

Faculty Memorial

A Memorial to the President and Vice President of the United States, the Speaker of the House, the Secretary of State, and to the Senators and Representatives from Nebraska:

We the undersigned, citizens of the Republic and members of the various faculties of the University of Nebraska, do for ourselves in our individual capacities affirm with the utmost seriousness that the present months are critical in the world conflict between the Axis powers and those peoples who would remain free. We believe that the cost in blood and sacrifice of every kind entailed by securing an Axis defeat in Europe and Asia will be many times less than the cost we shall be compelled to pay after an Axis victory in the Old World, in order to defend ourselves in the New.

We believe, moreover, that the British Empire with its navy is the first bastion of democracy, and that her victory and that of her Allies over the dictatorships is absolutely necessary both for the preservation of our national safety and the perpetuation of our democratic institutions.

Because we believe furthermore, that the greatest speed in action is necessary, we urge you to use at once the influence of your high position of trust and responsibility to insure:

1. That the material aid going from our country to the Allied peoples at war with the Axis reach their lands. To do this every means at the disposal of our nation should be used, not necessarily short of war.

2. That more and more aid be extended in the shortest possible time to these Allies, and that to make this possible our military and industrial defense program take precedence over any other interest or activity of the American people.

Annual 'Girls State' meets on campus

 Participants will hold sessions in Morrill

Two hundred high school girls, four from each Nebraska unicameral district, will gather on the city campus June 9 to 14 to set up the third annual Cornhusker Girls' State.

Sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary of Nebraska, the Girls' State is an effort to bring to participants a knowledge of the fundamental principles of American government through actual practice in a kind of laboratory of practical political science. All state offices from the governor on down will be duplicated in this "49th state" with elections, legislative proceedings, court and government sessions carried on during the period by the girls.

Sessions in Morrill.

General sessions of the program will be held in Morrill. Girls will be housed in several campus sorority houses and will eat their meals in the Union. All participants are juniors in high school and were selected by sponsoring local organizations on a basis of leadership. These sponsors include women's, church, business, and social clubs, as well as town boards and American Legion posts.

Although the Girls' States is to be primarily a place for instruction, time for recreation will be provided in special evening programs, folk dancing, group singing, and visits to interesting places about the campus and city. Visitors will be welcome to attend any sessions of the state including the inauguration of officials June 11 and closing ceremonies June 14.

Officers this year.

Staff of the Girls' State this year includes Mrs. J. A. Kucera, Clarkston, president; Mrs. J. Brier-ton Townsend, Lincoln, vice-president; Mrs. Luther D. Johnson, Valley, vice president; Mrs. W. J. McVicker, Lincoln, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. E. L. Wilbur, Lincoln, educational director; Mrs. J. Arthur Danielson, Lincoln, recreational director; Dr. Mary Bitner, Fullerton, medical director; and Mrs. W. M. Folger, Lincoln, publicity director.

Mrs. John Bosch of Omaha, Nebraska department president of the American Legion Auxiliary, will be the official Girls' State hostess, while in the advisory committee are Mrs. O. W. Hahn of Omaha, Mrs. F. W. Messmore of Lincoln, and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen of Ord. Mrs. Dwight Griswold is chairman of patronesses. Instructors in government will be attorneys, educators, public officials and others who are specialists in their fields.

ZBT's, SAM's meet Tuesday in debate finals

Finals of the university interfraternity debate tournament will be held Tuesday night in the Sigma Alpha Mu chapter house, with the SAM's taking the affirmative against Zeta Beta Tau, H. A. White, debate coach, announced yesterday. Debate will be at 7 p. m.

Sigma Alpha Mu scored a victory over the ZBT's in their first meeting, taking the negative side. The two teams switch sides in the finals. Subject for debate is "Resolved: That the English speaking nations should make a formal alliance for their common interest and protection."

Yale Gotsdiner and Robert Passer of Zeta Beta Tau advanced into the finals by virtue of a victory over Delta Upsilon's team in the semi-final round last Thursday night. Debating for Delta Upsilon are Robert Chambers and Bud Johnson. The ZBT's had previously won three debates and lost one.

Art Riven and Harold Margulies of Sigma Alpha Mu earned a place in the finals by successive victories over Alpha Tau Omega, Zeta Beta Tau, and Delta Upsilon, after losing to the DU's in an earlier round. Sigma Alpha Mu is the only team to have beaten Zeta Beta Tau. The ZBT's have also won from Delta Upsilon and Alpha Tau Omega.

Judges in the finals will be men who have had debating experience.

CBS premieres Ford Summer Hour today

Meredith Wilson, conductor of the orchestra; Broadway Star Jane Pickens, one of the famed Pickens Sisters; and a surprise star, Gordon Gifford, brilliant young baritone, complete the lineup for the premiere of the Ford Summer Hour over CBS tonight at 7 p. m.

The baritone soloist Gifford is a new find this year in the radio field, and was signed for his Summer Hour appearance after a recent audition which impressed the program's producers. Wilson, noted for his interpretation of popular music, has been established as the originator of the chiffon style of jazz and has won the attention of the musical world for his work in serious music.

One of the numbers to be sung by Jane Pickens, who made a name for herself on Broadway in Ed Wynn's musical comedy, is "Liebestraum" in symphonic swing by Liszt. She will be joined by Gifford on this number. Her first solo will be "You Walk By."

'Masculine school,' $500,000 donor

HANOVER, N. H. (ACP). A man who never went to Dartmouth has given the college $500,000 because he believes it a "wholly masculine institution."

Emil Brommer, Brooklyn, N. Y., manufacturer, specified in his will that the funds may not be used for the "so-called dead languages" or for maintenance of competitive athletics.

Publication filings close Tuesday

Only two more days remain before the filings for positions on the DAILY NEBRASKAN, the Cornhusker and the Awgwan Flash must be made at the journalism office in University hall.

More positions are open on the DAILY than the other publications. Filings are being received for editor, two managing editors, five news editors, and a sports editor in the editorial department. Positions open in the business department are business manager and two assistant business managers.

Positions to be filled on the Cornhusker include editor, business manager, two assistant business managers and two managing editors.

Only the editor and business manager applications are being filed on the Awgwan Flash staff.

New magazine offers outlet for literary-minded students

. . . appears in September

With the belief that college students should be allowed an opportunity to express their opinions in writing, the International Student service is planning to sponsor a new type of magazine, designed to tap the whole field of student talent. The first issue will appear in September.

Written and edited by students, undergraduates and graduate, the magazine will be open to a diversity of viewpoints, and no heretic will be barred.

To appear six times a year, its contents will include topical journalistic articles on student affairs and contemporary events, scholarly pieces on the social sciences, philosophy and the arts, fiction, poetry, reviews of the various arts, and photographs of works in painting, sculpture and theatrical designing.

Justifying the publication of the new magazine, the International Student service states that there is no magazine today which comprehends the wide field of student talent.

It is hoped that the magazine will breach the gap between college publications and commercial magazines.

Student writers will receive the advantage of having their work presented to a national audience of university people and interested individuals in the outside community. The magazine will be circulated through college bookstores, libraries and individual classrooms.

The magazine will also reprint good material appearing in college newspapers, and will print theses and term papers.

Hiskey accepts Pennsylvania professorship

Marshall S. Hiskey, instructor in the department of educational psychology and measurements, has accepted an appointment as professor of educational psychology and director of the college clinics at Pennsylvania State Teachers College at Edinboro, Pa. He received his PhD degree in educational psychology here last year.

Taking up his new duties in September, Dr. Hiskey will act as freshman adviser, conducting entrance tests and counseling with freshmen throughout the year. The college clinics include a psychological clinic, reading clinic, and speech clinic. They serve not only the college students but the public schools in five counties adjacent to the Edinboro institution.

Despite crisis, Flash finally makes stands

Despite the international situation, the African riubarb crop, and all the other excuses that the Awgwan Flash heads have found for the delay in the distribution of this month's issue, the Flash finally came out this morning.

Only organized houses received the magazines this morning and newsstand sales will begin tomorrow morning, Ed Wittenberg, business manager, announced.

Jokes and gore dominate this month's issue, although there are a couple pictorial feature sections. One showed Maxine Fuller preparing for the Union party; another followed the actions of Walt Runda in solving the Flash photo crime.

New fashions, a double spread of cartoons, the editor's Flashes in the Pan, and behind the scenes at the Kosmet Klub show and the Kappa Sigma house party complete this month's issue.

The picture on the front cover resembled two soldiers and a tank. George Frischer, editor, said it has something to do with the international situation.

Architectural group elects Smith vice prexy

Prof. Linus Burr Smith, chairman of the architecture department, was elected vice president of the Association for the Advancement of Architectural Education at the national meeting of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture in Chicago, May 12.
