Olson, Ordal write daily columns

History grad students interpret news; contact profs for interviews

Domestic and international news will be interpreted in the DAILY NEBRASKAN beginning tomorrow when the first of special daily columns by James C. Olson and Rolf W. Ordal, graduate students in the history department, will be run.

In addition to the interpretive column, Olson and Ordal will contact professors for interviews about current problems in the fields in which they specialize. Occasionally, book reviews and articles written by professors and obtained and edited by the two new staff members will be featured.

"Last year, this type of column was used effectively, but until these two new men offered their services, we could not find anyone with a suitable background for this type of columns," said Norman Harris, DAILY editor. "This new department was formed with the co-operation of the history department and with the hope of satisfying the many students interested in contemporary history."

60 to attend annual dinner tonight

Hanging of the Greens dinner will be held in Ellen Smith tonight. Approximately 60 women students will attend this traditional gathering. After the court, parlors, and offices have been decorated with the evergreens sent here from Estes park an informal supper will be served. Girls on

UN singers present program of traditional Christmas carols
Two shows scheduled Sunday

Unusual and traditional Christmas carols from many lands will be sung by the University singers when they appear Sunday in a Christmas concert in the Union ballroom. The chorus, composed of 60 voices, under the direction of Dr. A. E. Westbrook, will be accompanied by an electric organ and two brass quartets.

This year's concert will keep the same spirit evidenced in the Christmas Rhapsody presented by the chorus last year. Two performances of the program have been arranged, the first to begin at 2:30 p. m. and the second at 4 p. m.

Since the seating capacity of the Union ballroom is restricted to 800 at each performance, free admission cards will be distributed in advance from the Union office. All who wish to attend the concert must have a card, and a ticket will assure its holder of a seat.

Rally! and if this effort is low pitched and distinctly unintelligible it's because we're hoarse from yelling and stuff...and smelling roses...

Last night amid the snow and the breeze Ace Rawalt and Doris Halsted gratified the Sig Eps and the Alpha Phi's with a very fine candy passing...one of those long anticipated deals...

If everyone who has going to the Rose Bowl in mind gets there we're confident that not a Californian will be able to squeeze in...

Johnny Dean and Duke Schatz will be sporting Sigma Nu pins to the Pigge Dinner next Saturday night...they were initiated Sunday night...

Harold Dreyer, Charles Fenter, Stanley Elsen, Erwin Klein, and Richard Lundgren are all new initiates of Beta Sigma Psi...the Beta Sigs also announce the pledging of Clarion Buethe and Van Harmon...

On pledgings...the Acacias pledged recently Jack Lynch...

Polly Parmele, Pi Phi pledge, seems to have a military ball date with a phone call from Kansas City...which will interest a couple of local lads...

Tom Ingles and Gamma Phi prexy Mary Lauvitz are really finding that they have a very fine deal there...the only snag in the whole beautiful thing is that Tommy Ingles is off to be a soldier...something that this twosome has been dreading for the past month...cause they've just gone together about that long...

Jim Beltzer has an idea on this Rose Bowl stuff...the Kappa Sig is heading for Seattle and an old love before heading for Pasadena...locally he and Theta Barbara York seem to be getting along quite nicely...
