Week end's here again—nothing to do but play till Sunday night at 10:30 p. m. Half the campus will journey to Minnesota to do their celebrating—or drown their sorrows—as case may be. A Beta contingent composed of John Edwards, John McCarthy and John Safford will go up dateless—the other member of the party, Bill "Curly" Schaumberg has a date. A date with Bubbles. Who Bubbles is we have yet to learn. DG Nancy Raymond will trek to the game—to spend most of her time in St. Paul renewing an old friendship with a masculine admirer of a few years ago.

Phi Psi Spence Porter will take Theta Marge Christenson along to give him moral support on those dashes from the bench to the middle of the field when someone yells "water boy!" Del Lienemann and Charlotte Peck, AXD, will celebrate their first anniversary—a year ago they had their first date and a month from that date they started going steady. Something to really celebrate!

No Sliced Throats.

There's nothing like being legal about this dating situation—and the Fijis don't like to cut each others throats. So—Jim Maloney and Squash Campbell drew up a timistic and determined of anyone there.

Clarence Herndon, one of the game captains, serious and sober-faced, vowed both privately and publicly to "pay off that debt we owe you Nebraska people this Saturday at Minnesota."

Marvin Thompson, grinning, stood on the train steps and shouted down as the train started to move, "Ludwick says we're going to win."

Kenny Simmons, unable to go to Minnesota because of a knee injury acquired in practice Tuesday, said, "They'll do all they can—and I hope that's good enough."

In spite of the poor attendance at the rally, however, Nebraska, for the most part is still loyal to its team as evidenced by an open letter to the team printed in today's Nebraskan. The letter is from a cross-section of Nebraska business men and organizations and urges the team to fight the Gophers. Special delivery copies of the paper were sent to each member of the team.

legal document in which Squash surrendered all claim to the dating time of Mary Ellen Beechner and gave Jim full permission to go ahead and try to get a date. No one seems to know how it's worked out yet.

Saw Maribel Hitchcock, Theta, coking in the Crib with Ed Butler—sets us wondering about Fiji Bud Johnson and Alpha Chi Marge Stewart. And also caught a glimpse of Kappa Mary Runyan and Beta Bill Edwards talking earnestly—maybe about some of those plentiful dates they've lined up for some weeks to come.

Elements Tricky.

Barn dancing at the Towne Club fall party Saturday night will be Jean Austin and Bob Albrecht, June Critchfield with Leonard Dunker, Pat Hunting and Roy Cochran and Phyliss Holbrook with Bus Cuckler. Hope Antelope Park doesn't get too cold—can't tell us what tricks the elements are going to pull now.

Congratulations to four more men wearing the sword and shield. The Phi Deltas initiated Newman Buckley, Phil Reed, Laird Fisher and Benny Kohout last night.

What's the deal with Kappa pledge Mary Ralston and the boys at the Phi Psi house? As soon as Jack Vandecar leaves school Rolle starts dating Boy Cullinan—lots and seriously. Then she has a date to the ATO house party with Dick Petring. Nice work if you can do it, and let's speculate on what would happen if Jack came back for a week end.

And while you're speculating, we're going to dash around looking for something for tomorrow's column. G'bye now.

Pianist Talks To Design Class

Miss Marguerite Klinker, instructor in piano, gave a lecture and a demonstration for the design class in the home economics department Monday morning, Nov. 3. Her subject was Periods and Designs in Music.

the world, and they believe that good Lord will take care of them."

Betty Lu Larsen, junior, teachers: "Why sure they do! They have more worries and troubles, and they have to seek aid somewhere. In time of need they have been taught to turn toward their church."

Benton Jolliffe, freshman, engineer: "I think so because in a time of crisis they need a higher power to solve their problems, and they believe that the Lord can do this."

Shirley Lincoln, sophomore, teachers: "No, I don't believe so.

I don't think that the present trend is toward religion, and it doesn't play as important part in the lives of men as it did in the past."

Lois Jean Way, freshman, arts and sciences: "Yes, I believe this way because when a crisis occurs persons are so much more concerned about the happenings of the world than during normal times and they will look toward their church for aid in solving the troubles that have arisen from the crisis."

Robert Norton, freshman, engineer: "No, I don't believe so. They neglect it because they center their attention on too many other things."

Twila Branwell, sophomore, teachers: "I believe that they do because it is only natural to turn to somebody in time of need and the church is the logical place to turn to."

Bob Mead, freshman, pharmacy: "They do to some extent. Lot of persons know how it is to go thru a war, and they pray that their relatives do not have to experience the same thing."

OPEN LETTER TO THE TEAM!

Dear Gang:

"WHEN YOU PLAY NEBRASKA YOU PLAY THE WHOLE STATE." . . . Knute Rockne said that, and he wasn't kidding. We're the druggists, the merchants, and butchers, and bakers and just plain people. And we're all with you 100%.

We know that you're doing the real job; blocking and tackling and eating the dirt. Still, maybe it will mean something to you to know that in our hearts we fight with you every inch of the way.

Those guys from Minnesota are only human; they can be whipped—and you're just the team to do it. Straight from the shoulder, fellows, we think you've got the stuff to go out there and give 'em the works! Good luck boys, from a million and a half loyal Nebraskans!!
