

Junior-Senior quiz finalists meet Sunday

Two top teams will vie for cash prizes in Union ballroom at 8 p. m.

The final Junior-Senior Quiz will be held Sunday at 8 p. m. in the Union ballroom. At this time the winning junior team will compete against the winning senior team in answering ten questions.

The senior team is composed of Currin Shields, Emory Burnett and James Jezl. The junior team is made up of John Kerl, Grove Nelson and J. B. Johnson.

Each team will be given one minute to answer each of ten questions requiring knowledge in current events, facts, literature, art and music. Each member of the winning team will be rewarded with $5 and to each member of the losing $2.50 will be given.

The winning team will be interviewed on the Book Nook broadcast by Frank Egan a week from today. They will be asked questions about books and the one with the highest score will be given his choice of a book.

Ag students plan Farmers Fair activity

Big hats, gay shirts, and colorful dress of all kinds are making their first appearance on the campus, in anticipation of Farmers Fair May 3.

Plans are well under way for main attractions such as the rodeo, inter-sorority ride, indoor show parade, concessions and the other events that make the Farmers Fair interesting to the whole university.

Starting off the day will be a parade down "O" street to ag college. From then until evening there will be no dull moments. Farmers Fair dance in the evening winds up the day.

The following day everyone will appear for "clean-up." A week before the fair all ag students must wear overalls or gingham dresses and bandannas. Those who don't go into the horse tank.

LeRossignol gets request for book—free

Being the author of nationally acclaimed books brings Dean Le-Rossignol fan mail and with it strange and ludicrous requests.

For instance, he received a most unusual request recently from a gentleman in Philadelphia, who lamented the fact that the Philadelphia library did not have Le-Rossignol's book, "From Marx to Stalin." His request said, "Inasmuch as I don't have three dollars to purchase the book, will you therefore be kind enough to send me a copy of it gratis?"

Mr. LeRossignol did not send the book.

Union observes spring vacation by cleaning house

While all the students were gone home for Easter vacation the Union had its floors waxed, that is if you haven't broken your neck and found out by now.

The second floor corridors were painted and all the furniture was cleaned with a special soap.

Coeds in Kosmet Klub

Appearance of coeds in the spring Kosmet Klub production for the first time in 16 years will be a feature of the annual show when it opens Tuesday night in the Temple Theater.

Coeds who will participate in the Klub's show are, left to right—Margaret Poyer, Kay Tunison, Mary Frances Kier, Dorothy Weirich, Gay Gimple, Frances Haberman, and Marie Anderson.

Marie Anderson, assisted by Margaret Poyer, has charge of feminine costumes, and Frances Haberman is one of the principals. The others of the group are members of the chorus.

Convo speaker conducts Union forum on peace aims

Professor Robert B. Mowat, speaker at the convocation in the Temple this morning, will lead a forum in the faculty lounge of the Union today.

The topic to be discussed is "How Can Peace Come?" including peace aims of Britain and the axis. On the student panel assisting will be Maxine Cloidt, Mary McLaughlin, A. E. Adams, Olen Burnett and Adrian Foe.

Professor Mowat is in Lincoln speaking at the 29th annual meeting of the Nebraska History Teachers Association. Titles of his address here are: "The issue at Stake in the War," "The Strategy of War," his topic at the convocation this morning; "British-American Relations;" and "An Englishman Looks at the War."

Professor at Bristol. Mowat is visiting professor at Carnegie this semester. He is professor of history at the University of Bristol where he has taught since 1928, and internationally known as an educator and author.

In World War I he served in the Naval Intelligence Service and served in the Secretariat of the War Cabinet. In his 34 books Mowat has stressed diplomatic relations of England, European nations and the United States.

After the forum refreshments will be served to all students who attend.

Council committee makes final rules governing student elections

Acting with the power given them by the Student Council, the judiciary committee of the Council yesterday handed down the final rules to govern all school elections under their jurisdiction. These rules will go into effect for the general spring election Tuesday, and will be enforced by the elections committee.

The following interpretation is changed only slightly from the initial rules handed down by the committee and printed in the DAILY NEBRASKAN last week:

The judiciary committee of the Student Council agrees on the following definitions and interpretations of Article IV of the rules for student elections. This is done at the request of the faculty committee on student organizations and social functions.

Article IV. No vote shall be solicited at the polls or in the building in which election is being held during election day. No money shall be spent in behalf of any candidate. No printed, mimeographed, typed, or otherwise published material in behalf of any candidate shall be permitted except the impartial announcements of the candidates appearing in the press. Any candidate violating these rules either in person or thru his supporters shall thereby become ineligible.

"No vote shall be solicited" shall mean: No person eligible to vote for any candidate shall be influenced in any way at the polls or in the building in which the election is being held by means of the spoken or written word or any other means, to cast his or her vote for any particular candidate; nor shall any such person be influenced in any means to vote at all.

"At the polls or within the building in which the election is being held" shall mean: Any place within said building or within a distance of one hundred feet from any part of the building. Exception: Any regularly assigned offices on the third floor of the Student Union for Interfraternity Council and Barb Council. The

Marriage series opens Tuesday

--- sponsored by Mortar Boards, YW

Sponsoring a series of marriage conferences are the Mortar Board and YWCA. The meetings will be held every Tuesday in the Union which is being used to accommodate the group expected to attend. The first meeting will be held at 4 p. m. Tuesday in parlors XYZ.

Open to both men and women students, the meetings are designed to give those interested an opportunity to hear lectures on marriage. Since members of the Mortar Board and the YWCA staff felt that such a series of lectures was needed on this campus, they are beginning the group of meetings.

"Preparing for Marriage" is the topic to be discussed at the first meeting by Dr. W. E. Militzer of the chemistry department. This first lecture will include subjects such as picking a proper mate, how a person should make plans for marriage and when a person should marry.

The second meeting on the following Tuesday will have "Making a Success of Marriage" as its topic. The third will have "Can I Afford to Marry" as its topic and will be discussed by Margaret Liston of the home ec department.

The final meeting of the series will use "Religion in the Contemporary American Family" as its theme.

The idea for such a series of conferences was devised from a course on marriage and the family which is taught at Lindenwood college in Missouri. Dr. Paul Popenoe is the instructor of the course there. He spoke at a university convo here some time ago on the topic of marriage.

Two representatives of the university went to Lindenwood to obtain plans for such a course here. An outline of lectures and available material was gotten there and will be used here.

For students who are interested, books will be recommended at the meetings for those who wish to do more extensive reading and study on the matter.

SAM, ZBT, DU win third round debates

Fourth round of I-M tourney begins Tuesday

Competition in the intramural debate tournament was limited to three teams last night, as undefeated Delta Upsilon and Zeta Beta Tau won from Delta Theta Phi and Phi Delta Theta, respectively. Sigma Alpha Mu stayed in the running by beating Alpha Tau Omega.

Pairings for the fourth round pit Yale Gotsdiner and Robert Passer of Zeta Beta Tau against Art Riven and Harold Margulies of Sigma Alpha Mu, next Tuesday at 7 p. m., at the Beta house. The ZBT's will take the affirmative.

If unbeaten Zeta Beta Tau wins Tuesday, they will meet Delta Upsilon in the finals, as the DU's drew a bye for the fourth round and are yet unbeaten. If Sigma Alpha Mu is victorious, competition will continue. Protecting the DU's perfect record when they de-
