Defense Group Sponsors Benefit Show For Red Cross

A vaudeville variety show, student-acted and student produced, will be the first benefit performance sponsored on the campus by the Student Defense Committee. The committee announced yesterday that the entire proceeds of the performance, scheduled for February 14 in the Union ballroom, will be turned over to the Red Cross War Fund.

Tickets for the Valentine's day show go on sale Feb. 2; the price of admission will be 30 cents. Students may attend either the 3 or the 8 o'clock performance.

All the work for the show will be done free of charge, the entire gate receipts going to the Red Cross. The committee considered the benefit performance a more effective means of raising money than another house to house canvass.

Enlist Entertainers.

All student entertainers will be asked to donate their talents for the performance. A number of acts have, already been scheduled. Furnishing the music for the show will be Bob Garey's all student orchestra and supplementing his efforts will be the DU swingsters of Kosmet Klub fame.

Six Orchestras Entertain At President's Birthday Ball

With six orchestras donating their services for the evening, citizens of Lincoln and students of the university will dance at the president's birthday ball on January 29.

The dean of women has given special permission to all women who are up in their studies and prepared for their exams the following day to attend the dance.

An annual affair since President Roosevelt took office, the birthday ball proceedings will be used to stamp out infantile paralysis all over the country. According to officials, more money will be sent to the fund this year than ever before, since entertainers, paid in the past, have volunteered their services.

Orchestras who will play for the party, one of Lincoln's annual big social events, are Johnny Cox, Dave Haun, Henry Mattison, Mel Pester, Gay Fiester and Eddie Sheffert.

Jack Stewart, president of the senior class, and Mary Kerrigan, Nebraskan editor, are in charge of campus activities in the drive. Tickets, selling for $1.10, will go on sale this week. Corn Cobs will handle campus sales.

Indiana U Uses Junior Division Plan

As a part of its new War Service Plan, Indiana University has announced that it will establish a Junior Division modeled to a large extent after that department of this university.

In November, 1940, officials from Indiana spent three days on this campus gathering information on our program. According to the dean of the Nebraska Junior Division, N. A. Bengtson, the Indians investigated every phase of the UN department and talked with faculty members and students concerning its merits.

Professors Ford P. Hall, James F. Moffat, and George W. Starr, the visiting faculty members from IU, are members of that school's Junior Division advisory board. An announcement in the Indiana Daily Student points out that the division was created to serve the new students more adequately by dealing with many old problems that will be intensified by and with new new problems that will arise from the war situation in regard to admissions, guidance, and two-year students.

Defense Class Rolls Picked Here Saturday

Evening Courses Begin In Aircraft Assembly Inspection Next Term

Selection of applicants for the two evening defense courses in aircraft assembly inspection beginning Feb. 2 will be made here on Saturday, according to an announcement by Prof. W. L. DeBaufre, director of the defense courses in the college of engineering.

Students may enter the classes if they plan to quit school and obtain defense jobs on completion of the course. Women who can meet requirements are also invited to apply for the training. Professor DeBaufre said.

For the preliminary course in drafting and shop mathematics, applicants must be high school graduates with two years of mathematics, while the second course in aircraft assembly inspection also requires training or experience in engineering drawing.

A letter from Washington announced that "regularly enrolled college students may not be admitted to any ESMDT course unless they intend, upon completion of the course, to enter defense employment or the armed forces and do not intend to re-enroll in college within the next academic year.

In such instances the course must not be taken for college credit or as a substitute for a regular college course, except as this provision may have been specifically waived by the director."

Uni Symphony Concert Wins Approval of Daily Reviewer

By Dieter Kober.

A large audience enthusiastically received a splendid performance of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony by the University Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Emanuel Wishnow at the Union Sunday afternoon.

The Symphony was given an intelligent and understanding reading thru conductor Wishnow's able musicianship and leading qualities. Thus the orchestra brought out every bit of interpretative power at its command. The dramatic intensity of this work was perceptible from the familiar opening bars thru the entire four movements leading to a climatic finale. The concert opened with the overture to the opera "Libuse" a less known work by the Bohemian composer, Samana, which certainly deserves to be heard more in concert programs.

Two American composers were represented with the "Rhumba" from the Second Symphony by Harold McDonald and variations on the familiar tune "Pop Goes the Weasel" by Lucien Calliet.

The special orchestral effects of both pieces produced the reaction which one may expect of any attentive audience.

The program closed with the Jubel Overture by Weber which with its finale-embodiment of "America" brought the afternoon's music to a fitting and appropriate ending.

AWS Issues List Of Exam Rules

Following are a list of rules suggested by the AWS House Council to apply during exam periods at organized houses:

Quiet hours: 7:30 p. m.-12:00 noon and 1:00 p. m.-5:00 p. m.

The houses should plan a one-half hour rest period during the evening, 10-10:30 or 10:30-11 suggested.

Freshmen and sophomores may be permitted by the house mother to go out on nights not followed by exams.

Down slips exist thru the exam period and no special permission will be granted to those having them.
