

UN Activities Set College Tempo

Student life at Nebraska is not all classroom and books. A wide variety of activities, social affairs and recreation is offered on the campus for all students. While participation in some may be limited, most are open to all students. If you are interested in extra curricular activity, you will probably contact members of these groups before long.

Innocents Top UN Honoraries

Innocents society, made up of 13 junior men who are tapped on Ivy Day, is the highest honor an undergraduate Nebraska man can attain. The red-robed members of this honorary society are chosen by the outgoing members during the annual spring festivities.

This group sponsors various campaigns such as the homecoming celebrations, the sale of freshman caps and the freshman convocation and the selection of cheer leaders. The group also sponsors the Junior-Senior prom.

Mortar Boards Lead Activities

Mortar Board is the senior women's honorary which gives recognition for work in activities of the campus. The organization, formed on this campus in 1905, was known as "Black Masque" and became nationally affiliated in 1921. Members are chosen their junior year and are masked at the Ivy Day festivities.

Watch the Guy Behind the Guy In Front of You

"With cooperation of students, both drivers and pedestrians, we can maintain our splendid record of no fatalities or serious accidents on this campus," said Sgt. Regler, campus cop for 14 years.

Because most students are Lincoln residents nine months of the year, it is necessary that they comply with city traffic regulations. If Lincoln's 161 deathless day period is to be extended, it must be remembered that the pedestrian has the right of way; that 18 miles per hour is the speed limit on state property; and that stop signs are to be obeyed. Thumbing rides is strictly against traffic ordinances.

AWS Holds Court for Coeds

Associated Women Students is an organization of all women students on the campus. Administration is divided into three divisions: the executive board of 14 members elected by women students; the legislative body composed of the presidents of all organized houses; and the judicial department, called the AWS court which tries all violations of the AWS rules. It also enforces the point system for women's activities.

AWS sponsors the Intersorority sing, brings vocational guidance leaders to the campus, and gives an activities tea. The work of the group is financed by the "N" stamp sale, Ivy Day tea dance, and the Coed Follies.

Officers are Ben Alice Day, president; Jeanette Mickey, vice president; Ann Craft, secretary; and Lois Christie, treasurer.

Kosmet Klub Presents Comedy

Kosmet Klub, men's dramatic society, was founded in 1911. The Klub, which limits its membership to 15, sponsors a fall show which is comprised of the best original skits by sororities, fraternities and organized houses. At this show the Nebraska Sweetheart, who is elected by secret ballot, is presented along with the "Prince Kosmet."

The spring show, usually a musical comedy with an all male cast, was presented with women taking parts and dancing in the chorus last year. A contest is sponsored for the best play and musical score and the winners receive prizes.

To the best singers in the interfraternity singing contest on Ivy Day morning, the Klub gives an award cup. The Klub also sponsors a scholarship fund.

Each year the Klub has its workers from which the new members are chosen. Enough workers are selected to replace the graduating seniors.

Tassels Serve On All Occasions

Accepted as a sister group to the "Cobs" are the Tassels, women's pep organization. In their colorful red and white sweaters and skirts, this group cooperates with other organizations. They usher at university concerts and convocations in the coliseum. Every year a pep queen is chosen at the party sponsored by the Corn Cobs and Tassels.

A member of the national pep organization, Phi Sigma Chi, Tassels must have an 80 average to be initiated. Representatives from either affiliated or barb groups may apply for membership. President for the 1941-42 year is Jean Humphrey.

Students Get Credit for Effort

Phi Beta Kappa, founded at William and Mary college in 1776 has for its object the promotion of scholarship among students. The chapter at Nebraska was founded in 1896.

earlier than March 5 and announcements of names of those elected is made at a convocation preceding spring vacation. The chapter elects from one-tenth to one-sixth of those eligible whose scholarship average is highest.

Sigma Xi which was organized at Cornell in 1886 encourages investigation in the sciences. Both faculty members and students who have shown unusual skill in scientific work are eligible for membership. Elections are held the second semester of each year.

Alpha Lambda Delta recognizes scholastic achievement among the freshmen women. An average of 90 or above during the first semester is required for membership.

Corn Cobs Act As UN Pep Group

Corn Cobs, men's pep club, chooses 16 men each year from a large group of pledges which work all year toward membership in the organization. Every man on the campus may try for membership, and final selection is based on the amount of work done.

This group co-operates with the drives of other campus organizations and publications throughout the year and also sponsors many other activities itself.

First service done in the year is the supervision of freshman tours on the campus. When the football season starts, Corn Cobs plan and lead all rallies and sell flowers at the game. They have charge of the programs for the basketball games and lead cheering. With the Tassels, they sponsor the homecoming carnival. This year's president is Donald Steele.

Convocations! Class Dismissed

Five or six times each semester university convocations are held at the Temple theater, the Union and occasionally in the coliseum. Student attendance is optional but many classes are dismissed for these affairs.

A committee composed of members of the faculty selects speakers. In addition to the formal address, the speakers who are brought to the campus usually participate in a question forum.
