Upon entering the Union

Tuesday afternoon your reporter of the social side of life discovered that all of interest was taking place in the ballroom. Posing as a Stephens girl I was determined to see it from the other side. Beta Jack Stewart was dancing with Elaine Eide, composer of a song "Wouldn't You Know?" which was sung at the Coconut Grove.

Heard a beautiful blonde asking Phi Psi Ky Romans what day it was. Noticed how much fun Sig Chi Don Hartman was having with a certain red-head. Pi Phi Helen Kelly bemoaning the fact that she had urged Kappa Sig Harold Hopkins to take a date as the date turned out to be one of the smoothest girls that came. Which could express the feelings of most of the NU coeds who are glad the Stephens blitzkrieg didn't strike at night.

Bud Walker was all fixed up with a little blonde who sounded very much as tho she came from the deep and sunny south. Showing his Stephens protege the inside of the temporarily feminine-run rag office was Casanova Ralph Worden ATO. From all indications he was looking for something. Tell us Ralph, what was it?

Did you see the two Gamma Phis who got all dressed up as fellows, hoping to get a date? Maybe they lost their nerve, tho the people that saw Marryellen Robinson and Lougene Everson in the girl say that they looked mighty convincing.

Phi Psi Jack Zimmerer had a pre-arranged date with Pauline Van Horn sister of Tri Delt alum Betty Van Horn.

Nu news

comes full force from the Alpha Xi house. First of all congratulations for pledging Lois Bridenbaugh.

The girls say that Phi Gam Dean Mutzman is playing a losing hand in the affair with Twila Perrin. She has been ill these last few days and has been receiving letters and flowers from Morris Dingwell. He is the top man from now on.

Winning, not losing, is Rex Besire who is apparently going steady with Pat Watson, tho it is not officially affirmed as yet.

Kappa Sigma

announces the pledging of Warren Rounds, Blair; Gene Irick, Lincoln; Bud Carver, Taylor; Jim Wittstruck, Lincoln; and Raymond Meyer of Weeping Water. Congratulations from this corner.

Pins make news

"Red" Littler, the winged Mercury of the Nebraska track field, has hung his Phi Gam pin on Gamma Phi Betty Gibson. Already the clamour for sweets and smokes is threatening to dampen their ardor, very literally that is.

Betty Holtorf, D G, accepted the Sig Alph pin of Paul Brown in the surprising pinning of the spring.

That stardust

is the eyes of Theta Marion Jones was imported all the way from the east. When Houghton Furr, Beta of last year, came back to spend his vacation. This affair which had its ups and downs last year is all very smooth and will continue to stay that way from all rumors.

I will close with the question on the tongue of all the Nebraska girls. Why doesn't Harvard sponsor tours?

Faris speaks.

Dr. Ellsworth Faris, professor emeritus of sociology at the University of Chicago, addressed a public convocation following the dinner on "Toward a Science of Man."

"Unless we can learn the nature and conditions which produce crime, delinquency, suicide, racial and national conflicts, and . . . learn to understand all the problems of man well enough to analyze them and thus develop methods of preventing them, the future of mankind is appallingly dark ahead of us," stated Faris.

The speaker, nationally recognized as an authority in the fields of sociology and general social science, believes that a science of man is possible as well as necessary in the future.

All advances in science are fairly recent and modern, Dr. Faris explained in his talk. Thinking man is estimated to have existed for about 8,000 generations, civilization and alphabetical writing for about 100 generations, and modern science for only about 12 generations.

"There was as much magic and as great a belief and dependence upon it in the days of August Caesar as there is today in the depths of the Congo Rain Forest," stated Dr. Faris.

"Age of science."

"Even in the age of Shakespeare, modern as it is, antedates what may be rightly called the age of science. Ghosts and witches were so real to the people of that time that all during Shakespeare's life an average of four witches were executed in Scotland every week."

"We need to find out what those conditions are so that we may know what to do about these things. As we work in this direction," he concluded, "we come toward a science of man."

No. 5 signs up

Adolf Hitler added a fifth junior partner to the firm Berlin-Rome-Tokyo Tuesday as representatives of Yugoslavia signed a pledge of cooperation with the totalitarian powers.

Berlin officialdom called the pact an "answer to Roosevelt and Churchill," and boasted that Hitler had placed Europe's bloodiest corner under his wing without firing a shot.

The treaty was similar to the one signed by Rumania, but the Yugoslavs received promises of the Germans that her territorial integrity would be maintained. It will be remembered that immediately upon the signing of the Rumanian and Bulgarian treaties the Germans promptly moved in and made those two countries vast armed encampments.

The Yugoslav government seems to be taking considerable pride in the fact that it has gotten a promise that this performance will not be repeated. However, they seem to be overlooking the fact that those nations which start down the road of cooperation with the axis usually go farther than they originally intended.

Turks may balk

The Turks probably will not be such easy picking for the nazis. All along the Turks have maintained a belligerent anti-axis position. Further, this position has been strengthened from time to time by assurances of Russian friendship. The latest Russian pledge is that she will remain neutral if Turkey is attacked. This is particularly significant in that many believe that the Turks and the English can successfully resist the Germans in that area providing they don't have to fight the Russians as well.

Rats, mice, rabbits, guinea pigs, monkeys and chickens, totalling 2,000, are housed in air-conditioned laboratories in the Notre Dame biology building.
