

LeRossignol Explains Plan To Avoid National Inflation

Contending that a certain degree of inflation is already being felt, Dean Emeritus J. E. LeRossignol of the biz ad college told members of the Lincoln Association of Credit Men Monday night that the only way to combat inflation is to increase the supply of necessary consumers goods in relation to the increased volume of expenditures.

Any anti-inflation plan, he said, must contain means for keeping wages and farm prices from climbing too high, for placing surplus agricultural commodities in circulation and for control of labor difficulties.

All Factors Necessary.

posed limits on profits would tend to restrict production to a crippling extent.

Considering the prospects from the standpoint of merchant, manufacturer, consumer, investor and government Dean LeRossignol concluded the best possible immediate course is to slow down price markups, anticipatory buying and expansion, credit selling and the use of "scare advertising" to increase consumer demand.

Farmer Should Produce Much.

The dean warned, however, that meanwhile the farmer and manufacturer should produce as much as possible but refrain from too rapid expansion of inventory, and accumulate profits in reserve.

The government will have to take the major part in the movement to check the dangerous tendencies of inflation, Dean LeRossignol declared, for the present impetus for inflation is government spending.

Inquiring Reporter Finds . . . Nebraska School Teachers Anticipate US Entry in War

. . . Within One Year

With international incidents occurring daily, people over the country are wondering if we will again become involved in a World war. Heated debates are held wherever groups of people gather.

Nebraska grade school teachers at the convention here were asked, "Do you think the United States will actively participate in the war, and if so, when?" Those questioned almost unanimously agreed that "The United States will actively participate in World War II within a year."

Janice Sandusky, Table Rock: "I don't really. I think the United States will go on by sending supplies and things."

Nellie Atwood, Fairmont: "I think they will. It won't be long now."

Blaine Larsen, Wahoo: "Inside of six months we will be in the war."

Maxine Gottula, Table Rock: "We will enter the war. Because we won't stand for just everything to keep out of war with Hitler or anyone else."

Imagine Johnson, Marquette: "I hope not, but I'm afraid so. I have no idea when, tho."

Barbara Manning, Randolph school, Lincoln: "No."

Hildegard Persson, Saratoga school, Lincoln: "I'm really afraid we will; I hesitate to predict the time we will enter the war."

Minnie Hoback, Hayes Center: "Yes, in about a year."

Lorraine Hendrickson, Harbine: "Probably very soon, inside of two or three months."

Helen Johnson, Sutton: "Surely, war will occur. It can't be so very long, probably four or five months."

Winifred Mueller, Papillion: "Yes, within a year."

Ada Barta, Hardy: "Yes, I think we will get into war sometime, but not within a year."

Birdean Hehmers, Sutton: "I'd like to be optimistic, but I think that it is inevitable."

Mrs. Huestis, Riley (Lincoln): "I'm afraid we will. I feel that if we do get into it, it's the end of civilization as we know it. The only hope for civilization is for the United States to say out."

Josephine Culver, The Institution for Feeble Minded at Beatrice: "Yes, but I think it will be at least six months to a year."

Religion, Life Week Heads Appoint Committee Leaders

Dean Lyman Pharmacy Group Committee Head

Dr. R. A. Lyman, dean of the college of pharmacy, has been named chairman of the time and place committee of the American Pharmaceutical Association, he was informed by the association secretary Thursday morning, Oct. 24.

This committee determines the time and place of the annual convention of the association and of its affiliated societies.

Committees for the 1941 Religion and Life week Nov. 8th to 13th, were announced today by Rev. Robert Drew, Methodist student pastor and chairman for the conference. The theme of the week is "Faith in a Crisis."

Committees are: seminars, co-chairmen, Jean Christie and Morton Margolin; house dinner meetings, co-chairmen, Burton Thiel and Flavia Tharp; literature, co-chairmen, Jean Thompson and Richard Johnson; personal conferences, chairman, Bill Arnold; Sunday evening meeting, co-chairmen, Francis Keefer and Hugh Wilkens; general committee, chairman, Mary Kerrigan; and reception and hospitality, co-chairmen, Sylvia Katzman and Art Garbers.

The purpose of the week is to present to the students and faculty a clearer statement of religious faith, to strengthen the present campus religious groups and programs and to further develop co-operative religious work on the campus.

The program will include several convocations or mass meetings, glass room appearances, commission groups, faculty luncheons, house dinner meetings and personal counseling. The council of religious welfare is sponsoring the Religion and Life week on the university campus.

Churches Plan Many Services For Students

The Lutheran and First-Plymouth Congregational churches have arranged the following programs for Sunday:

Lutheran.

Lutheran students will meet for the regular service of worship at 10:45 Sunday morning in parlors Y and Z of the Union. Rev. H. Erck will speak on the topic, "Spiritual Conflicts." Miss Charlotte Filter will accompany the singing.

Congregational.

The Sunday Evening Club of First-Plymouth church, a student group, announces the following new schedule: At 6 p. m., a ten cent buffet supper is served. At 6:30 the group meets for the vesper service, program and social period. The entire evening's program will be complete at 7:30, an hour earlier than has been customary.

Sunday evening, Oct. 26, Mr. Robert H. Henry, Presbyterian student worker on the campus will be guest speaker. All Congregational young people and their friends are invited.
