A Prom post mortem

is perhaps permissible. People didn't exactly rave about the danceability of the Count's music, but very few other orchestras have been so good that the boys and girls have stood all evening just to listen. Some of the most enthusiastic listeners were those spectator stags who jammed the balcony just above the band-stand, such as Lowell Michael, Clem McCarthy, Bert Allen, Jack Latenser, "Whitey" Reed, Harold —, and others.

Time has elapsed and perhaps it's safe to tell about the goings-on here at the Union one week-end. Seems as tho some of the kiddies, townsfolk, of course, came in late from the Turnpike and saw lights on in the building.

Phi Sigma Iota holds anniversary banquet March 15

Reservations for the third anniversary banquet of Phi Sigma Iota, language fraternity, must be made with Betty Mueller, chairman of the arrangements committee, by March 10, Dr. Willis Bowen, president of the chapter, announced.

The banquet preceded by an initiation of new members will be held in the Union at 7 p. m., March 15.

All active, honorary, alumni members, and members of the romance language department are invited to attend. Reservation costs should be paid before March 13 to Prof. H. S. Saenz, of the Spanish department in University hall, room 101 or to some member of the finance committee.

session Dr. A. A. Reed, director of the extension division of the university, extended greetings to the 250 assembled delegates, and a color and sound film contributed by the state game, forestation, and park commission was shown.

Teaching with sound film.

"Films must be used correctly or they are of little value," stated Douglas Dunham, director of visual education in Norfolk when he spoke on the subject of "Teaching With the Sound Film." Leo Smith of Omaha South high school presented methods of financing visual aids in the schools.

Hanna-

elected him to represent them in the legislature.

Introduced "cattle brand bill."

Senator Hanna has introduced three bills of which he considers the "cattle brand bill" the most important. Up to this point the inspection of branded cattle has been carried on by private agencies. If the bill is approved, future inspection will be administered through the secretary of state and by a committee made up of cattlemen.

The senator is, of course, a member of the agriculture committee. He also serves on public health and education committees.

Children in university.

Two of Senator Hanna's sons and three of his grandchildren have attended or are attending the university. One is now a business administration sophomore.

Finding a door that was unlocked, they sneaked in, danced a while to the nickelodion in the ball room, before being chased out by the janitors.

Instead of leaving however, they decided to do it up right and have a quick coke before leaving. So they sat in the grill and chatted a while with the NYA student scrubbing floors.

The Sigma Chi's

had an hour dance Saturday night with the A O P's. Which should make Jack Castle and Al Lefferdink very happy.

The Alpha Chi's

aren't seeing anything of Phyllis Ray this week-end. Seems as tho her Grand Island Galahad, Walt Krieger, is in town, and her time is completely monopolized.

Contributions push WSSF total near $500 goal; group ends drive Tuesday

With contributions received the latter part of the week pushing the total receipts nearer to the $500 goal, the WSSF makes its final appeal tomorrow to organizations which have not as yet acted on the question of a donation to the fund. Formal end of the drive is Tuesday and all groups are urged to take action on the question before that date.

Contributions received to date by the committee in charge of the drive total $390, not including several pledges which are as yet unpaid. Drive officials express confidence that the goal will be attained by Tuesday night. "With the co-operation of every group which has not yet taken action on this question, the reaching of the goal will be assured," Cal Rollins, co-chairman, declared.

ATO's pledge $30.

A $30 donation pledged by Alpha Tau Omega, the largest pledge yet made by a men's residence group, played a large part in the sudden late boost in the fortunes of the drive. $35 contributions have been given by Delta Delta Delta and Kappa Alpha Theta. Largest donation from any group is still the $50 pledge made by the WAA.

Main efforts of the committee in the final stages of the drive will be among fraternities and co-operative clubs. "The gift from Alpha Tau Omega is an indication that the fraternities are taking a much greater interest in this program than ever before," said Rollins, "and with the favorable action of those fraternities which have not yet made pledges, we hope to see the fraternity group rise to an equal level in contributions with the sororities."

FOR THAT WELL GROOMED LOOK AT SPRING FORMAL PARTIES

Here is formal wear at its best. All the handsomeness of a tailcoat, yet all the comfort of a sport jacket. The white dinner jacket is definitely the correct wear for Spring Formal Parties following the Junior-Senior Prom. Jack Beauchamp will be wearing a white formal jacket to formals this Spring. He is shown with Ann Craft, lovely Cornhusker beauty queen candidate. Jack selected Palm Beach's new double breasted white jacket with shawl collar. With it he is wearing midnight blue formal slacks, soft bosom shirt with turn down collar, and matching maroon bow tie, boutonniere, handkerchief and cummerbund.—Adv.
