

Pep groups lead frosh campus tours

New students, escorted by Tassels, Corn Cobs to inspect uni buildings

Opening event of a year of pep group activity will be the annual freshmen tours of the campus Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday which will be sponsored by Corn Cobs and Tassels, the two university pep organizations.

Beginning Monday at 8:30 a. m., the tours will get under way at the Temple theatre. The library, stadium, coliseum and union are (See TOURS, page 4.)

Tryouts begin Monday for UN cheer leaders

All men with sophomore standing interested in trying out for a cheer leader position this year should attend the first meeting to be held in the office of the Daily Nebraskan Monday, Sept. 15, at 3 p. m. The meeting will be directed by Paul Svoboda with Jack Stewart and Ed Calhoun assisting him as judges during the tryouts.

Experience will not be necessary for these tryouts, and at least eight men will be selected. There will be further tryouts on the following Tuesday and Wednesday.

Union 'Howdy' campaign begins Monday

"Howdy" 6,000 times to every student on the campus is the aim of the union from Sept. 15 to 20 when the new "Howdy" badges start their campaign of friendliness.

Conceived by George Gostas of '41, who headed the union board of managers last year, the idea appealed not only to the union die-hard (See BADGES, page 4.)

Registration begins in coliseum, social sciences Monday

First day of the three-day registration period begins Monday when 1800 freshmen will pick their classes at meetings with their advisers in the coliseum, and upperclassmen will either accept or change their registration of last May. Upperclassmen will pick up copies of their pre-registration in social sciences 311.

Frosh will take Husker oath next Thursday

Formal welcome to all new students at the university will be extended at the freshman convocation to be held Thursday, Sept. 18, at 4 p. m. in the coliseum. Chancellor Boucher and Major "Biff" Jones will both speak briefly, and the climax of the convocation will be the administration of the Cornhusker oath.

The dean of women, the dean of men, all Innocents and Mortar Boards and members of the Corn-cobs and Tassels will be present.

Changes in the registration of last May can be made by presenting a carbon copy of that registration, together with a "drop and add slip" signed by the adviser, to the assignment committee. Complete changes are to be made by the student's re-registering and writing "re-registration" on the left hand margin of the carbon copy. A. R. Condon of the assignment committee announced.

Two-Fifths Rule Prevails.

Whenever such classes are available, the "two-fifths rule," or equal distribution of classes throughout the week, will be observed. The alphabetical arrangement (See REGISTRATION, page 2.)

"Bombers" on sale as...

Barb council plans extensive social activity for semester

... with first dance Saturday

Concentrating its energies on social activities this year, barb council announced Saturday that it has planned the "biggest and finest social program ever undertaken for unaffiliated students," in connection with which "barb bombers," barb activity cards, go on sale Monday.

Concentrating its energies on social activities this year, barb council announced Saturday that it has planned the "biggest and finest social program ever undertaken for unaffiliated students," in connection with which "barb bombers," barb activity cards, go on sale Monday.

Selling for two prices, a barb bomber bought for 50 cents entitles the holder to admission to the dances, while one costing $1.50 is also good for a year's subscription to the Daily Nebraskan.

Six of these cards will be given away at a free matinee dance Wednesday sponsored by the barb council.

First dance Saturday.

Three big dances at the student union are planned for the fall season, it was explained. Hank Matison will play for the first one next Saturday night at 9 when a Mexican theme will be carried out in the decorations. Other dances are on Oct. 25 and Nov. 22.

"Pigskin dances" will be held after each football game, lasting from five until six p. m.

At the BABW open house held in 307 of the union, barb bomber cards will be explained and sold all this week, from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. In social sciences the activity cards will be sold during registration, Monday through Wednesday.

It's red caps for all freshmen this year

Innocents will sell caps to men, beanies to women...

"Beanies," in symbolic scarlet and cream, will be the fashion fad of the campus following registration week, when, for the first time in the history of the university, freshmen women will be wearing the colorful little caps to distinguish their collegiate rank.

Sale of the beanies is being initiated by Innocents society, and according to president, Burton Thiel, the purpose of the sale is "to add color to the campus and to foster class spirit among freshmen." Beanies will be sold outside the coliseum during registration for 50 cents.

Each freshman woman will receive in return for her money a card which will entitle her to claim her beanie at Ben Simon and Sons. An announcement as to the date for the distribution of the caps will follow in a later issue of the Daily.

Red caps for men, too

As in former years, all freshmen men will also wear freshmen visor caps, and, as tradition dictates, they will wear them until the annual tug-o-war between freshmen and sophomores. If the freshmen are victorious, they may stop wearing the caps, but if the sophomores win, frosh must continue wearing the caps until the first snowfall on the campus. A new feature of this year's tug-o-war will be the selections of teams so that the sides will be more even than formerly.

Cornhusker position open

To fill the vacancy caused when the business manager of the Cornhusker was ruled overpointed last spring, the publications board has set Wednesday as the deadline for filings for the position.

"The board will probably meet late next week to interview candidates," Harold Hamill, director of the school of journalism, and chairman of the board, said.

Filing blanks may be obtained at the office of the school of journalism, university hall.

Counselors meet Sunday

All members of coed counselors will meet Sunday at 3 p. m. in Ellen Smith according to an announcement made yesterday by Harriet Talbot, president.

A special meeting of the executive board of the organization will be held in Ellen Smith Sunday at 2 p. m. Both meetings were originally announced for Monday.

Chancellor's reception largest on record

Almost 1,500 freshmen shook hands with Chancellor and Mrs. C. S. Boucher, then took part in the games, dancing and movies arranged by union directors as campus social activity for the semester was inaugurated Friday night at the union with the annual chancellor's reception for new students.

With crowds of freshmen exploring the union throughout the evening, Pat Lahr, union social director, stated that the 1941 reception was the largest ever staged.

While Myron Roberts played the organ in the union lounge, members of Innocents and Mortar Board, senior honoraries and the student council met freshmen, escorted them to the receiving line and served as general aides for the evening.

Ellsworth F. DuTeau, secretary of the alumni association, acted as marshal and introduced students to members of the receiving line. In the line besides the chancellor and Mrs. Boucher were Dean and Mrs. N. A. Bengtson, Dean and Mrs. T. J. Thompson, and Mrs. Verna Boyles.

charge of the dining room where refreshments were served. Each of the two serving tables was decorated with a large red N with red and white flowers at the base.

Serving from 8 to 9 o'clock were Mrs. E. S. Fullbrook, Mrs. K. O. Broady, Elizabeth Tierney and Mrs. T. T. Bullock. Greeting students at the door were C. W. Scott of teachers college and Mrs. Scott. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. J. R. Wadsworth, Mabel Lee and Esther Anderson.

From 9 to 10 o'clock, Mrs. C. C. Wiggins, Mrs. Harriet Platt, Mrs. Albert Pugsley and Mary Mielenz served. At the door were O. H. Werner of teachers college and Mrs. Werner. Assisting were Gertrude Knie, Marcella Mason, Caroline Ruby and Ruth Staples.

There was dancing in the ballroom during the evening and movies in another room. Recorded music on the Carnegie set was presented in the music room, and the game rooms were also open.

Student members of the union board and members of the union staff were on hand to conduct tours of the building for those who wished them.
