is the coming attraction this week as the campus routine is broken with a mid-week celebration which features the music of a top notch dance band, the presentation of Nebraska's beauties and the complete transformation of the coliseum as the Grill will be moved to the stage while soft lights will create a party atmosphere in place of the usual garish lighting system. Several of the fraternities are showing their school spirit as they voluntarily promise 100 percent attendance. A few pre-view dating combinations which will be seen include that very new combination of Alpha Phi Janet Ralston, and Tau Mark Hargrave. DU "Hap" Brainard will be there with DeeGee Jean Donley.

Romances and such bring us to the fact that Alpha Phi Dot Griswold is now wearing the Alpha Sig pin of activity man John Gayer.

Chio Yvonne Costello and SAE Vike Francis announced their engagement. While Theta Alice Anderson and Sigma Chi Corwin Moore tied the nuptial knot yesterday in a lovely church wedding.

A counter rumor comes to us about Ruth Grosvenor whose plans include an eastern jaunt to school next year but the man in question hails from Nebraska and is doing his military turn in Little Rock.

There is a report around that AOPi "Bunny" Chapline is wearing the Kappa Sig pin of Jack Clarke. The first time that this happened in public was at the Kappa Sig sweetheart dinner Sunday, but some say that she has had it for quite some time.

People are still talking about the Kosmet Klub show and the cracks which flew between DG Betty Newman and Sig Chi Bob McNutt about the relative merits of their two houses. Some of these carried over the footlights and caused front rowers like Jackie Gladney and Jack Peck to enjoy the show a lot more.

When the Betas go to the Turnpike it's news, for these boys are notorious for their non attendance. The reason for their enthusiastic turn out this weekend was the fact that the band leader was one of the clan. Theta Becky Wait and George Souders, Kappa June Jamison and "Piker" Davis were among the group of steady daters who entertained the maestro at a table during intermission.

Doing their Sunday night dancing at the same place were Phi Delt Nick Duvas and Theta Betty Mae Klopp. Reunited Virginia Bergsten and Phi Gam Frank White were there which makes us wonder just how Bill Dafoe fits into the picture.

Petty Picture

drew a crowd in the Union. People like Alpha Phi Alice Becker and Sigma Chi Tom Luhe and Josephine Gold and Stan Klien paused to look and comment on their way into the grill. This is just one of the eleven life sized drawings which will be in the coliseum for the Cornhusker Union party Wednesday.

part. Although the too-long music threatened to become monotonous, her singing, along with that of the other principals, drove the threat away.

Singers receive curtain calls.

For students, Genzlinger's and Miss Michael's brief numbers were very pleasing. The women's chorus harmonized beautifully, and the men's chorus, on the whole, was fairly good. All members of the show received numerous curtain calls.

Deserving special notice was the orchestra, directed by Mr. Don Lentz. Its accompaniment left nothing to be desired by the audience. When the orchestra combined with the chorus the effect was very impressive.

Association of scientists to meet on campus Friday

Everything from color spray for apples to staining qualities of bovine spermatozoa will be discussed in the annual meeting of the Nebraska Academy of Science in Lincoln this week end. More than 200 are expected to attend the gatherings on Friday and Saturday.

M. P. Brunig, assistant professor of agricultural engineering, is president of the organization. The gatherings open Friday morning with registration in Morrill. There will be sectional meetings throughout the day with the annual banquet in the evening at the University club. V. Calvin McKim, retiring president of Chadron State Teachers college, will speak. W. A. Elkins of Minneapolis will address the general session later in the evening in Morrill.

Saturday's meetings will be largely sectional affairs. O. R. Sweeney of Iowa State college addresses the joint session of the chemistry, biology and earth science groups in Morrill at 11 a. m.

Exhibits on display.

Among the exhibits on display during the week will be a group of old biological books arranged by T. J. Fitzpatrick. The exhibit will be centrally located on the first floor of Morrill. An exhibit on lessons from nature on diet problems by E. A. Thomas of Hastings will be located in room 122, Bessey hall.
