

Book Nook radio program names Louis Adamic as author of week

The first broadcast to be sponsored jointly by the university's newly appointed radio activities committee and station KFOR was presented from the Book Nook of the Union Friday at 4:15, with Frank Egan, assistant in the reference department of the university library acting as commentator for the program, while Jon Pruden, senior in the arts and sciences college, served as announcer.

Features of the inaugural broadcast included latest news concerning writers, poets, and artists, and news briefs about articles written by alumni and faculty members of the university.

Adamic author of week.

Louis Adamic was named author of the week on the broadcast, the selection made on the basis of his latest book, "From Many Lands." The book describes the process of refugees changing into loyal American citizens after immigrating to this country.

"Sapphira and the Slave Girl," written by Willa Cather, will be awarded next week to the student submitting the best reference question of the week.

Awards weekly prize.

The contest, which will be a regular feature of the weekly broadcasts, awards a weekly prize of one of the current best-sellers, with the Union giving the book for the award. Questions may be sent to KFOR in care of the Book Nook or left in the Union office with the deadline set at Thursday preceding each broadcast.

Members of the radio activities committee, which listened to the broadcast from the faculty lounge, are Dr. K. O. Broady, chairman; and Drs. L. T. Laase, L. C. Wimberly, A. E. Westbrook; Profs.

Fraternities enter teams in I-M debate

Six groups will discuss formal alliance between English speaking nations

Altho prospects for the intramural debate tournament were dark last week, H. A. White, debate coach, announced that the competition will get underway Thursday, March 13, with six teams in the running.

The debates will be held in the chapter houses of the affirmative teams beginning at 7 p. m. Each debate will be judged by a former member of the varsity debate team.

Entries are: Alpha Tau Omega with John Douglass and William Rist, Delta Tau Delta with Sherwood Larson and Robert Ross, Delta Theta Phi with Don Farrens and James Brogan, Delta Upsilon with Robert Chambers and Bud Johnson, Phi Delta Theta with Nick Douvas and Charles Harris, and Zeta Beta Tau with Yale Gotsdiner and Robert Passer.

Debaters must carry 12 hours. All debaters must be carrying 12 hours of college work, according to H. A. White, varsity debate coach and sponsor of the tournament. Members of an intercollegiate debate team, at Nebraska or any other college, are ineligible for the competition.

Each team will speak on both sides of the question and two defeats will mean elimination from the tournament. The finals will be judged by three former debate team members.

Question for the league is Resolved: That the English speaking nations should make a formal alliance for their common interest and protection.

First round debates are: Zeta Beta Tau vs. Delta Theta Phi, Delta Tau Delta vs. Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Delta Theta vs. Delta Upsilon.

Ag students have opportunity to receive scholarship loans

Making possible 76 loans aggregating more than $7,450 for agricultural students are scholarships totaling $1,250 awarded by the Pullman company to the university during the last six years, ac-ording to Prof. W. J. Loeffel, chairman of the animal husbandry department at the college of agriculture.

Granted on the basis of winning judging teams and livestock in 1924, 1926 and 1928, every scholarship has been won by students, including 11 women home economics students, who remained in the agricultural field, Prof. Loeffel said.

Not more than $75.

Not more than $75 will be loaned to any student although larger loans made in the past raised the average to $98. Good scholarship and good character, plus reasonable assurance that the applicants will succeed after graduation and thus will be able to repay the loan without undue delay, are the chief requirements for the awards.

76 loans made.

Of the 76 loans made to date, 59 have been repaid in full with the average loan running two years, according to Professor Loeffel. At the present time there are 17 loans in force totaling $757.50.

Upperclassmen are favored in granting the loans, particularly those who might not be able to complete their education program without assistance.

Mortar Board offers frosh scholarships

Application blanks can be obtained at Dean Hosp's office this week

Mortar Board will give scholarships of $75 each to two freshman girls for their sophomore year. The scholarships will apply on tuition. Each of the girls will be given $37.50 for two semesters provided she maintains the qualifications set forth for the original granting of the scholarship.

To get the scholarship the girl must have maintained at least an 85 average in her first semester of her freshman year and not be delinquent the first six weeks of the second semester. She must have carried 12 hours each semester and be planning to do the same her sophomore year.

Application blanks can be obtained at the office of the Dean of Women on March 3, 4, 5. Blanks must be returned by March 13.

Capitol Personalities

From a collegiate Shakespearean actor, track man and student of history to a seat in the Nebraska legislature is a long step. Yet that is exactly what the senator from Knox and Cedar counties, Martin Mischke, has done.

Senator Mischke graduated from Yankton (S. D.) college with an economics and history major and after teaching a year, went back to Crofton to farm. In 1939, he served his first term in the senate.

"Politics intrigue me."

Explaining his presence in the legislature the senator said: "Politics have always intrigued me. As a student of economics and government I have always thought that one should be of some service to the people of his state if at all possible."

He added further that the job was not as easy as he had thought. "There is a very great responsibility to bear," he said. "I was once in a situation where my vote would defeat or pass a bill which was important to the state and casting that vote was a tough job."

Chairman of committee.

Senator Mischke is chairman of the public works committee and is a member of the agriculture and education committees.

One of his bills, a constitutional amendment, is designed to change the setup of the legislature. It provides that senators be elected for four year staggered terms. The purpose of the bill, according to Senator Mischke is twofold.

First, it would make it unnecessary for members to campaign every two years and instead of working for their re-election, work on new legislation. Secondly, it would prevent the possibility of having too many inexperienced men in the senate.
