Famous Count Discusses Finds In Union at 11

Dead men do tell tales. In his motion picture lecture at Union convocation Wednesday at 11 a. m., the noted archaeologist and explorer Count Byron de Prorok will disclose some of the mysteries of lost civilizations.

Holder of a number of "conspicuous firsts" in the field of archaeological discovery, Prorok has been searching for forgotten worlds for 20 years. For his achievements he has been decorated by most of the countries of Europe.

De Prorok was the first man to use moving pictures to record archaeological data, and the first to use the airplane for exploration. He also discovered Tinasa, an ancient submerged city under the Mediterranean. The relics of Hannibal, Alexander the Great, Cleopatra and King Solomon's Mines—all were first unearthed by the Count. He was the first to establish a scientific link between the Mayas of Central America and the ancient Libyans of the Atlas and Northwest Africa.

From 1936 to 1940, Count de Prorok was exploring the North African regions where Italy now battles Britain. In his pictures he

Alpha Phi Wins WAA Trophy In Riding Club Show Sunday

. . . Gamma Phi Takes Second

By Pat Chamberlin.

The coveted WAA riding trophy, the presentation of which climaxed the horse show held last Sunday at Shreve's riding school, Pioneer park, by the University Women's Riding club, went to Alpha Phi. Performances were given in several classes by Alpha Phis Margie Rivett, Billie Bryan, Peggy Halstead, Pat Herminghaus and Joan Sheldon.

Runner-up for the trophy, which is a bronze figurine of an American saddle horse mounted on an engraved pedestal, was Gamma Phi Beta whose points totaled 12 against the 17 of the Alpha Phis. Kappa Kappa Gamma took third place with 8 points.

Sunday's ideal horse show weather drew more than 300 spectators to Shreve's riding ring to watch eight sororities and Carrie Belle Raymond, represented by over 20 girls, compete.

Pat Chamberlin, KAT, Marge Rivett, and Joan Sheldon won the blues in horsemanship in the advanced, intermediate, and beginning classes respectively. Second in the advanced went to Mary Beeson, KKG, and third to Marion Margrave, unaffiliated. Gamma Phi Janet Gibson and Alpha Chi Mary Mason placed second and third in the intermediate, while second and third in the beginning class were won by Pat Herminghaus and Peggy Halstead respectively.

Fraternities, Tassels Join Red Cross

Delta Upsilon, Zeta Beta Tau, and Sigma Alpha Mu started off the fraternity 100 percent list in the Red Cross drive last night, when all three fraternities pledged each of their respective members to membership in the American Red Cross. Tassels, women's pep group, donated $50 to the charity organization at their meeting yesterday afternoon.

The five sororities which have

Dinner Program Includes Skits

Highlighting the annual bizad banquet to be held tonight in the Union ballroom at 6 p. m. will be the announcement of scholastic awards won by bizad students during the past year and the awarding of gold keys to last year's ten top freshman students in the college.

Freshman students named to receive Gold Keys are: Eugene Allen,

Coeds Hold Style Show Tonight at 7

Freshman coeds will participate in the Charm School style show to be held at Hovland-Swanson's department store Tuesday beginning at 7 p. m., with all university women invited to attend. The early time was set to allow those attending to make the 8 p. m. deadline.

Freshman women from all houses on the campus will model in the show and a member of the Hovland-Swanson staff will be on hand to comment on the styles which are the latest arrivals at Hovlands.

Those modeling should be at the store at 6 p. m. according to an announcement by Dorothy Weirich and Marion Aden who are in charge of arrangements for the show.

Kenneth Elson, John William Greene, Jack Kniceley, Ralph Edward Larson, Carroll Meyer, Carlyle Peterson, William Rist, Harry Schumacher, and John Wolf.

The key awards were initiated by the late William Gold, a leading Lincoln merchant, and the practice is being continued by his son, Nathan Gold.

Tonight's after-dinner program will be unique in that brief skits and music will be featured as compared with addresses of past years.

New Fraternity Members.

In addition to the freshman awards, announcement of members elected to Beta Gamma Sigma, national honorary bizad fraternity, will be made. Nine students were named in last spring's election to the fraternity, while five have been chosen this fall.

Included on the list of individual awards are the winners of the Alpha Kappa Psi Citizenship Prize, presented to the senior student ranking highest in professional subjects and student activities during the first seven semesters of college, and the Phi Chi Theta Key, awarded to the junior woman.

. . . Despite Chicago U

By Joe Belden, Editor.

(Student Opinion Surveys of America.) Austin, Tex., Nov. 14.—Recently President Robert M. Hutchins of Chicago U. announced that the university was getting along quite well without intercollegiate football. But the game continues to thrive in nearly every other university and most of the smaller colleges. Furthermore, the sport as it exists today has the approval of nearly nine out of every ten college students.

Only five percent of the nation's collegians would substitute the big time games with an intramural program, it is found in a study conducted by Student Opinion Surveys of America, the national weekly poll of college thought sponsored by 150 undergraduate newspapers including the Daily Nebraskan.

Hundreds of students were interviewed everywhere from the University of Maine to Stanford in California, with the question, "Would you rather see football in University Receives Carnegie Art Donation; Home Ec Grant

Announced Monday by Chancellor C. S. Boucher were two recent gifts to the university, one from the Carnegie corporation of New York for art exhibits and the second from the National Research Council of Washington to Dr. Ruth M. Leverton of the home economics department.

The Carnegie corporation appropriated $3,000 as a final grant to the university toward support of the art exhibition programs of the extension division, according to word received from Secretary

Robert M. Lester. M. Lester was in Lincoln recently to attend the national conference of the Association of American Universities.

Benefits Rural Children.

The exhibition program operates to give rural school children an opportunity to become acquainted with art as something to live with and enjoy. It now includes 56 rural traveling galleries which tour 56 Nebraska counties and spend one week in each rural school district. Mrs. M. E. Vance is in charge of the work and travels about the state to assist teachers in use of the galleries.

A junior exhibit of prints and originals circulates among smaller towns of the state. All exhibits are prepared with the aid of the university art department from whose collection originals are loaned. More than 160,000 persons view the traveling galleries during the 1940.

The second gift, a grant of $360, was made to enable Miss Leverton to continue her investigation of "Iron Metabolism in Human Subjects."
