

Kampus Kaperings

with Mary Adelaide Hansen

The Taus

just about got drowned out and washed away on their picnic at Linoma Sunday. But a good time was had by all, especially by Paul Miller, who cracked the jack-pot in the slot-machine. Theta Toni McQuistan was with Tom Miller, while Rube Jensen took Gamma Phi Lougene Everson instead of Martha Bengtson, with whom he's been seen quite a bit lately.

Another pin

has changed sweaters, and this time it's the Phi Psi shield of Bob Milder; Tri Delt Mary Martin Tunks being the proud wearer since Sunday night.

Alpha Xi Delta

alum Fern Steuteville stopped off this week-end, and probably displayed a new diamond given her by Jack Wilson, with whom she went last year. Jack was just graduated from Kelly Field.

The Fiji's

entertained last night at a fancy dinner in honor of Paul Reddy. Paul not only skipped off to get married last week, but he's also leaving right away for New York and thence to Panam. Canal Zone.

The DU's

have thrown their hats in the big political ring now. Forsaking campus politics, they're now sporting a huge double sign urging passers-by to support one of their alumnus who's running in the city campaign this week.

The Sig Alph's

really threw an elegant dinner dance at the University Club last Saturday. Favors were crested jewel boxes with watches set in the lid. Surprises among the couples attending were three Kappa's. Ann Craft, who's going steady with Beta Peyton Pratt, went with old friend SAE Bruce Duncan, who's been working in Ann's home town. Dunc also brought along his roommate, a Beta at Knox, and Shird Hoffman went with him—Phi Psi Bob Rydman having gone out of town. To complete the trio of Kappa's, Ruth Haney was there too, but not with Sigma Nu Stan Truhlsen, with whom she's supposed to be going steady.

Speaking of the Kappa's

they really celebrated the lifting of that unfortunate ban on their social privileges, and threw a plenty smooth banquet out at the Country club.

Everyone's getting set for a big week-end, what with the Triad on Friday and Jimmie Lunceford and the Sigma Nu "Gold Rush" party on Saturday. Speaking of Triad, chagrined was no word for Beta alum Ross Alexander who blew in from Fort Leavenworth with his date and another couple last Saturday evening. The gals were all dressed up in formals and everything. Ross, not having heard of the changed date, was pretty unhappy over the whole mix-up.

Big breakup of the spring is that of Pi Phi Georgia Walker and Beta Stan Huffman, he of the matching car and hair. They're no longer pinned, and the word is that it's all definite and final. By the way, did you see Stan's car on the Beta side porch the other day?

Delta Gamma

Joan Beltzer dashed off to Salt Lake City this last week to a province convention.

Alpha Chi's

formally pledged Dorothy Filley and Carlene Hohensee last night. Congratulations!

... SAM meets undefeated DU's ... in I-F debate

Interfraternity debate competition nears its climax tonight as Sigma Alpha Mu, conquerors last week of Zeta Beta Tau, meet the only team yet unbeaten in the tournament, Delta Upsilon. A victory for the DU's would eliminate Sigma Alpha Mu and bring Delta Upsilon into the finals with Zeta Beta Tau, in which one defeat for the ZBT's or two defeats for the DU's would end competition.

Should Sigma Alpha Mu win tonight each team will have one loss, and any team may thereafter be eliminated by losing one contest.

Should Sigma Alpha Mu win tonight, each team will have one loss, and two more debates will be required to determine the winner. If SAM is victor, sixth round of the tournament may be held Thursday of this week, H. A. White, debate coach, announced.

The contest tonight will be held in the chapter house of the affirmative team, Sigma Alpha Mu. Defending the statement, "Resolved: That the English speaking nations should make a formal alliance for their common interest and protection," will be Art Riven and Harold Margulies. Representing the negative will be Robert Chambers and Bud Johnson of Delta Upsilon.
