

Rose Bowl call takes Nebraska

well-deserved rest before again taking up drills for the New Year's classic. A week to ten days leave from football practice will be given.

Drill in Arizona

The plan for drills, when they start, is to practice here in Lincoln until Christmas vacation begins and then the encampment will move to a southwestern state, probably Arizona, to resume grid drills.

The final selection for an eastern representative to the Pasadena affair was narrowed down to just two teams by last Saturday night, Texas A. & M. and Nebraska. Boston College and Tennessee had signed to meet in the Sugar bowl at New Orleans, La., on the first day of 1941.

Texas Aggies were slated for the Rose bowl by the middle of last week but an upset victory by Coach Dana Bible and his Texas U. Longhorns threw a wrench in the Aggies grid machinery.

Husker alums aid

This upset brought Nebraska into prominence and Pacific coast pressure from alumni of Nebraska and neighboring states residing in California helped to bring about the final selection of Nebraska to represent the east.

While the Biffer was seeking approval from the Big Six officials, Sunday afternoon, Stanford was attempting to contact Coach Jones for final acceptance.

Masters stated that Stanford's opponents would be one of the strongest elevens in the country and stressed his point by pointing to Nebraska's record of eight consecutive wins after a lone reverse, that to Minnesota, the nation's No. 1 team, by a score of 13-7.

Tickets on sale

Tickets for the annual Pasadena game are selling like "hot cakes" both in Lincoln and on the west coast. A bloc of 5,000 seats are now on sale at the University of Nebraska athletic office at the reserved seat sale price of $4.40 apiece.

Al Masters, after announcing the "eastern half" of the January 1 game, left for Los Angeles by airplane, Monday noon, from the San Francisco airport.

Masters' office has long been swamped with ticket requests indicating a sell-out for the Rose bowl classic long before game time.

Barbs discuss constitution

Revision of the constitution of the Barb Union will be the topic of discussion at the meeting of the Union tonight at the Campus Studio. Dave Marvin, chairman on the constitutions committee will report on his activities of the past week on the new draft.

Ray Murray will present suggestions for an enlarged and more detailed platform of the barb party, as head of a committee selected to make the platform more comprehensive. Before the meeting, the group will have its picture taken for the Cornhusker. Presidents of clubs, representatives, Union officers, leaders-at-large, and men who attend meetings regularly are especially urged to be present.
