Corn Cobs Hold Party Wednesday

Pep Group Entertains New Pledges at Annual Smoker in N Club Room

First Corn Cob smoker for new pledges will be held Wednesday at 7:30 in the N club rooms in the coliseum, Don Steele, president of the men's pep organization, announced yesterday.

Any sophomore with athletic eligibility may attend the smoker. Work for the first rally before the Iowa-State football game will be assigned, Steele said.

Col. C. J. Frankforter, Corn Cob adviser, will talk to the new pledges. If the turn-out meets expectations over 45 new men will attend the meeting Wednesday.

Three activity points are given for workers. In the spring, the sixteen pledges with the largest number of hours, given on the basis of work done, will be initiated as actives.

Lincoln Churches Arrange Student Parties, Services . . . For Next Week

Lincoln churches will again acquaint students with Lincoln church life next week when churches throughout the city participate in university church party night and church Sunday.

Informal entertainment will feature church parties planned for Friday evening, Sept. 26. The following Sunday, Sept. 28, will be all-university church Sunday when students are especially invited to services.

"If our civilization is to be preserved, we must cherish more dearly, and we must cultivate more seriously the spiritual phases of human life," Chancellor C. S. Boucher said. "We hope that all university students who have been church members at home will affiliate with their churches here; if they have not joined a church, now would be an appropriate time to do so. Students find a cordial welcome in all Lincoln churches."

Cooperating in this week's two special events are the following churches:

BAPTIST.
First church, 14th and K.
Second church, 28th and S.
CATHOLIC.
C. Y. O. hall.

Miss Meredith Gets Honor

Prof Leads Important Business Writing Survey

Miss Mamie Meredith of the English department has been appointed chairman of a national committee of the American Business Writing association. The committee will survey and publicize materials valuable to future programs in business English and will offer a report for discussion at the annual convention in Chicago during the Christmas holidays.

Miss Meredith was a member last year of the committee to collect and exhibit material useful in teaching business English. She has been on the editorial staff of the Association of Business Writers Bulletin for three years and is on the bibliographical staff of the periodical American Speech, published by the Columbia university press.

Barb's First Dance Draws 750 to Union

First barb dance of the year got the Barb Council social program off to a flying start Saturday night as a crowd of 750 unaffiliated students attended the Mexican party in the Union ballroom.

Based on the theme of Latin America, Hank Mattison's orchestra played congas tangos, and other tunes of the same type. Admission to the dance was a Barb Bomber activity ticket.

During intermission five couples including Marjorie Holmes, Janice Hagelin, Louise Woerner, Frank O'Connell Jean Powell, Russel Leger, Frank Smith, Ellis Ruby, Jack Werner, and Nadine Despotwitch, presented a South American specialty dance.

Saturday's affair marked the first in a series of dances to be held this fall in the Union. Purchase of a Barb Bomber will admit barbs to five after-football-game hour dances and three orchestra night parties similar to the one held last night.

Union Sponsors Variety Show Next Oct. 5

Pat Lahr Seeks Students With Entertainment Talent For First 1941-2 Program

First student union variety show of the year will be presented Oct. 5, Pat Lahr, union social director, announced yesterday when she sent out a call for students having entertainment talent to sign up in the Union office.

All students who fill out a card stating their name, telephone number and address, will have a chance to take part in campus entertainment besides the union variety shows. Registrations will be kept in the union talent bureau file, Miss Lahr said.

"No matter what you do, we can find a place for you somewhere," she commented. Students who registered last year are asked to register again.

Cheer Leader Candidates Meet Tuesday

Six additional cheerleaders will be chosen in tryouts Tuesday afternoon according to announcement made yesterday by Jack Stewart, chairman of the Innocents committee, which picks the group.

Sophomore and junior men are eligible for the tryouts if they fulfill the general university eligibility qualifications. All interested are urged to report to the Daily Nebraskan office Tuesday afternoon. The exact time will be stated in the Tuesday Daily Nebraskan.

At tryouts several days ago, Max Whittaker was named Husker yell king for this year, and Jim Vanlandingham and Mark Hargrave were chosen to help lead cheers at the freshman convocation. These two cheerleaders may retain permanent positions only if they proved satisfactory at that convocation.

Acting on the committee to judge the try-outs in addition to Stewart are Ed Calhoun, Walt Rundin, Paul Svoboda and Don Steele.

Sculptor Memorializes Sioux Indians in Magazine Article . . . By Proposed Carvings

With feature articles by Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons of the Nebraska supreme court, and Gutzon Borglum, Rushmore Memorial sculptor, the October-December quarterly issue of the "Nebraska History" magazine is devoted to memorializing the Sioux Indian tribe.

Borglum's article, written only a short time before his death, describes the proposed sculpturing of a granite memorial to the Sioux Indians in the Pine Ridge foothills near Chadron.

At the time of his writing, the famous sculptor planned the reproduction of an entire tribe of Indians, 14 to 16 feet in height, and carved from 30, 60 and 80 ton blocks of Rushmore granite.

Awgwan Needs Staff Willing To Climb Steps

Fifty-two steps aren't very many, but Jim Lipsey, editor, and Melvin Tennenbaum, business manager of the Awgwan Flash blame them for their trouble in organizing this semester's staff.

With only a few willing to climb to the third floor of the union where the Flash office was moved to this September, there are many opportunities open on both the editorial and business staffs.

Herein a Secret Lies Revealed To Freshmen

Having been bothered nth times by frantic freshmen who, after pushing the buttons on the Union faucets, find no way to stop the flow, we are forced to write an "Open letter to freshmen."

Dear Uninitiated: The faucets in the Union lavatories shut off automatically. Don't worry about finding a knob or handle or something to turn them off. And now you know the big secret.

The Weather

The weatherman stuck out his neck again today as he usually does and predicted that there will be cloudy skies and thundershowers in the east and south central; cooler in the east and south today.

Staff Will Resell '41 Yearbooks

All students who ordered Cornhuskers last year and failed to pick them up must do so by Friday, Sept. 26, according to Shirley Russet, editor of the yearbook. This applies to those who paid in full and also those who made partial payment.

Books not claimed by Sept. 26 will be resold at a discount.

Counselors Hold Mass Meeting

Coed Counselors will hold a mass meeting today at 3 p. m. in Ellen Smith hall, Harriet Talbot, coed counselor president, announced Saturday. All coed counselors are requested to be present.
