To Professor Walker

His clipped accent, his quick step, his interesting lectures, his pleasant smile. These things made Prof. Gayle C. Walker, director of the university school of journalism until Sept. 1, beloved by his students and colleagues, to whom news of his death Friday will be a shock. We want to pay this small tribute to the memory of a brilliant, diplomatic man, always cheerful despite ill health and always a great help to the Daily Nebraskan.

Faith in a Crisis

In this time of crisis we are all thinking of what we can do to help prepare the country for war if it comes. However, most of us think primarily of the physical side of this preparation. It is time we gave some thought to the spiritual side.

For this reason the University of Nebraska Council of Religious Welfare has chosen for its theme for Religion and Life Week, Nov. 8 to 13 "Faith in a Time of Crisis." The purpose of the week's program is to present to students and faculty members a ringing statement of religious faith; to strengthen the established campus religious groups and programs; and to further develop co-operative religious work on the campus. Well-known religious leaders from all over the country will come to Lincoln to conduct the program.

We cannot stress too much the need for religious thought and inspiration for strong faith in a time when we must muster all our mental and spiritual forces as well as our physical force to withstand this war. Every student will have a chance to gain inspiration during Religion and Life Week.

Alumni News

By Lloydene Kershaw

With Homecoming rapidly approaching, plans for its celebration assume increasing prominence in alumni association activities. In addition to many meetings, celebrations, and events already mentioned, the Nebraska Alumni association will hold its annual Homecoming meeting of its national board of directors at 10:00 a. m. Saturday. Larry Ely, former all-American center and one of the directors, will be here for the meeting and game.

Combined this year with the ATO's homecoming celebration, will be the 30th reunion of the fraternity's class of 1911, with at least eight of its ten members already signed up to attend. Friday evening there will be an alumni reception at the governor's mansion to which all three ATO Nebraska governors and their wives have been invited. Saturday night an ATO dance will be held at the Cornhusker.

The Deltas homecoming celebration Saturday, likewise, will be climaxed by a banquet and dance in the evening. A special block of seats has been reserved by Delta alumni for the game.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, it was revealed by a recent compilation, employs 55 university graduates. About three-fourths of them, most of whom Law college graduates, are special agents. Amazing to note is the fact that the alumnae office makes from 500 to 1,000 changes in address of Nebraska alumnae in its files every month!

The University of Nebraska News, alumnae quarterly publication, has just been sent to approximately 15,000 grads. Also in the mails, recently is the Oct. issue of the Nebraska Alumnus, magazine published by the alumnae association.

History Lesson For Today

During my recent excavations at Pompeii, I discovered several Roman manuscripts which throw a new light on history. Thanks to the help of the Foreign Language department on the campus, I was able to translate these scrolls of 2,000 years ago. And now, I humbly announce the results of my research.

The leading ruler of ancient civilization was not Alexander the Great, nor the Pharaoh, nor even Julius Caesar. Rather, he was Julius' cousin, twice removed on his mother's side: Caesar the Weasel.

At the age of four, this Caesar fell heir to the Roman Empire. Immediately, he crashed thru with an administration of iron discipline. His domestic policies included a national emergency, defense priorities, and a sales tax on all out-standing street cars. Yes, the young ruler had an eye to the future. The other he had lost in a fight with the village cat.

At the age of seven, the Weasel won the affection of a little peasant girl from South Omaha whom he soon married. Domestic life did not appeal to his unsettled disposition, however. Because he loved his little wife, he buried her with an elaborate ceremony.

When he was nine, Rome's mighty monarch grew tired of life. He drank poison. He spun around three times. He leapt high in the air. And he died. But just before he passed on, he raised himself on one elbow and murmured gently: "Turn up the lights, please. I don't want to go home in the dark." One of his soldiers was heard to reply: "You ain't goin' home."

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:
The America First committee stands for Christian tolerance, humanitarian idealism, and American realism.

The principles of the University of Nebraska chapter of the AFC are:

1—Our first duty is to keep America out of foreign wars. Our entry would only destroy democracy, not save it. "The path to war is a false path to freedom."

2—Not by acts of war abroad but by preserving and extending democracy at home can we aid democracy and freedom in other lands.

3—In 1917 we sent our American ships into the war zone and this led us to war. In 1941 we must keep our naval convoys and merchant vessels on this side of the Atlantic.

4—We must build a defense, for our own shores, so strong that no foreign power or combination of powers can invade our country, by sea, air or land.

5—Humanitarian aid is the duty of a strong, free country at peace. With proper safeguard for the distribution of supplies, we should feed and clothe the suffering and needy people of the occupied countries.

Time magazine in its Oct. 6 issue quoted the national executive council of the AFC as stating, "We deplore the injection of the race issue into the discussion of war and peace. The University of Nebraska chapter of the AFC condemns those who have injected anti-Catholicism, anti-Semitism, and anti-Germanism into the debate on intervention. It opposes these intolerances as un-American as well as anti-Christian. The AFC opposes all isms except Americanism."

The American First Committee opposes aid to Communistic Russia because such aid is not essential for the defense of the U. S. Finland is an honest friend of the U. S. and the AFC opposes supporting Russia in its attempted reinvansion of that sturdy nation. Shame on those who would send millions of American men to die to insure the maintenance of the Communistic athiestic regime in Russia.

No Communist, Nazis, Union-nousers of fascist are allowed membership in the America First committee.

Some of the above groups and their fellow travelers who have been excluded from membership in the AFC have attempted to smear the personnel and leadership of the AFC. There are those who have attempted to smear such great American patriots as Senators Wheeler and Clark and Representatives Fish and Sweeney who have been active leaders in the American First movement. Such smear attacks are very understandable when one realizes that they can not attack the principles of the AFC because they are unimpeachable. Eighty per cent of the American people support the aim of the AFC "to keep America out of foreign wars." The AFC consists of twenty million Americans and the committee is growing by the thousands every day!

All militant pacifists and isolationists—that is isolationist from foreign wars—are invited to become members of the University of Nebraska chapter of the America First Committee.

Sincerely,
Luckey Paul,
Acting secretary of the University of Nebraska America First Committee.
