

The Sports Mill
By Bob Miller

Nebraska radio fans will be able to hear all of the Husker home games this fall via KFAB with veteran Bob Russell at the mike . . . Russell called the plays in the broadcasting booth last year and did a creditable job . . .

It must have been an exciting spectacle that took place down in Lawrence, Kas., on Friday night . . . It had all the earmarks of a great deal . . . It seems that the Jayhawkers went through their paces for Coach Gwinn Henry against a team of freshman and alumni . . . In a KU press release it was announced that several stars of the Kansas team of 1931 would take part . . . No wonder the varsity could roll up a 40-7 final score . . . What amazes us is the fact that the "old men" could push across a counter . . .

Attention: Messrs. Kelly, Herndon and Waddick . . . Please notice last night's paper and see how the home team came out . . . 'Ord Turns Back Grand Island, 7-0' was the comment . . .

Red Littler, who got his start leaving the big boys behind when they were chasing him, is approaching another milestone in his career as a Husker sprinter . . . Latest word coming to us direct from "The Red Demon" indicates that November will see him donning an army uniform . . . His lift into the military service courtesy of the draft . . .

Notices . . . Among the scores of the Friday night games came the announcement from down St. Louis way that the Jefferson Barracks squad ran away from North East Oklahoma to the tune of 32-6 . . . The interest in this announcement comes from the fact that a former Nebraska football letterman, Arlo Klum, is tutoring the team . . . The team's chances were enhanced this fall by the announcement that Paul Christman would be on hand to play . . . Paul went to the sailors, however, to offset the rumor . . .

Students Have Access to Badminton Courts

Badminton, the popular, fast game so highly acclaimed on the coasts, is now available to patrons of the Union, Pat Lahr, social director of the Union, announced Thursday. The one available court is located at the east door at the rear of the building.

Because of the high cost of the equipment, a fee of ten cents is charged. Fees are to be paid and equipment checked out at the check stand in the Union lobby.

University Offers 65 Night Classes

Registration for night classes at the university will be held in Grant Memorial Tuesday evening, Sept. 23, between 7 and 9 p. m. The first classes will begin Sept. 29.

Classes offered this year will number 65, and they will take 15 weeks to complete. This year four additional art courses have been added. Tuition fee is four dollars a credit hour and a registration fee of one dollar must be paid by students not already registered in the university.

Persons who are interested in a course and do not want to receive college credit may attend the class if they receive the permission of the instructor in charge of the class. However, they must pay the regular fees for attending.

Girls' Sport

By Susan Shaw

This year's freshman women may consider themselves very fortunate for having been guests last Tuesday at one of the most successful WAA parties in many years. The hi-light of the evening was the square dance. Aided by a square dance band Mr. and Mrs. Danielson, attired in old fashioned western clothes, called the dancing. After the grand march refreshments were served.

Eight hundred girls registered for gym Thursday and Friday and the majority of these signed up for the WAA program. Those girls who failed to do so may later in the WAA office.

Intra-mural representatives are to be at their initial meeting Monday afternoon at five. All organized houses are to have a representative present.

Soccer baseball practice begins this week. Watch this column next week when scheduled practices will be announced.

Ad Solicitors Meet Next Week

Meeting of all students interested in ad soliciting for the Daily will be held next Thursday, Sept. 25, at 7:30 p. m. Advertising accounts will be distributed without regard to work done previously, according to Ben Novicoff, business manager.
