From the mawkish, maudlin mess that is the life we live pop salient facts and tales demanding their tabulation. So we tabulate.

Note the Phi Psi fantasy of jubilant James Townsend, a potential army birdman who feathered his nest at that club's hunt Monday eve by distributing the smokes to brothers in bond on the contention that they were nothing more than something to remember him by. But note, too, that the shield of Fi Sigh no longer hangs over that lad's blood pump.

No singer she, Fern Bergren, Alpha Xi Delt struggled through a pair of the bars of 'Fiji Honey-moon' for sisters Monday eve in celebration of linking her jewelry with that of Claude Wright's. It was one of those many things that happened Friday night.

Number Please.

Wide awake lads such as Ed Calhoun, Jim Nicola, and others give weight to our contention that ATO can stand for one thing only—All Tired Out. The other morn, industrious Bob Butler deconnected the telewacky and trucked off to the dorm with it. He would shake one of the kiddies out of their lethary, announce that they were wanted on the telephone and then hand them the speaking unit. Several of the sleep loggy lads sat up in the trance they call sleep and tried to carry on conversations with Butler standing nearby voicing the other half of the confab.

Woo wolf of the Delta U house, Richard Geesaman treads water with Alphy Phi Virginia McCulla, each and every afternoon in a grill. Can this be one of those incidents where he furthers his own interests by looking after those of brother Bob Farmer? . . . It wasn't long ago that he had Theta nicety Ann Seacrest snowed under with his affections. . . That isn't a horse under that plaid coat that runs around the campus. It's Phi Psi Spence Porter. . .

Order Please.

Crying in her orange juice these days is despondent Pi Phi Jean Baker, Kappa Sig Jim Evinger's dating legacy. Jimes is so close to the army that he hesitates to send his laundry out weekly for fear that he won't get to wear it. . . Sig Ep Robin Gelwick running loose in the lobby of the Stuart theatre in a straight jacket was not as serious as it looked. He was merely helping brother Dean Pohlentz (the manger there) advertise "Hellzapoppin'". . . However, his cagey house brothers considered reporting a "loose lunitic" to the police. . . You see Delt Art Lincoln putting around with Theta Milene Hansen since Sig Nu John Mackey is in the air core. . . A Girl Friday who is this column's girl every day is Betty Winn, a babe who throws plenty of information our way each sun rising. . . We're done now.

Some 30 members of the staff of New York's City college have been ousted following a legislative inquiry into communist activities.

YW Leaders Ask All Women To Annual Tea

All women students interested in the Y.W.C.A. are invited to a membership tea tomorrow from 3 to 5 p. m. in Ellen Smith. At this time cabinet members and staff heads will explain the work of their groups and members and those interested will be given an opportunity to sign for a staff.

Work in the Y.W.C.A. will be divided among several different types of groups this next semester ranging from social service work, Girl Reserve, Sunday school, and league training groups to knitting for the Red Cross and studying different religions.

Regents Adjust ROTC Regulations To Aid Students

Students who become ineligible for membership in ROTC because of enlistment in another branch of the U. S. armed forces are released from compulsory university ROTC requirements, according to action taken by the board of regents and announced Monday.

Thus students may enlist in the naval or marine corps reserve and still continue in the university under special deferments which may be allowed by the branches. Ordinarily ROTC work is required of students during the freshman and sophomore years.

The regents' action further specifies that such enlisted students may continue ROTC training under provisions of paragraph 20 of army regulations 145-10 if they wish to do so to secure additional university credit. These regulations state that men who cannot qualify as regularly enrolled students may take the work at their own expense.
