

Socially Speaking

By Jo Duree

All the people who live for week ends were nearly dead when this one closed down and it was Monday morning...early Monday morning with several 8 o'clocks...

KU, located in the great American Desert, proved green pastures for many migrators who declared in the excitement and happiness of victory that they thought they'd transfer at the semester...anyway, it was a fine deal if we have consensus of opinion...

Many were those who found Omaha a good place for fun... among them, several Ak Countesses who whipped up for pre-Ball festivities...and incidentally, UN's reputation for pulchritude is going to be aided and abetted for among those chosen as Ak-Sar-Ben princesses, are Ann Thomas, Joan Metcalf, Alice Ann Hascall, and Kay Tunison...while still chatting about this week end before we put it away in mothballs and scrapbooks we'll add that some people left the immediate vicinity for further points...DG pledge Helen Matz, ex-Stephens Susie who wears the pin of an AGR at Missou grasped the opportunity to see Columbia, Mo., the MU-Iowa State fracas and the AGR...

Dorothy Dehner, Pi Phi pledge who is married to Lloyd Johnson is no longer with UN...Arrowites received Dorothy's verbal announcement in the last day or so...

With Ralph Reed back being seen around UN we might hazard a guess that that's a factor in our seeing that beautiful smile of Alice Marian Holmes, more frequently...

With the new outbreak of "We Want to be a Captain, Too" pins—we're waiting for the pins that the Kansas girls sported..."We Want a Captain"...

Betty Jo Kious and Bill Louvitt are going steady now...

The Kappa Sigma's feminine Alliance presented that buffet supper of Sunday evening and outside of the fact that people were still, figuratively, in Kansas we hear it was a real nice ditty...

Ruthie Yourd, AOPi, and Hal Schneider, the lad with the Arf Arf habit from the Sig Chi domicile...well, your guess is as good as can be...

If you wonder at KKG pledges Barb Simpson's being really happy it may be all anticipation for next week end when with Missouri footballers and home-comers will be her favorite SAE, a Missouri boy...

Law freshmen leave homburg for Texan felt

Abandoning the traditional hard-brimmed homburg, the first year law school class chose a soft-brimmed, light tan Texan felt as their distinguishing headgear. These hats are now sprouting over the campus on the heads of all law school freshmen.

Custom has been partially preserved, however, for the brown derby will be worn as usual by the first student to pull a boner, and will be passed from him to the next one guilty of a howler.

The freshman hat, Ed Kirby, class president, claims, signifies the superiority of the wearer over students of other schools on the campus. This year's class went against precedence in an effort to purchase a "truly distinctive" hat, Kirby said.

Seniors will again carry their traditional canes, which as yet have not been ordered.

Theater offers free premier tickets

TOO MANY GIRLS

UN coeds who once envied the boys who could catch a foul over the ball park fence, and use it to gain a free admission to the big game, will get their chance to earn a free admission for ball catching when the Nebraska-Missouri game captains and Barney Oldfield movie critic of the Lincoln papers, throw footballs from the roof of the Varsity theater Thursday.

Occasion for the celebration is the opening of the world premier of RKO's "Too Many Girls." At 12:45 p. m. the two footballs will be thrown from the roof of the building, and the two girls catching the balls will be allowed to bring either their sororities or 20 of their friends to the premier.

As a compensation prize 100 balloons, many containing guest tickets to the show, will be released at the same time. Girls who come as guests of the football catchers will be given "beanies" skull caps with feathers, like those worn by girls in the picture.
