BERLIN FORECAST.

The little has been coming out of the German capital for several weeks news analysts seem to be expecting big happenings there, for the Columbia Broadcasting System has taken Harry Flannery from KMOX, St. Louis and assigned him to William L. Shirer in Berlin.

Of course, the move is only motivated by a guess, but CBS's foreign relations department hasn't missed much in this war, and anybody's guess is pretty good these days. Reports by Flannery and Shirer are heard daily at 5:45 p. m. over KFAB.

DUNKERS

Joining the nationwide celebration of Doughnut Week, Bob Ripley is bringing to his "Believe It or Not" microphone five special guests—all distinguished for their service to the American institution of the breakfast table and the lunch counter.

First there will be A. L. Plant, of New York City, who actually sells the holes in doughnuts. Also appearing will be Albert Andre McVittie, president of the National Restaurant association, who will explain why he has made a ritual of eating a doughnut every day for the past 33 years.

Because no doughnut program would be complete without dunking, Ripley will also present the world's champion dunking family—Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard C. Stites and their son Joseph, of Nutley, N. J. The Stites won the title against all comers in a competition at the New York world's fair last month. They led all rivals in speed and technique. The program will be heard over KFAB at 9 p. m.

THIEF OF BAGDAD

A special radio adaptation of "The Thief of Bagdad" with Sabu, Rex Ingram and June Duprez in the starring roles, will be presented on the "Kate Smith hour" tonight at 7 p. m. over KFAB. In addition, the show tonight

Serenade star

Mary Eastman is the star of the "Saturday Night Serenade" heard each week over KFAB at 8:45 p. m. Miss Eastman, who is just starting her fifth season for CBS, does a good deal of choral work in her home community. Bill Perry and Emil Cote's Serenaders, with music by Gus Haenschen's orchestra, are also featured on the program.

will be the first appearance for Kate Smith of Nan Rae and Maude Davis, a comedy team which will replace Willie Howard on the show for the rest of the year. The team became known a few years ago for their work in the Broadway shows "Keep Off the Grass" and "The Folies Bergere."

SATURDAY'S HIGHLIGHTS.

General Robert W. Wood, chairman of the board of Sears Roebuck and Company, will speak under the auspices of the America First committee on "Our Foreign Policy." The speech will be carried locally by KFAB at 9:15 p. m.

"The World in Flames" featuring Elmer Davis and Major George Fielding Elliot will be heard over KFAB at 6:45 p. m.

Bowes revue opens here for 3 day stand

Major Bowes and his "Sixth Anniversary Revue," will open for a three day run at the Stuart theater today. Headlining the troupe will be Sally Swing, who does modern tap-dancing; Sammy Birch, master of ceremonies; and the five Jersey Farmhands with jokes and novelties.

All 25 of the cast have appeared on the Major's program and were awarded places in this unit because of the reception given them. Ann Bradley's imitation of Sophie Tucker, Paul Jones' exhibition with bones and spoons, and the Bridgeport Four's imitation of dance bands, are all features of the amateur stage show.

Draft opening lottery will be on air Tuesday

As Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson draws the first number in the national draft lottery at noon, Washington time, Tuesday, Oct. 29, the Columbia Broadcasting System will bring a word-picture of the ceremonies in Washington to radio listeners in every part of the country. President Roosevelt will be heard in a brief talk. The program will be heard here at 11 a. m.

Columbia also plans several other programs throughout the day to keep its coast-to-coast audience abreast of the conscription news. Microphone pickups from various points will feature interviews with some of the men whose numbers have been drawn.

In the initial selective service broadcast from Washington, Bob Trout, ace CBS reporter, will be stationed at the microphone in the Government's inter-departmental auditorium in the capitol. He will describe the scene as Secretary Stimson dips into the same goldfish bowl used for the draft in the World War.

The bowl will contain more than 7,000 capsules, according to Clarence A. Dykstra, draft director. Schedule of local broadcasts will be announced later.

Sheldon reigns at ag formal

Journal and Star. Ruth Ann Sheldon.

A senior in the home economics department, Miss Sheldon, 20, was presented as the queen of the annual Farmer's Formal Saturday evening on the ag campus. She was elected by the men of the campus. Her entrance into the limelight was made by way of a huge ear of corn on the stage. Nine other candidates stripped the husks from the ear to reveal the queen.

Fourteen men were officially pledged into Sinfonia, honorary music fraternity, when that or-

CBS announces new schedule of campaign talks

A campaign address by President Roosevelt Wednesday, Oct. 30, is to be broadcast over the entire network of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Three-quarters of an hour has been allotted for the President's address—from 9:15 to 10 p. m.—which will be given either in Constitution Hall, Washington, D. C., or at a rally in Baltimore.

The broadcast has been arranged under auspices of the democratic national committee.

The republican national committee has purchased time for four more broadcasts over the Columbia network by Wendell L. Willkie, G. O. P. candidate for president.

First of these is scheduled to come from Louisville, Ky., Monday, Oct. 28, from 9:30 to 10 p. m.

Mr. Willkie will be heard again by listeners Thursday, Oct. 31, from 7:30 to 8 p. m., speaking from Camden, N. J.

The next broadcast, marking the high point in the republican candidate's political tour, is to be from a party rally in Madison Square Garden, New York City, Saturday, Nov. 2, from 9:15 to 10 p. m.

Mr. Willkie's final radio address to the American voters is set for election eve, Monday, Nov. 4, when, with Senator Charles L. McNary, his running mate, he will speak in a broadcast from 9:15 to 10 p. m. ganization met yesterday. Dick Morse, president of the group, also appointed standing committees for the coming year.
