

Open for Students . . . Many Recordings Available . . . In Union Music Room

Almost 1,000 recordings of the world's finest music are now available for students' listening pleasure in the Union music room.

This year, as before, students may request any of the music in the collection. The room on the second floor of the Union will be open from 12 p. m. to 1 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday; from 4:30 p. m. to 5:45 p. m. Monday thru Friday; and from 7:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. Monday thru Thursday. Special permission to enter the room on week ends may be obtained at the Union office.

A gift of the Carnegie foundation, this "rhapsody in blue" room has become more and more popular thru the years. According to Mrs. Romans, assistant Union social director, the college student's taste for the classics grows each year. She attributes this trend to the influence of high school music planned by the Walther League at 8 o'clock. The parish house is located at 13th and H streets. Students living near the campus will meet in the student union lobby at 7:45 to be escorted to the church.

Augustana, Danish, American, and United synods of First Lutheran church, 17th and A streets, have planned a mixer at 8 p. m. The Savior, Grace, Friedens, and First Lutheran churches also have a party. The program will include introduction of student workers, special music, a community sing, games and refreshments.

Lutheran students will meet for their regular worship service at 10:45 a. m. Sunday in parlors Y and Z of the Union. Rev. H. Erck, university pastor, will speak on the subject, "Be Ye Therefore Ready." Miss Margaret Austin of Newman Grove will accompany the singing.

Catholic

All Catholic students of the universities will meet in the Student Union parlors XYZ at 8 p. m. After a reception, all will join with other young people of the senior Sodolities of this city at a mixer and dance to be held at the CYO House, 18th and J streets, from 9:30 til 11:30. Transportation will be provided.

Congregational

First Plymouth Congregational church, located at 20th and D streets, will hold a fellowship program at 8, followed at 9 by dancing to Eddie Sheffert's orchestra. Included on the program will be a reading by Gwendolyn Guest; a recital and demonstration of the organ by Mrs. Roberts, and a speech by Ed Hitchman, president of the Young Peoples Group.

A Nautical party will be held by Vine Congregational church at the church on 25th and S streets. Ship, anchors and such will decorate the church, and the capella choir will sing. Church members will welcome the students.

Christian

First Christian church at 16th and K has planned a "Radio Station" party to begin at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Featuring "Microphone Madcaps", the party will include organized games and a receiving line. Guests will be the audience at the broadcast.

Dr. Ray Hunt, minister of the appreciation courses, radio, and sound movies.

"Ever since the 'V for Victory' campaign has become a vital force, 'Beethoven's Fifth Symphony' from which the dot, dot, dash rhythm drew its inspiration has been requested innumerable times," Mrs. Romans points out.

And here's an advance tip: In the not too distant future a list of new records which may be purchased will be posted in the music room; anyone who is interested may suggest additions to that list. Everyone who enters the room may vote for his favorites. Those selections which lead in the balloting will be added to the collection.

A special invitation is extended to freshmen to become acquainted with the Union music room.

In Army Blue Uniforms . . . University Has Best-Dressed Custodian Staff in Nebraska . . . But Janitors Object

The university will have the best-dressed custodian staff in the state when the 35 men who care for university buildings don their new dark, blue army twill uniforms soon.

Two years ago, men on the custodian staff decided to wear uniforms so that they would be better dressed on the job, to help their morale and to distinguish them from other persons in the buildings.

This fall the custodians met and voted 27-6 not wear uniforms any more. Reason for the action was financial. The uniforms they have been wearing are worn out and materials for new ones has practically doubled in price. Even though some of the men brought new uniforms last spring, the store that handled them did not have a large enough remaining stock to outfit all the men. This necessitated change of uniform if one was to be worn.

The result of the vote was sent to university authorities, but was not accepted and the custodians were told that the uniforms were part of their equipment. Not wearing uniforms would mean a change of working hours so that ununiformed men would not be on duty when people were in the buildings, as the men should be uniformly well dressed during those times.

An interesting sidelight in the regular run of school news, the result of this controversy is that Nebraska janitors, in their blue twill outfits, claim the honor of "the best-dressed custodians staff in the state."

Church Night--

Organizations, and mess call will serve to give atmosphere to the party.

All Presbyterian churches will take part in this celebration. Ministers of the various churches will be introduced to the buck privates, freshmen, and officers, upperclassmen.

Baptist

In the receiving line of a reception for the Baptist students to be held at the Student House, 1440 Q street at 7:30 will be the university pastor, Rev. and Mrs. Gerald M. Kendall, Dr. Adin H. Webb, president of the Nebraska Baptist student council, and Mrs. Webb, and local Baptists and their wives.

From the Student House, the entertainment will move to the Second Baptist church for a social period of folk games conducted by Loraine Hohnstein. The evening's program will conclude with a brief musical program under the direction of Julius Humann and a magic act by Mortoni, the magician. Arthur Garbers, president of the Roger Williams fellowship, will welcome new students, and Albert Johnston will reply in behalf of the freshmen.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Roy Cochran, chairman, Mrs. A. R. Congdon and Mrs. R. C. Abbott of the First Baptist church, Miss Lorena Eichenour and Mrs. C. A. Blackledge of the Second church and Mrs. J. D. Penrod of the Temple Church.

United Brethren

United Brethren students are invited to Caldwell Memorial church at 18th and M streets for a brief reception, followed by a theater party.

Evangelical

A carnival theme will be used at the mixer party to be held at 7:30 at the First Evangelical church, 33rd and Starr streets in honor of Evangelical students.

Lutheran

The Lutheran Students Association opens its year of activity tonight observing student Church Night at the First Lutheran Church on 17th and A streets. Starting at eight, the program will be especially designed for new students. Pastors of Lincoln Lutheran Churches will be introduced, and during a fellowship and refreshment hour student leaders will be presented. For students living near campus, cars will be ready to take them down town at 8:45.

Trinity Lutheran parish house of the Missouri synod will be the scene of a party for students

No Sissy Ribbons . . . By Buttons Ye Shall Know . . . New Fraternity Pledges

In an attempt to educate students, particularly coeds, to recognize the campus fraternity pledge badges, this article is written.

Progressing alphabetically, the Acacia's pledge button is a black circle with a gold band around it and a gold right triangle in the center. Adorning the Alpha Gamma Rho pledges is a round, green button bounded by gold church, and Betty Klingel and Bob Black, students in charge of the party, will greet the guests.

Methodist

Seven Methodist churches will greet students tonight.

Grace Methodist church will go on the air, in an imaginary sort of way, when they hold a radio party at 7:45 tonight. Bob Rosenbaum will act as master of ceremonies of station GMYF (Grace Methodist Youth Fellowship). The guests will be the audience. The new minister of the church and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Frank E. Pfoutz, will serve as host and hostess along with other members of the church.

Warren Methodist church, located at 45th and Orchard near ag college, will hold a party at 8 p. m. under the leadership of Ralph Copenhaver.

Trinity Methodist party is based on the theme of "School Days". Starting with registration, guests will go through grades and high school, playing games in accordance to the year, and end up with the alumni banquet (refreshments). The party will start about 8 o'clock.

Elm Park Methodist church will hold a fellowship party for the reception of new students. Active games will be played and refreshments served.

Emmanuel Methodist church, at 15th and U streets, has also planned a fellowship party.

St. Paul Methodist church is using the theme of a football party for their mixer tonight in the church at 1144 M. After being met at the door of the church, students will be introduced by old members of the church. From there they will go into a football rally, then to a football game. Pennants on which to get names, addresses, and telephone numbers, and similar football game regalia will lend atmosphere to the party. Bob Black of the city recreation department will help with the party. Refreshments will be served.

Epworth Methodist church, 30th and Holdrege, has planned a patriotic mixer for 8:01 tonight with the title "Keep 'Em Flying". Flying School students will help with the recreation.

Episcopal

The University Episcopal church, at 13th and R streets, will stage a mixer party in the basement club room tonight at 8:30.
