Cal rings up 89-42 victory in dual tilt

Speaking of prophets...

With "Red" Eugene Littler being beat out in his pet event in Berkeley yesterday afternoon, we can't help but remember what the wise old owl of the Herald sports world, Fred Ware, said in his column yesterday morn. In his last minute comments, Ware said, "Indeed, if Littler manages to out hurry the brilliant Grover Klemmer in the quarter mile it will be an upset."

"Grover has been able to polish himself outdoors pretty often while Red has been forced to do the best he could on the many-kap oval beneath the stadium. Klemmer was clocked last Monday in 47.4 seconds. Red has run even faster than that—but not this year. He won't be able to until he has drawn his vitamins directly from the sun for two weeks or so." The time of the race was 47 flat. Ware has another for his "I told you so" category.

Of screwy schedules...

The Huskers' gridiron schedule for this coming season is a wicked one from way back. A perfect schedule calls for home games on every other Saturday. But look at this one. The Cornhuskers will open at Iowa State, return to Lincoln for two games, then hit the road for three consecutive weekends at Missouri, Kansas State, and Minnesota. The heavy work comes in November. On consecutive weekends the Cornhuskers will meet Minnesota, Pittsburgh, Iowa and Oklahoma. Minnesota has a roster of veterans, Oklahoma is now considered the big threat and obstacle in the Big Six championship race.

The schedule is as follows:
Oct. 4, Iowa State at Ames;
Oct. 11, Kansas at Lincoln; Oct. 18, Indiana at Lincoln; Oct. 25, Missouri at Columbia. Nov. 1, Kansas State at Manhattan; Nov. 8, Minnesota at Minneapolis; Nov. 15, Pittsburgh at Lincoln; Nov. 22, Iowa at Lincoln, and Nov. 29, Oklahoma at Lincoln.
It gives the boys something to live up to.

sota 1634, and Wisconsin with 1589 finished by that order.

One of the most sought-for prizes was the best platoon award, won by Minnesota. Military officers watching the competition said that the exhibition of precision and polish was unusually outstanding. Judges had a hard time choosing individual winners but finally gave Jack Cooney of Minnesota second place and Clayton Stanley of South Dakota third behind Peters in the sophomore drill, and Charles Shedd of Iowa second and Burt Reinfranke of Minnesota third behind Stewart in the freshman compet.

Windup of the afternoon's competition was an inspection of the entire unit by Warren Day of Nebraska, national commander of the Pershing Rifles. A regimental review was cancelled for lack of room on the coliseum floor.

Milek toastmaster.
Captain William Milek, captain of the Nebraska company and general chairman for this year's regimental meet, the first held in Lincoln for four years, was toastmaster at the banquet. Short talks were made by commanders of all

KS nips Husker nine; other game postponed

Kansas State's diamond nine topped the Nebraska baseballers in the initial Big Six tilt for both teams Friday afternoon by a score of 5 to 7 when the Huskers' hurler, Ernie Swanson, weakened momentarily with two out in the sixth inning to permit four hits and a walk that accounted for three runs.

The second game, scheduled for yesterday afternoon, was rained out. According to present plans, the tilt will be played off later in the season. According to Big Six rulings, each session calls for two games to be played by the contesting teams.

UN golfers ready for Oklahoma

Nebraska's golf team teed off Thursday afternoon, April 17 at Lincoln Country club, and determined five qualifiers for the match with Oklahoma, April 26th. The five men who qualified over the 18 hole course and their scores are Jack Hyland, 79, Don Albin, 82; Byron Adams, 84, Edwin Lauf, 87, and Jack Weidman, 90.

Jack Weidman, the only returning letterman, was low qualifier at the fifth position as competition proved keen. However, each man can now challenge the man directly above him, and thus obtain a higher position if he wins. Coach Ed Newkirk was not worried over the surprisingly high scores carded by each man since the course was in poor condition. With the grass too long in the fairways and the greens too fast, the golfers were at a great disadvantage.

No predictions.
Newkirk withholds any predictions about the chances of this year's team. But with only one veteran returning great improvement will have to be shown by the new men for a winning team. Albin and Adams have shown improvement, and both should shoot consistently in the 70's. Jack Hyland has already shown that his scores too should run in the 70's. Four men will leave for Oklahoma some time Friday to compete with the Oklahoma team Saturday afternoon.

the companies and other Pershing Rifles dignitaries.

This year's drill meet was almost minus the Wisconsin delegation. Driving from Madison in an eight car convoy, the group barely missed a tornado in southern Wisconsin and had two accidents on the road. No one was hurt although the last accident in the rain near Marshalltown, Ia., was serious.

The company from Iowa drove to Lincoln in an eight car convoy with no trouble. The other schools chartered buses.

Pershing Rifles was organized as an honorary military fraternity for basic students by General John J. Pershing when he was commandant at the university, and since then it has become national in scope. Lincoln still is the national headquarters of the organization.

mound for the Aggies Friday afternoon. He hurled an 11-hit ball game for Kansas but kept the Husker blows well scattered. Final tabulations showed both teams had five errors during the game.

Although Nebraska was trailing by one run at the end of the sixth inning when Swanson was batted out of the box by the Kansas batsmen, he had permitted only five blows during the first part of the game and none since the second inning.

Hornsby, Kansas shortstop, drew first blood for the Aggies when he blasted a 2-1 pitch to deep center field for a home run. Swanson was the only Husker baseballer to take a trip around the plate. His tally came in the fourth inning.

Held in field.
In this game, Sid Held, last year's letterman who saw a lot of action on the mound, held down the right field position. This change came after the double defeats of last weekend when the Husker team went down seriously on two consecutive days before the Big Seven champs, the University of Colorado. Held plays either of the two places.

By Susan Shaw

I wandered into the WAA office the other day to get an idea from Ruth Mathers as to what I should write for this column. The deal was Old Jupiter Pluvius had interfered with baseball and tennis intramurals which left me with little less than nothing to discuss.

Taking her suggestion of discovering where all the honky-tonk music was coming from, I sneaked into the dance studio to find the finale of Orchesis' impression of a first class joint in full swing. The last girl had hardly made her exit before every girl was back on the stage rehearsing a particularly rough spot which had stymied her during the dance.

Amid the din of graceful jumps and falls, I spotted Betty Groth practicing her solo part in one of the numbers. Such precision and control as she demonstrated convinced me that I wasn't going to miss the Orchesis recital which comes up May 2.

The University of Nebraska Husker trackmen went up against one of the nation's top track and field squads yesterday in the golden sunshine of California and came out on the short end of the fracas. The Bruins of the University of California at Berkeley decisively downed the Scarlet and Cream men with the final tally reading 89 to 42.

High point man for the Huskers was Bill Smutz. The stride and jump boy copped first place in the 120 high hurdle race and came in under the tape in second spot in the 220 low hurdle event. Smutz entered the broad jump and came thru to win third in that particular event.

Eugene "Red" Littler came in second in his pet event, behind California's champion Klemmer. Klemmer covered the 440 yards in 47 seconds flat. This time represented a speed that Littler was not expected to come up to. Klemmer has had the advantage of outdoor training and experience in Issues.

Candidates to be elected at the annual spring election Tuesday include Ivy Day Orator, Student Council representatives, Ag Executive Board, Barb Council, WAA Ag Council, and members of the Publications Board. Issues to be settled include universal subscription to the DAILY and an amendment to the Student Council constitution.

Polls in Union.
Held in the Union on the city campus and in ag hall on ag campus, polls will be opened at 8 a. m. and will close from 10 to 12 a. m. for the Honors Convocation, but will reopen at noon. City campus polls close at 8 p. m. and ag campus polls close at 5:30 p. m.

"The ruling made last fall that identification cards can not be taken up and used by persons other than their owner will be strictly enforced," stated Burton Thiel, co-chairman of the elections committee.

Full lists of candidates and wording of the proposed Student Council constitution change appear on page 8 of today's DAILY. Explanation of the universal subscription plan is inserted in the issue.

four out-of-door meets this year. Littler won the 220 yard dash.

Making a distinctive mark for Nebraska was Bob Ginn in the mile run. Bob copped this event when he covered the distance in 4:11.1. This represents one of the faster runs in collegiate competition. According to reports, the Husker distance man paced the field to the tape.

The Husker team, according to most authorities, went into the meet under two different handicaps. Their practice sessions this spring have been held indoors due to the inclement Nebraska weather. The Bruins, on the other hand, had the advantage of many outdoor practices. In the field of competition, the UN squad has had one meet, that of last Tuesday, when they came out on top in a four way tussle with teams from the three Utah colleges in Salt Lake City, California, on this score, has had four outdoor competitions already this year.

The summaries are as follows:

- One mile run: Won by Bob Ginn, Nebraska; second, Dick Peter, California; third, Shirley Summers, California. Time 4:10 1/10.
