Huskers set four of eight new marks in loop track meet win

Coach Ed Weir's track forces literally ran off with the Big Six cinder meet held in Kansas City, Saturday, and displayed ability the like of which has not been seen around the Missouri Valley for some time.

In romping off with the indoor crown, the Husker men in scanties marked a total of 47 points, while Missouri, strongest contender, turned in 26 points, trailed by Kansas 20½, Oklahoma 18½, Iowa State 14 and Kansas State 6.

About 3,000 fans viewed the Huskers successfully defending their indoor title in the K. C. municipal auditorium. Eight marks were bettered, one tied and four of those new records were credited to Nebraskans.

Bill Smutz, Pawnee City junior letterman, was responsible for two of the new marks. He skimmed over both high and low hurdles in record times.

Gene Littler, the Mitchell mercury-man, cracked his own 440-yard record. Harold Hunt was the other mark setter when he sailed over the pole vault bar at a new meet height.

Bill Lyda of Oklahoma steamed thru the last lap of the half mile to set a new mark in this event. Dick Smethers of Oklahoma set a new two mile mark.

Bob Stoland of Kansas set a new height in the high jump. The other mark to fall was the quarter mile relay in which the four man team from Iowa State bettered its own 1940 time.

The record tied was Gene Littler's 60-yard dash time. Don Walters of Missouri raced down the straightaway to take first over Orville Matthews from Oklahoma and Littler who placed third.

The Huskers failed to place in only two events—the high jump and the broad jump. Summaries of how Nebraskans scored and new marks recorded:

Baseball squad answers first spring meeting

Coach Wilbur Knight found nearly a full squad of baseball candidates reporting to him for the first meeting, Monday afternoon in the coliseum.

About 35 men were on hand for the first call. The greater share of the players were busy taking physical examinations.

A few more—catchers and pitchers—warmed up their arms. Practices will be held daily in the coliseum until it is suitable weather to play outside.

Senators hate parade.

Next to lobbyists, people who say that the legislature passes too many bills stand highest on the senator's hate parade. "Those kind of people get me mad. With the present legislative system, it is the duty of the senators to present the bills their constituents want. And that's what we do. Yet people complain," said Senator Mekato.

"And don't forget," says the senator as he gets wound up in his subject, "as the nation progresses, more laws are needed. Why, whoever heard of railroad

Football team begins spring practice work

The last time the Cornhusker football squad climbed out of mole-skins was on Jan. 1 when the Huskers participated in the Rose Bowl against the victorious Stanford Indians.

Monday afternoon, Coach Biff Jones received a full squad of gridiron hopefuls. Equipment was checked out and a warmup practice was held under the east stadium.

Practice six weeks.

Sessions will be held daily in the afternoons until the ground becomes clear of snow and the weather rises above the freezing mark.

Only six calendar weeks, covering 36 days of practice will be the extent of the spring football practice.

legislation 80 years ago? Who ever heard of—" and on and on he goes, telling why the legislature has to pass a lot of laws.

Background.

The senator's background includes graduation from the University of Iowa—he was born in a small town outside of Iowa City—residence in Crete for 21 years where he has been county attorney for two years until his election to the legislature. He's married and has two children.

A member of the judiciary and revenues committees, Senator Mekota does not specialize in certain kinds of legislation. "If you want to say I'm interested in any one thing, particularly, you might mention that most of my legislation has been aimed at simplifying present laws, especially technicalities. I've also submitted some corrective measures, including a "disturbing the peace" law.

Phonetics labs open to students

Laboratories of practical phonetics for students of French and Spanish opened last week and will be continued throughout the semester, Cal Orr, laboratory supervisor, announced. Attendance is compulsory for these language students.

Phonographic records of the voices of H. S. Saenz, professor of Spanish, and E. M. Telle of the French department are used by the students to acquaint themselves with the characteristic accent of the languages. "The repetition of the texts of the recordings will greatly aid in pronunciation," Prof. Saenz said.
