with Mylene

Pi Beta Phis

Will dance formally at Hotel Cornhusker tomorrow night. Specialty of the evening will be a trio—Betty Krause, Beldora Cochran and Janet Hemphill. Chaperons are Prof. and Mrs. Roy E. Cochran and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Robinson. Dates include Marje Owen and Sigma Nu prexy Ken Holm, Connie Merriam and Beta Harry Rinder, Joann Emerson and Phi Gam Bud Johnson, Louise Ide and Bill Stauss, Sigma Nu footballer from Iowa U.

Sweet stuff

and nonsense has been going on around the Gamma Phi house lately. Blitzkrieging not with bombs but with bouquets, pledges and actives have been in the market for good gas masks, because it seems that generous sprinklings of the "five-and-dime's" best has been enough to make a bee dizzy.

Dinner dating

tonight will be the Phi Mus, who are entertaining at their annual affair. Steady-goers Kay Donovan, Dottie McCartney, and Marion Olson will be with their "better halves," and Louise Frolik will eat her soup and nuts with Ward Brunson.

Alpha Sigs

are quite happy over their two new pledges from Omaha, Howard Martig and Robert Hyde. Page the social chairmen!

Does anybody

know Elsie? Her last name seems to be G. At any rate, a little bird suggests that Bill Dafoe explain the "very passionate notes" he has been receiving from this elusive Miss. Something about a very lovely Sunday afternoon together was hinted at also.

Baron Byron

was ever making a social call upon his cousin George, more appropriately known to the English department as Lord Byron, yesterday. After baying mournfully for his cousin, who seemed to be somewhere else, Byron calmly walked into Professor Scott's class and sat down to listen to the lecture along side blushing Bob Aden.

Delt pledges

have elected new officers. Dick Childs is prexy, Chuck Shubert is v.-p., Max Wilson is secretary-treasurer, and Ralph Nielsen is sargeant-at-arms. —Order now for early delivery. Townsend's Studio.—Adv.

BEECHNUT supervisor is coming to town, therefore, Beechie Les Johnson's supply will be replenished.—Adv.

HERE WE GO boys and girls the latest in campus chatter . . . fashion notes . . . and not to forget, news which the smart coed and fellow are sure to devour immediately. So for the remaining weeks of this school year our pleasant duty is to ramble around the campus and in collegiate stores making discoveries for your gossip and information (or are they the same!).

The Beta's and just about everybody else are going in for Buffet dinners these days. Sunday evening chewing on olives, cold meat, and odorous cheeses will be such couples as Lois Drake and Jack Weidman.

You'll be his sweetheart more than ever this weekend at the Theta and Pi Phi formals when you go with a coiffure from Ben your Hairdresser, 211 So. 13 . . . Radiantly lovely you'll be in his admiring glances. So popular has Mr. Ben been with Nebraska coeds that he has added to his staff Miss Corrine, Mr. Don, and Mr. Burton. For February only Mr. Ben offers a $6.50 Joli machineless permanent at only $4.90, and a $5.00 machine or machineless at $3.75. Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, a shampoo and fingerwave is only 75c.

Casual and appropriate are Simon's 3 button single breasted—in a variety of fabrics and colors.

Is she smart in matched bag, gloves, and hat? Likely she obtained them at Nancee's, 133 South 13th street. Featured at Nancee's this week in luscious new pastels of timber rose and crater blue are combinations of hat, bag, and gloves. At Nancee's, too, you'll see trimmed bonnets, pert soft brims, and hats designed for you, and all at the most reasonable prices. Lift yourself away from the winter weather. Clever hats from Nancee's will swing you into spring.

Flying up from Kansas to dance with his one and only at the Turnpike this week-end is a mysterious young man from Kansas, friend of Julia Gurley.

If you're watching those pennies—and who isn't these days—you'll like the noon lunches at Hamburger Inn just south of the Temple. Satisfying, tasteful food at prices reasonable to the much reduced budget of the student.

Are you weary of Jeannie with the graying hair? You can revive that jaded musical palate by a trip to Walt's music store, 1140 O street. On every Fraternity and Sorority list are such "must-haves" as "Oh! Look at Me Now" by Tommy Dorsey and the Pied Pipers . . . and Tony Pastor's "Paradiddle Joe." Once you've heard Glenn Miller's "Song of the Volga Boatman," you'll have a new feeling for the Russians, and one of your life's major aims will be to obtain a record of it at Walt's. And don't forget . . . Walt's is headquarters for records.

Among the galaxy of Thetas shining sweetly at their formal Friday are sure to be Hattie Costello with A. T. O. Bob Sandburg (you'll see them at the Prom, too), Barbara York with Leonard Van Buskirk, Prexy of Kappa Sig, and Mary Helen Farrar with Fred Metheny.

Collegiate atmosphere, cokes, and good food, that's Bucks. Everybody knows it, but in case you don't know how delicious a 25c meal can be, stop in at Bucks today.

We stopped at Simon's yesterday to learn the latest in collegiate dress. As usual, Simon's assortment of Hart, Schaffner & Marx suits was tops. In addition, Simon's had a pleasant surprise for us. Featured was a smart sports coat, the "Regent" model designed by Scott Barrie of Hollywood . . . natural camel shade with inverted pleated pockets and leather buttons . . . the latest in coats to match any of Simon's gaberdine or covert slacks. Then, too, we saw the newest in top coats . . . cougar with full set in sleeves and fly front to meet the approval of the severest campus critic. Why not browse around in Simon's tomorrow—they'll be glad to show you the latest fashions.

Then up to the coed shop . . . we marveled at the new three piece suits smart with their military touches . . . Styled by Scott Barrie of Hollywood were suits to make every coed glance with envious eyes . . . three button lounge drapes in new "tan" and teal blue . . . all of which are a hit . . . plaids, checks and stripes . . . and for fabrics an array of tweeds, flannels, Shetlands, coverts, and worsteds. We especially noticed a stunning coat of green plaid . . . coats the latest in fashion of oatmeal tweed . . . with stripes . . . softly tailored and dressmaker types to flatter your figure.

Goodbye now, we'll see you next week.
