

U. of N. Celebrates 72nd Year of Founding

NEW DON L. LOVE MEMORIAL LIBRARY

OLD UNIVERSITY HALL - FIRST U.N. BUILDING

CHANCELLOR C. S. BOUCHER

CHARTER DAY SPEAKER WENDELL BERGE

THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA will observe Charter Day on Feb. 15 with Wendell Berge, prominent alumnus, as speaker. The progress of the University through the years forms the background for a current movie, "Cheers For Miss Bishop."

HOLLYWOOD HONORS THE UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA IN A NEW MOVIE

Many Nebraska graduates receive mention in Who's Who

Nebraska's celebration of the 72nd observance of the university's founding tomorrow calls attention to the service the school has been as an educational education. The number of Nebraska students who gained fame as determined by their inclusion in Who's Who may indicate the university's merit.

That the university better prepares students for a career in education than for other fields is an inference that might be drawn from the DAILY NEBRASKAN compilation of figures on university alumni appearing in Who's Who.

Of 317 former students included in the last listing of alumni in Who's Who made by the alumni office in 1936, 127 were included because of their note as educators. Thirty-six Nebraska educated lawyers were thus recognized, 26 politicians, 16 editors and publishers and 15 authors.

Any student contemplating achieving success measured by his name's inclusion in Who's Who should anticipate long years of hard work for the average university alumnus listed has been out of school 34 years. Several of those listed did not receive degrees.

Phalanx initiates eighteen members

Epsilon Morae chapter of Phalanx, national and professional military fraternity, has initiated 18 new members. They are John E. Adams, Charles H. Artus, Charles D. Bitner, Charles C. Brookley, Roger R. Cox, Rolland G. Dahlstrom, Claire R. Dyas, Richard C. Emrich, George F. Fox, Bertil E. Landstrom, Robert L. Pearson, John R. Scott, Fritz W. Sienknecht, Philip H. Smith, John F. Waskiewicz, James H. Watts, James L. Way, and Joseph Heming.

Some years Nebraska produced bumper crops of graduates who received Who's Who acclaim while other years were comparatively drouth stricken. In 1902, 20 students who left the university, later made Who's Who; but in the class of 1901 only eight graduates achieved this recognition. Classes of 1897 and '98 each placed 17 students in this catalogue of fame and the class of 1911 placed 18.

Statistics don't lie say these figures

MANHATTAN, Kas.—Hot and cold, or how Kansas State lost to Iowa State in basketball here Monday:

First half: Kansas State made 13 out of 33 shots (39%). Iowa State connected on nine out of 39 shots (23%). Score at half: Kansas State 32, Iowa State 25. Second half: Kansas State made only two out of 24 shots (8%), while Iowa State hit 11 out of 23 (48%). Shooting percentages for game: Kansas State 26.3, Iowa State 32.4. Final score: Iowa State 50, Kansas State 41.

Nineteen members of the university faculty who attended Nebraska are listed in Who's Who. Also included are 20 graduates that reside in Lincoln.

Most widely known of university graduates include General John J. Pershing; Roscoe Pound, dean of Harvard's law school; Ruth Bryan Owen, former ambassador to Denmark; Willa Cather, authoress; Hiram Orr, Lincoln surgeon whose research was recently featured in Life magazine, former Governor Roy Cochran, James Lawrence, editor of the Lincoln Star and Harvey Newbranch, editor of the Omaha World-Herald and Pulitzer prize winner.

Raecke-

(Continued from Page 1.) mediate reply was: "Too many; I think we all introduce too many." However, he has sponsored 16 bills. Of this number Senator Raecke was unable to select one which he believed the most important. He did, however, cite some that are among the most vital.

One of the senator's proposed measures would change the present requirement of publication of candidate's expense reports. The present law calls for publication of such reports but makes so many exemptions that, according to Senator Raecke, the law is meaningless. The idea of the proposed bill is to eliminate such exemptions. Another bill of Senator Raecke would amend the county library law. He has introduced several 'uniform' laws in behalf of the state bar association.

Senator Raecke has lived in Nebraska all his life, and now lives in Central City. He had been county attorney there for 15 years. The senator is married and has three children, one of whom is a senior in high school. Said the senator, "I hope she will be in the university next year."

Council-

(Continued from Page 1.) terfraternity ball at 9, which will close the convention.

"All students are urged to attend the various meetings," pointed out Ruth Clark, chairman of the convention. "And I want to emphasize the value of tomorrow's ag meeting to all ag college students, whether they are on the Council or not."

Lodging for the delegates is being provided by fraternity, sorority and barb houses.

Although only official delegates to the convention may participate in the discussions, all Nebraska Council members plan to attend as many of the meetings as possible. Nebraska's delegates are Mason, Ruth Clark, Marion Cramer and Burton Thiel.

This convention is the first ever to be held by the Big Six schools, and since Nebraska is initiating the idea, a great deal of effort has gone into making it a success. Council members are hoping it will become an annual affair.

A gift of $10,500 has made possible a flying field for the University of Oklahoma.

Wilson college, Chambersburg, Pa., is celebrating its seventieth year.

Former UN prof gains recognition

Dr. J. P. Guilford, until recently professor of psychology and director of the bureau of instructional research, is recognized for his research in color reactions in the January number of the Shield and Diamond, publication of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity. Dr. Guilford, now at the University of Southern California, graduated from Nebraska in 1922.

INTERFRATERNITY BALL SATURDAY—$1.50 Per Couple INFORMAL

Miss Pris Chain

Member Kappa Alpha Theta

3 INCH HEELS

A beautiful pump to send your spirits soaring... to give your figure that "spring-slim look!" In Black or Blue Elasticized Gabardine with a perky little bow!

4.95

4 to 9 AAAA to B

FOURTH FLOOR

Ben Simon & Sons

ALL MAKES OF TYPEWRITERS FOR SALE OR RENT NEBR. TYPEWRITER CO.

130 No. 12th 2-2157