

The Sports Mill

By Bob Miller

Nebraska is a football state, first, last and always . . . Fans live between seasons in their talk of the Huskers, either of the past season's showing or of the chances for the next season . . . It is due to this unequalled interest in the gridiron sport by Husker fans that has put football where it is today in the cornhusking state.

When the team wins fans all over the state are jubilant and when there comes a loss like the Indiana debacle last Saturday, the followers are downcast . . . Then comes the Sunday and Monday quarterbacking on a large scale . . . Individuals are blamed and their performances are ridiculed.

In several instances this criticism wasn't justified . . . Every player has off-days now and then and when these happen to fall on the off-day of another player, the result is sometimes a loss . . . There were several cases like that against the Hoosiers and as a consequence the players in question have been the subject of a well-organized attack.

The game was lost to a great team Saturday . . . The Hoosiers finally hit the stride that they were supposed to show but it took them three losses to get in gear and then the sophomores began gaining confidence in their playing ability . . . Their running was consistent, passing was unmatchable and blocking was deadly.

This, added to the number of luminaries for Nebraska who were injured before or early in the fray, and the fact that several of the usual big names on the team were hit simultaneously by an off-day, combined to defeat the Huskers . . . But to get to the core, it was not because any member of the team was consciously lying down on the job that the loss can be attributed, but it was merely that the Fates were not with the Huskers.

Keep an eye on this Billy Hillenbrand who hits the headlines every week with the Hoosiers, for this 190 pound sophomore will easily be an All-American next year if Indiana can field a team that will be convincing nationally . . . Hillenbrand not only stars at passing, running and punting, but also hits the high marks in the class room . . . He has played in all four of the Hoosier games so far this year with a bone broken in his foot.

He broke the bone during pre-season drills and Bo McMillin was cast down, for it was around Billy that he was building his entire attack . . . Bo asked the team physician if he could play and the answer was, "He can play if he has enough 'guts' in him." . . . So Billy has been playing on just plain "guts" . . . His performance against the Huskers puts him on our book as the outstanding individual performer that we have seen this year.

Husks: Clarence Herndon was limping around yesterday morning with a sad look on his face . . . It was the first game that he has missed suiting-up for in nearly three years . . . He reports that his leg is feeling better and his shoulder a whole lot better but he still has to favor the leg a great deal . . . Well, time will tell how bad it is.

Tigers Burst UN Bubble of Hopes With 6-0 Victory

The famed Missouri T did not prove to be a source of worry until the closing moments of the third quarter when the Tigers got hold of the ball and started the drive that culminated in the winning touchdown.

Huskies Lose Possession.

The Huskers scrimmaged on the Missouri 48 and after Dale Bradley hit the line for three he dropped back and tossed a pass that was far too short for Marvin Thompson to get near but fell into the hands of Red Wade, outstanding Mizzou quarterback who brought the ball up to his own 33 and the march was ready to begin.

Wade took the ball on a quick opening play thru the center for 42 yards and a first down. Two plays later Harry Ice slipped the ball to Bob Steuber on a wide end reverse that was good for 12 more yards down to Nebraska's 42. Ice went thru the entire Husker line for 6 and after an incomplete pass Steuber made it a first down on the 31.

Tigers Growling.

The Tigers were getting ferocious at this point and nothing could stop them. Ice made three at right end and as the Huskers were picking themselves up the Tigers without huddle or signals sprang into a play with Bob Steuber lugging which ate up 12 more yards and was good for a first down on the Husker 16.

Ice failed to gain at guard and then on the next play he lateraled to Carter, 155 pound half, and the diminutive back strolled down to the Husker 5 for an 11 yard gain.

Reece Tallies.

From this point Ice carried it 4 1/2 yards on a fake reverse and was downed within a foot of the goal as the quarter ended. After a trip down to the opposite end of the field, Reece hurdled the middle for the score. Bert Eckern missed the extra point.

That was the only time that either team managed to penetrate the opponent's 10 yard line. There were no runs of 40 or 50 yard proportions; no goal line stands; no tricky reverses—nothing that fans crowd football stadia Saturday upon Saturday to witness.

Team Play Even.

The teams were evenly matched, too evenly to provide excitement along with the fact that the field was heavy and definitely, not conducive to good broken field running to make the engagement entertaining.

Early in the first quarter Nebraska drove down deep into the Tigers' territory but were stopped on the 11 yard line and there Missouri took over. From that time on both teams fought on even terms with neither holding an advantage.

Huskies Come Close.

In the second half another Husker drive carried down to the 14 yard line where the Tigers' defense tightened up to hold for downs and from that point on Nebraska didn't get a sniff of the goal line.

In a losing battle, there were few stars but Vike Francis reversing all previous showings turned in a four star performance. He was hitting harder and tackling viciously thruout even tho

Patty Berg Plays Match Here Monday

UN coeds will have a chance to see championship golf tomorrow when Patty Berg and Helen Dettweiler, nationally famous women golfers, give an exhibition beginning at 10:30 a. m. on the practice fields west of the coliseum.

Women having 10 or 11 a. m. gym classes will be excused from regular work to attend the demonstration which is being sponsored by the WAA. In case of bad weather, the event will take place inside the coliseum, Miss Mabel Lee, director of the women's physical education department, said.

At 12:15 p. m. in parlor X of the Union, a luncheon will be held for Miss Berg and Miss Dettweiler. They will both give short talks on golf. The women's physical education staff, phys ed majors, the WAA council and other golf enthusiasts will attend.

Miss Berg has reached the heights in amateur golfing before she turned pro. Helen Dettweiler from Maryland has an equally impressive record, earned for the most part in the East. Last week, she defeated Miss Berg in the Texas Open.

he was shaken up early in the second half.

Dale Bradley Also.

Another backfield performer that shared in the spotlight was Dale Bradley who was running with all the force of a 200 pounder. In the line George Abel was again the standout with his speed coming into good stead. Fred Meier and Howard Kelly also turned in creditable performances.

For the Tigers in the backfield it was Harry Ice and Bob Steuber grabbing the laurels with Red Wade and Don Reece taking secondary honors. In the line it was Captain Jenkins that was best aided by Jefferies, Wallach and Eckern.

Tigers Win Statistics.

In first downs gained the Tigers doubled the Huskers, 14-7, and the former controlled the ball the majority of the time as can be seen by the fact that Missouri ran off 71 plays in the course of the game to Nebraska's 58.

The ancient serpents measured from 40 to 50 feet, and had broad turtle-like bodies, long necks and elongated flippers.
