is performing like a real veteran.

Barb I-M football gets into full sway

Barbs ruled intramural football games Wednesday afternoon with four games to their credit, none for the fraternities. Davis Hall, a league 3 team, won by the largest margin over Eta Beta Pi 19-0. Landgren's long passes were outstanding for the winners.

Casino Club rolled past Buckingham Hornets 19-6 to win their league 2 game. Armstrong and Thompson played good games for the former while Bird flashed down the field and caught a long pass to score the loser's touchdown. Cornhusker Coop barely got by a stubborn Agriculture College Cafeteria team 7-6.

The last game in league 2 was between Dark Horse and Cornsheller with the former winning by a score of 12-0. In this case it was C. Heming and Soukoup who were standouts. There will be games in both fraternity and barb leagues this afternoon. They are as follows:

FRATERNITY SCHEDULE.

League 4.
Delta Theta Phi vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon at 5:00.
Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Delta Upsilon at 4:15.

Frosh footballers spending time in drills vs. varsity

Frosh footballers are spending their time this week in drill against the varsity and a mix with the scout club on Friday. Polishing up on their blocking and offensive play will be the headliner for Thursday.

In their tussle with the scout club last Friday the frosh showed a glaring weakness in offensive maneuvers due mainly to lack of blocking finesse. Down field blocking was ragged and as a result they were unable to put across any touchdowns. The scout club won the game by a one touchdown margin, but according to the enthusiasm shown by the first year men this Friday's game will be much different than the one of last week.

The first frosh team is still being juggled about in an effort to find the strongest combination. Studies have been bothering some as have slight injuries. But the squad is rapidly coming around and before long will be fairly well settled, with all members indicating their desire to play given plenty of participation.

If any of you saw Mike Francis romping around the campus, Wednesday, attired in overcoat and other winter accessories, it was probably because he was afraid of being caught in the DRAFT . . . Hmnnnnnnnn . . .

It's really nice to notice now that Bill de Correvont is finally coming into his own as a football player in his own right rather than by just press reports . . . If he keeps up the play like he showed against Ohio State last week, he will be worth those raves . . .

Today's irony story: Mike Pegg, pivot man for the Bucknell Thundering Herd, has had only one major setback in his brilliant record of intercollegiate football . . . That happened last fall . . . His father came to watch him for the first time . . .

After the contest, Mike, who had played sensationally, asked his dad how he had liked it. "Son," said the elder Pegg, "you've got the best band there that I've heard in years" . . .
