

Around and About

By J. Miller

HERE WE ARE, another summer school full of romance and gaiety. There will be many excursions to South Bend, Omaha, the Turnpike, Beach, and pleasure spots around Lincoln. We shall do our best to keep you well informed as to what is taking place and why. All who wish to do a little informing please stop in at the Daily office. Some people will not appreciate this but, the intelligent people will recognize the literary value of this column.

DRIVING UP to Omaha nearly every weekend to see Pi Phi Maxine Fuller, beauty queen, is that Kappa Sig man about town Bob Sinkey. It seems that Bob wants to get a head start on the rest of the boys next fall. We sincerely hope that Bob doesn't get swick. WHOA! Ray Trienan who is supposedly pinned to Frankie Haberman, Alpha Chi, was taking in the Student Union dance last Friday night with a mighty strange looking lass. Who is going to answer for that?

TIGER JAWN Mason ATO, general big shot, inc., has been giving Kappa Marie Anderson the treat. Summer school is a wonderful time to bring four years of college romances to a thrilling climax. I wonder if John ever checks her in the check stand. Hi! Ho! Sliver. Who will Kappa Sig Jimmy Evinger hang his pin on this year. Last year one got away from him and he almost had to make a trip to Central City to get it back.

HARRY PITCAITHLY, '40, coach at Geneva last term, is going to get away from it all and go to medical school in Omaha next fall. Good luck, Harry. Speaking of Omaha, one Margaret Remington of Kearney State Teachers last year, is here getting ready for the University hospital next fall.

PAT PRIME, red headed Alpha Phi, is spending her vacation in Florida. Looks like there will be an authorized government airplane flight Puerto Rico to Florida about the time Pat arrives. And Pat has Bob Hageman's Kappa Sig pin. Tch! Tch!

NOW FOR A PEP talk. We must keep up the reputation of this co-educational institution. You boys and girls are going to have to start mixing it up for there are entirely too many stags in the grill. Let's show a little fire and do a little dating or this column will go to pot.

to become general counsel of the Midwest Refining Co. and then became director and vice president. When this company came under the control of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, he became a director and vice president of the latter company at Chicago in 1923. In 1926 he returned to Denver as president of his original corporation. During this period he was also director of many associated companies and was engaged in many federal and state investigations of the oil industry.

Taught at Hopkins.

In 1928 he discontinued all business connections and undertook graduate work in political economy and political science at the Johns Hopkins university where he received his doctor's degree with Phi Beta Kappa honors in 1931. He then became professor of economics at the University of Denver and in 1934 he joined the University of Nebraska faculty in the same capacity. In 1937 he returned to the University of Denver as a lecturer in economics.

Professor of psychology and ethics at Ohio university from 1892 to 1894, Dean Le Rossignol became professor of economics at the University of Denver in 1894. In 1911 he joined the faculty of the University of Nebraska and from 1913 to 1919 was director of the school of commerce. In 1919 he helped establish the College of Business Administration and became its dean.

Sing patriotic songs.

A flag demonstration was held under the direction of Mrs. J. Brierton Townsend, Americanism chairman of the Auxiliary, and assisted by John Andresen, Irving Dana, jr., Wesley Jespersen, Joan Kautz, and Frances Gunderson.

Billette Trombla of Lincoln presented a military tap, and the program closed with the audience singing "God Bless America." The assembly was arranged by Mrs. Townsend as vice president of Girls' State. Accompanist for the dance numbers was Mrs. O. D. Trombla, and Mrs. R. D. Stage

Songfellows give concert Wednesday

The Songfellows, popular male quartet of radio station WHO at Des Moines, will appear on a summer school sponsored concert Wednesday, at 8 p. m. in the Union ballroom. There is no admission charge. The quartet will present as a special feature a medley of their radio arrangements.

Starting out during their university careers at Illinois Wesleyan, the quartet became a favorite request for programs in that territory doing occasional broadcasts for the Chicago stations, WNAQ and WBBN. They have made many recordings and joined the staff of WHO after their graduation three years ago.

Stuart Steelman, Richard Black, Harris White, and Keith Booth make up the quartet. They will be accompanied by William Austin. All were former students of Dr. A. E. Westbrook, now director of the university of school of fine arts.

Music student gets summerscholarship

Betty Jean Horner, sophomore music student in the University of Nebraska Teacher's College, has received a summer work scholarship to the Bennington, Vt., school of the arts this year. She will spend July and August at the school studying composition for the dance under Norman Lloyd and Louis Horst of that institution.

Miss Horner has accompanied the Orchestis dance group at the university for the last two years and made most of the arrangements for the recent spring Orchestis recital. In addition to her study at Bennington this summer, she will play for various dance groups there.
