

Student Council sets spring election April 22

Student Council members selected April 22 as the date for the general campus election this spring at their meeting yesterday, and decided to refer the DAILY NEBRASKAN automatic subscription plans to the students at that election.

Due to the fact that the Honors

UN alumni to hold 63rd annual election

Balloting ends May 1; M. Meyer, T. B. Strain run for presidency

Carrying instructions to Nebraska alumni to vote for national president, vice president, district members-at-large and zone directors, ballots in the 63rd national alumni election appeared in the March issue of the Nebraska Alumnus. The election ends May 1.

Max Meyer and T. B. Strain, Lincoln, are candidates for the presidency of the association, and Loine Gaines, Aurora, and Mrs. George Grimes, Omaha, are running for vice president.

Chosen by committee.

Glenn A. Buck and Fred C. Williams, Lincoln, are candidates for member-at-large of the executive committee. Terms of candidates, selected by a nominating committee appointed by the outgoing president, are one year for president and vice president, three years for members at large of the executive committee and two years for state and zone directors.

Alumni residing in Nebraska will vote for state directors according to their respective congressional district as follows: 1st—J. Stewart Elliott, Beatrice and Theodore C. Stelzer, Seward; 2nd—Charles Hoff and Fred Thomas, Omaha; 3rd—Glenn Davis, Norfolk, and Mrs. Fenda Rock, Laurel; 4th—H. K. Couthit, Curtis, and Glenn R. LeRoy, Fairbury; 5th—Dr. Roscoe S. Baker, Sidney and Dr. Victor Beck, Broken Bow.

Zone directors.

Zone directors for territory outside Nebraska will be elected from the following: zone 1—James F. (See ALUMNI, page 3.)

March Alumnus carries story of UN museum development

Under a cover showing the swimming team in action in the coliseum pool, the March Nebraska Alumnus features an article entitled, "Some Memories of Sandstorms" by Dr. E. H. Barbour, director of the university museum. It is an interesting article that traces the development of the museum, which is considered one of the nation's finest and tells how Nebraska has come to be recognized as the "happy hunting

Love hall fund receives support

A fund to furnish Love hall on ag campus has been growing steadily during the past month, members of the Mortar Board, who are sponsoring the project, announced yesterday.

Many organizations have contributed to the fund, among them Tassels, Coed Counselor board, Home Economics association, and Kappa Alpha Theta. The money is being placed in a special "Mortar Board Project Fund" and checks should be made out in this name and sent to John K. Selleck's office.

Scholarship application blanks must be in today

Application blanks for the two Mortar Board scholarships must be returned to the office of the dean of women today. The scholarships are to be awarded to two freshman girls to apply on their tuition for their sophomore year.

Convocation is held on the same day, Thursday, polls will be closed for an hour in the morning from 10:15 to 11:15.

Issues of election.

Ivy Day Orator, candidates for Innocents, and next year's Student Council members will be voted on at this election. All students will be asked to vote on the question of the DAILY NEBRASKAN being automatically placed on entrance fees at the beginning of the semester at a price of not more than 25 cents.

Because the Farmers Fair is not until May, the elections committee decided to hold all ag college elections at a later date, when next year's Farmers Fair board will be selected.

Plans for a mimeographed copy of notes on the Big Six Student Council convention are almost complete, since a summary of their part in the convention has been received from all but one of the participating schools.

Betty Eginton was elected to replace Tess Casady as holdover member.

Junior-Senior quiz deadline is tomorrow

Union sponsors contest; members of winning team receive $5 each

Junior and Senior teams wishing to compete in the Junior-Senior quiz sponsored by the Union must register, leaving their names in the Union office by tomorrow.

A team must be composed of either three juniors or three seniors. Preliminaries will be held on a weekend to eliminate the teams to one each for the junior and senior classes. Questions asked in the preliminaries and finals will require only general information.

Fraternities, sororities and barb organizations are urged to enter teams.

Prizes for members of the winning team are $5 each and for the losing team members, $2.50 each.

ground" for vertebrate paleontologists.

Picture page interesting. Interesting is the page of pictures which shows the Student Union as the center of all student activities. Immediately following this section is the vital article, "Books on Current Affairs... We Question The English" written by Dr. Glenn W. Gray.

Other pages in the magazine are devoted to the usual sections carrying news from the different colleges, news from associations over the country, and paragraphs on the comings and goings of alumni all over the nation. This section is conducted under the theme "Once a Cornhusker, Always a Cornhusker."

WSSF drive tops goal with $706.50

Passing the $700 mark yesterday, the WSSF in its final report showed a total of $706.50 collected and pledged. This figure is not entirely complete, the committee in charge stated, as several organizations have yet to report, and as further contributions are constantly coming in.

The campaign is still open to donations, drive leaders emphasized. "While the donations received so far are well over our goal," said co-chairman Marie Anderson, "the need is still great, and there is still time for organizations to take action and send in contributions."

WAA gives most. Largest donation came from WAA, which pledged $100, the second $50 came as a bonus to the committee for reaching its $500

Coed Counselors, AWS, BABW name candidates

Polls for the all-women spring election will be open in Ellen Smith and the home ec building on ag campus tomorrow from 8:45 a. m. to 5 p. m. when coeds will vote for members of the Coed Counselor and AWS boards, the Barb Activities Board for Women, May Queen, and Mortar Board nominees.

Two junior girls are running for president of each of the boards, but candidates for May Queen and Mortar Board will not be announced until the voting opens. Winners of the latter elections will be presented on Ivy Day, May 1.

Presidential candidates.

Names and activities of the girls running for presidents are as follows:

For AWS board: Natalie Burn, member of Tassels, member of AWS board two years, and on Coed Counselor Board; Ben Alice Day, Tassels, AWS board, two years, and secretary of AWS board this year.

Coed Counselor Board: Harriet Talbot, Tassels, Freshman AWS, YWCA, and Cornhusker Staff; Margaret Forrey, YWCA Vespers and Palladian literary society.

Meat judges take awards

Members of the university's ag college meats judging team outdid themselves at the intercollegiate contest held Monday at Fort Worth, Tex., by placing first, second and third individually, and placing first in the meet as a team.

Richard Crom, Pawnee City, was high man individually, placing all classes correctly. With total score based on reasoning as well as placement of classes, Crom was first on pork, second on lamb and third on beef.

Kerchberger second.

Second high individual scorer was Vern Kerchberger. Third member of the Nebraska team was John Shick of Curtis, who placed third high in the entire contest.

Prof. Ross H. Miller, who coached the team, reported Nebraska's total score as 2,513 points with Oklahoma A. & M. second, 2,443 points. The Nebraska team ranked first on pork, first on lamb, and copped the three top individual rankings in each of these branches. The team was also second on beef.

University Dames meet Friday in Ellen Smith

Hobby night for the University Dames will be held Friday at 8 p. m. in Ellen Smith. Members will furnish their own program with each member contributing. New members will be initiated Mrs. Paul Lindberg will act as hostess.

Lutherans meet Sunday

Lutheran students of the synodical conference will assemble for the regular morning service of worship in parlors Y and Z of the Union at 10:45 a. m.

During this season of Lent, Rev. H. Erck, Lutheran student pastor, is preaching on Lenten topics, and will use as his topic at this service, "Jesus on Trial before the High Priest."

Both girls are members of the Coed Counselor board at the present time.

BABW: Betty Hutchinson.

BABW, Barb Council and Tassels; Dorothy White, Barb Council, AWS Board and Cornhusker staff.

Candidates for the other offices are:

AWS board.

Seniors: (vote for four) Jane Bird, Ruth De Long, Louise Frolich, Jeannette Mickey, Betty O'Shea, Lois Riggs, Dorothy White, and Ellen Wilkins.

Juniors: (vote for four) Anne Craft, Janet Curley, Sylvia Katzman, Ada Lavendar, Betty Newman, Marion Patton, Susan Shaw, and Betty Tisthammer.

Sophomores: (vote for four) Betty Bonebright, Lois Christie, Janice Cook, Jean Cowden, Marilyn Fulton, Janet Hemphill, Rachel Anne Lock, and Dorothy Thomas.

Coed Counselor board.

Seniors, affiliated: (vote for two) Natalie Burn, Marion Cramer, Frances Keefer, and Miriam Rubnitz.

Seniors, unaffiliated: (vote for two) Mary Eileen Dalton, Ruth Grosvenor, Grace Leaders, and Xenia Lindberg.

Juniors, affiliated: (vote for two) Harriet Costello, Ann Kinder, (See ELECTION, page 3.)

Presidential candidates

AWS

Burn. Day.

Coed counselor

Forrey. Talbot.

BABW

Hutchinson. White.

E. R. Buckner dies following short illness

Emory Roy Buckner, 63, one of four recipients of the first distinguished service awards granted last spring by the university, to alumni for service to the school and eminence in their respective fields, died yesterday following a brief illness.

The former United States attorney won his greatest fame in the prosecution of the scandals of the Harding administration. He also served for a time as assistant to New York district attorney, Charles S. Whitman.

Buckner was born in Pottawattamie county, Iowa, and graduated from the university in 1904. He got his law degree from Harvard in 1907. President Coolidge appointed him United States attorney in 1925. While here he was a member of the Innocents society.

First Trust, bizad college show film

The business administration college, in cooperation with the First Trust Company, will show a film of industry in social sciences auditorium at 11:30 a. m. Friday. The movie will show labor groups actually at work as well as manufacturing processes and will last approximately twenty minutes.

The film was produced by the Investment Bankers Association of America which is lending it to the university. It should especially interest students of economics and engineering.

AWS members to review BDG candidates at 5

Upperclass AWS members are invited to review the Best Dressed Girl candidates at 5 p. m. today in Ellen Smith, according to Jean Simmons, AWS board president. Sarah Louise Meyer, Nebraska alumna, will be there to help with the judging.

All BDGs are instructed to wear street clothes to tonight's tryouts, and to be on hand promptly at 5.

Teachers college, extension division publish handbook

A revised handbook for school custodians has been published by the university as a contribution to the education series. Several thousand sales of previous editions have been made throughout the country.

"Rapid progress has been made within recent years in the development of techniques for the care and maintenance of school buildings and grounds," stated Dean F. E. Henzlik of teachers college which published the book in cooperation with the extension division. "Practice has not kept pace, however, because information needed has not been available to custodians. It is hoped that this handbook will overcome the handicap."