UN's 12-6 Loss Means No Title

By Bob Miller.

MANHATTAN, Kans.—Memorial Stadium—Special wire to the Daily Nebraskan . . .

It was the tale of two backs that accounted for the Kansas State well-earned 12-6 victory over the University of Nebraska team here today and to these two backs goes the credit.

Mike Zeleznak, a fleet, cocky, 175 pound sophomore and Lyle Wilkins, 187 pound crashing fullback, changed the entire outlook of the game and gave the Wildcats homecoming throng, 7,000 strong, something to tell their children about, for it has been seven years since the Kansas team has whipped the Huskers.

Both teams were at a handicap due to the excessive moisture that was soaked up in the sparse turf. At midfield was a great puddle of water and the turf was a mass of slippery gumbo. In several plays after the game's start, all of the players were a muddy mass.

All of the scoring was in the first half with the Huskers drawing first blood as usual when after an eighty-five yard sustained march down the field Vike Francis crashed across for the counter but missed his try for point to give Nebraska a six point lead.

Dale Bradley in both the running and tossing roll starred in the drive with his pass to Athey, good for a first down on the Kan-

Religion, Life Program Draws Nation's Leaders

Religion and Life Week opens on the campus Nov. 8 with religious leaders from all over the country participating in a program designed to present to students and faculty a clear statement of religious faith.

Other aims of the week are to strengthen the established campus religious groups and programs and to further develop cooperative religious work on the campus. General chairman of the meetings is Rev. Robert E. Drew.

Among the evening meetings, open to students, faculty, and the general public are: Sunday, 8 p. m. Allan A. Hunter, Union ballroom; Monday, 7:30 p. m. Albert W. Palmer; Tuesday, 7:30 p. m. Father John O'Brien; Wednesday, denominational and group meetings; and Thursday, 7:30 p. m. Hilda L. Ives.

At Ag College.

Ag college convocations include one Sunday at 9:15 a. m. in ag hall with Hilda L. Ives speaking, and one Monday at 10 a. m. in the student activities building with Edgar M. Wahlberg as lecturer.

Personal conferences with Religion and Life Week leaders may be arranged at the Appointment Table in the Union lobby or with the leaders themselves. Special classroom presentations will also be made by members who have distinguished themselves in various fields of learning.

Besides general meetings and classroom lectures, Religion and Life Week activities will include faculty luncheons in Union parlors X and Y, and seminars for both faculty and students every day of the week except Sunday.

Committees for the week besides general chairman are:

Campus chairman, Gould Wickey; ag campus, Ross Rasmussen; classroom presentations and convocations, H. M. Cox; faculty luncheons, Luvicy M. Hill; finance, Gerald B. Kendall; house dinner meetings, Flavia Ann Tharp and Burton D. Thiel; literature, Richard B. Johnson and Jean M. Thompson.

Personal conferences, William J. Arnold; publicity, Mary Kerrigan; reception and hospitality, Arthur H. Garbers and Sylvia M. Katzman; seminars, Jean Christie and Morton Margolin; and Sunday evening meeting, Robert Henry, Frances Keefer and Hugh Wilkins.

New Med School Students Take Aptitude Test

Due to the abnormal national situation, a special medical aptitude test will be given students who plan to enter medical school in 1942, at 2 p. m. Dec. 5 in Bessey hall, Dr. O. Wade announced yesterday.

The test will require approximately two hours to finish and a fee of $2 will be assessed each student.

All eligible students are urged to attend because results of the spring examination will not be available for those who wish to enroll in the fall term. The test is a normal requirement for entrance to a medical school, altho the pre-medical work need not necessarily be finished at the time of the examination.

'Education Plays Role In Defense'

. . . Lewis Hershey

Declaring that the United States faces a difficult transition in its defense program, General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of the selective service, Friday warned the nation's leading educators gathered in Lincoln, that the vast organization of education must be fitted into the national emergency.

General Hershey, the principal speaker at the 43rd annual conference of the Association of American Universities which closed its sessions yesterday, spoke at a general session open to the public at the Union Friday morning.
