Theatre Opens Current Season Tonight at 8 With 'East Lynne'

The University Theatre draws the curtain tonight in the Temple on their first production of the year when East Lynne, a stirring melodrama, is presented at 8 p. m.

East Lynne is a story of the gay nineties, and because of this peanuts and popcorn will be sold by vendors the same as in that period. Between acts curtain act entertainment will be presented. Robert Black will officiate as master of ceremonies.

First night audiences will see something new in university theatre productions, a specially designed front curtain figured with advertisements.

Many good seats are still available. Theater officials report. A special rate of 30 cents will be charged for those purchasing balcony seats.

Arriving by Special Train . . . UN Band Presents Concert At McCook Festival Today

. . . Demonstrates Stunts

Nebraska's varsity band, 114 strong, piled into a special train at 1 a. m. this morning and left for a big day of marching in the McCook band festival.

Slated to stage an afternoon concert and an evening stunt performance, the band will use two routines. They will begin with the same heart formation used during the Indiana game and then break into a patriotic theme.

Forming a huge map of the United States, the band sings and plays "I Am An American." They then form a cannon with moving wheels, then an anchor, back into

Union Movies Tonight Show Disputed Play

Was the Bradley to Simmons pass incomplete or was there interference on the play?

Slow motion movies to be shown tonight at 7:30 p. m. in the Union ballroom will give students a chance to answer that question.

When members of the University Club viewed the movies, their opinion of the refereeing was not too good. The pictures clearly show that as Simmons was about to catch the ball on the Missouri five yard line, defensive back Harry Ice leaped on Simmons and dragged him to the ground. The referee ruled an incomplete pass.

The movies shed new light on other questionable decisions of the referees. Come and see for yourself.

YWCA Finance Workers Report

All YWCA finances drive workers must report at 5 p. m. today in Ellen Smith. Final checkup will be made at that time.

Union Faction Wins Election

Migration Ticket Sale Goes Slowly

"Those who buy their tickets now for the migration to Manhattan, Kans., for the Kansas-Nebraska game this weekend will get the best seats and also will be assured of a seat in the student section," said John K. Selleck commenting on the slow sale of tickets to the migration.

"Those who wait until the last minute to buy tickets may not get seats in the student section."

Train fare, if tickets are purchased ahead of time, is $2.65, round trip. Higher prices will be charged if students buy tickets at the station or on the train because of additional taxes which have gone into effect since the university reserved the tickets.

Admission to the game is $2.25. A block of 500 seats has been purchased by the university and over 100 tickets have been sold.

The special student train will leave the Burlington station in Lincoln at 7:30 Saturday morning, arriving in Manhattan at 11:55 a. m. The return train will leave at 11:55 p. m. Saturday and reach Lincoln at 5 a. m. Sunday.

Bickering between the pro and con forces regarding the barb petition to amend the student council constitution was climaxed last night when the results of the fall election threw out the petition with a vote of 1,371 against and 475 for the amendment.

Inasmuch as the barb party backed no candidates for this election, and only one political position, that of sophomore class president, was contested, Union nominees took all offices which can be announced at this time. The new senior class president is Jack Stewart, and Allen Zikmund will fill the position of junior class president.

Eugene Reese, who polled 358 votes, seems virtually assured of

State College Presidents Hold Civilian Morale Meet

. . . On Campus November 1

Designed primarily for the purpose of developing a state school and college civilian morale service program, a conference of Nebraska college presidents will be held here Saturday, November 1 at the Union.

The meeting, which is a part of a nationwide program being inaugurated as a defense activity by President Roosevelt, will be attended by Dr. Fred J. Kelly, chief of the division of higher education in the U. S., the state superintendent of public instruction, and the executive secretary of the Nebraska public library commission. Acting as host for the university will be Chancellor C. S. Boucher.

Voluntary Work.

Besides encouraging the widespread participation of students and teachers in all types of voluntary activities, the school and college civilian morale service's general purpose is stated as follows:

To utilize the extensive experience of educational leaders in organizing and administering programs for the study and discussion of problems of common interest.

To mobilize the vast resources of our schools, colleges and universities, and libraries in a nation- (See MEET, page 4)

Burr Emphasizes Importance Of Research in Agriculture

Commenting on an article emphasizing the importance of research of industry which appeared in the new publication of the National Resources Planning Board, Prof. W. W. Burr, director of the Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station, said that research in agriculture is of similar importance and has similar effects.

Research in industry has increased markedly in recent years and its value, according to the new magazine in bulletin form, lies in the fact that research helps industry to avoid obsolete methods and equipment, and unemployment. Research does the same thing for agriculture, Dean Burr contends. (See RESEARCH, page 2)

"Research in agriculture makes progress possible," Dean Burr stated. "It is the finding of new and useful knowledge, the development of better strains of crops and animals, better farming practices, and more economical production. It also brings about more efficient production."

Projects on production of crops and livestock are included in the work of the Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station. However, the director pointed out, it also includes other projects on marketing, use of farm products in the home, and operation of the farm and home equipment, which deal (See RESEARCH, page 2)

Convo Speaker Calls for U. S. Participation to Finish War

By Art Rivin and June Jamieson

Calling America a necessary factor for the defeat of the Hitler regime and the formation of a satisfactory peace, foreign correspondent Louis Fischer, author of "Men and Politics," drew a crowd of 650 students, faculty and townspeople to the university convocation and an enthusiastic audience to a forum yesterday afternoon.

"This is a war between America and Germany; England is a secondary factor—she is only holding the fort for us," Fischer declared in his speech, and drew four conclusions to prove the necessity of American intervention and aid; Britain cannot win the war alone because of her weak military organization. Germany probably cannot win the war because she cannot invade England. Britain is too busy fighting to think about a compromise peace. Only the United States can end the war and end it with a Hitler defeat.

Calls Our Position Dangerous.

The speaker emphasized the danger of the present prolongation of our position in the war, and said that if America kept out of the war, there would be fighting for at least four more years. In answer to those who feel that we would be "sold down the river" by Britain, Fischer declared, "Of one thing I have a clear and indelible picture—the British will not quit."

Assuring his audience that the United States would be in on the peace treaty to "rebuild Europe," the speaker contended that this country will demand and get an elimination of impossible trade barriers and petty differences. He sees little hope for a real and lasting peace without the addition of American help, economically and morally.

Tells How to Defeat Nazis.

In answer to the forum question "How can we defeat Germany?" Fischer advocated a continuance of the aid program, since there is (See FISCHER, page 4)

Annual Extends Picture Deadline

Deadline for fraternity and sorority pictures that were to have been taken within the last week has been extended until tonight, Shirley Russel, Cornhusker editor, announced today. The previous deadline was last night but was extended because of the last minute rush for pictures.
