

Marquette five opens Husker home season Saturday night

Ready for its first home game of the season, Nebraska's eagle quintet plays host to the Marquette five on the coliseum court, Saturday night at 8 p. m. Both teams will be seeking their first wins of the winter campaign.

Leading the Huskers will be Game Captain Al Randall, Don Fitz and Sid Held. This trio averages close to 6-5 in height and will bear the brunt of the offensive and defensive strength against the Hilltoppers.

The starting Cornhusker lineup is not certain as yet, but the chances are that Coach W. H. Browne will start Les Livingston and John Fitzgibbon at the forwards, Randall at center, and Held and Fitz holding down the back court.

Hartmann Goetze and Johnny Hay also have a good chance of breaking into the starting lineup in the front wall. John Thompson, sophomore guard, may see considerable action at a guard station, while Max Young, soph forward who rolled in 10 points against South Dakota, may also start.

Coach Bill Chandler of the visiting Milwaukee team has juggled his lineup and will probably start Mike Poja and Jim Reavley at the forwards, Bill Rogers at center, and Bill Komenich and Jim Schrudowitz at the guards.

The Huskers lost to the University of South Dakota last Friday night 40 to 39 in two overtime periods, while the Hilltoppers succumbed to Wisconsin last Saturday 38 to 32.

Nebraska's varsity may not be in active practice for the Rose Bowl game, but there are still some Husker gridders who have been working out for the past week. This squad of Scarlet pigskinners is called the Scout Club.

About a dozen and a half men all season long have scrimmaged the Husker varsity night after night this fall in demonstrating to the varsity the plays and formations employed by the Husker opponents on the following Saturday.

A great help have been these Scout Clubbers. And now they are learning the T formation and the Stanford Indian plays. In a few days the varsity will get its first glimpse of these and the Scouts will be in for some trouble and beatings.

There is some talk about taking the Scouts along to the Pasadena game which is not a bad idea. The members of the Scouts won't play just to insure another year of eligibility but deserve such a treat if one is in the offering. ....

It took just two hours for the 15,000 tickets on sale at Pasadena for the Rose Bowl game to be sold. And thousands of other would-be ticket purchasers were refused and about $150,000 returned to requesters by the mails.

There's one thing the Huskers won't have to worry about.
