Sooners Respect Cornhuskers If They Are 20 Points Behind

. . . Consider Last Year

NORMAN, Okla., Feb. 10—Oklahoma's fast-moving basketball team is regarding its next test, the clash with Coach A. J. Lewandowski's Nebraska Cornhuskers here February 16, with something of a shudder.

And no wonder. In Norman, Lewandowski's Nebraskans are known as the team that can't play worth a darn until its gets 20 points behind.

Last year here the big boys in Scarlet put on the finest and gamest last-half rally ever produced here in the memory of the eldest fan to defeat an astonished Oklahoma team that led by 22 points at one point of the last half.

30 10 Defeat.

Coach Bruce Drake's Sooners looked perfect the first 30 minutes of the one-sided contest. They led 28 to 9 at one point in the first half. And their savagery didn't end there. They came out for the second half like an enraged Tennessee colonel looking for the guy who slurred his family, and drove the score up to 36-14 with five minutes of the last half gone.

With only ten minutes left to play Oklahoma still led by 20 points, 37-17, and the crowd began to yawn and look around for its wraps.

Suddenly the big Nebraska team began to hit. Cold as an ice locker pork chop in the first half, the Northerners made a funnel out of the ring when they got going.

Aggressive Defense Works.

Also, Lewandowski ordered his men to pick the Sooners up all over the court. This was smart strategy. It was the most aggressive defense Oklahoma fans had ever seen. The Nebraskans would make a goal, Oklahoma would throw the ball in, and the fighting Cornhuskers would either intercept the pass or take the ball away from some Sooner and score again.

A couple of Nebraska substitutes, Young and Goetz, hit from all over the floor in the final moments and the petrified Sooner spectators sat stunned after the final gun exploded just two seconds after Young had dunked a running one-hander from long range to give Nebraska the victory 43-42. Oklahoma couldn't believe it had lost.

Lewandowski will bring to Norman practically the same hustling squad that was in on that celebrated last-half kill, Fitzgibbon, Thompson, Livingston, Held and the unerring climax marksmen, Young and Goetz.

Frats Bristle; IM Fur Flies In Basketball

With two nights of intramural basketball results on the books, eight teams remain undefeated in class "A." Five of these teams have two victories tucked under their belts, while three teams have won their only game. Each undefeated team will defend its standing in the games tonight at the Coliseum.

Beta Theta Pi and Beta Sigma Pi are leading league one with two wins apiece. The Betas meet Xi Psi Phi in tonight's contest, and the Beta Sigs take on the AGRs. Both opponents have lost two games. The two leaders meet on the court next Tuesday night.

Kappa Sigs Lead.

The Kappa Sigs have the top rung to themselves in league two with two wins. Following close behind is the Farm House with one win and no losses. Tonight the Kappa Sigs meet the Alpha Sigs, who have lost both their contests. Farm House takes on the once-defeated SAEs.

Alpha Tau Omega will be out for its third win when it meets the twice-defeated Theta Xi. The Phi Gams have played one game, and have won one. Tonight the Fijis

Husker Gym Squad Ready

. . . for Gophers

Coach Charley Miller's improved gymnastics team open their 1942 home season Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock on the Coliseum stage with Minnesota furnishing the opposition.

Miller's sophomores gained plenty of experience the hard way during their trip east and should furnish the powerful Minnesota crew some stiff competition. The work of Collins McMaster and Bobby Cooper lifted future hopes for the sophomoric team. McMaster garnered high point honors for the Huskers during the eastern jaunt.

Total judges points for the dual meets with Illinois, Indiana, Southern Illinois Normal, and the triangular meet with Chicago and Minnesota are as follows:

McMaster	139
Cooper	142½
Griffith	140½
Peisak	136
Porter	125½
Hodges	113

meet the Sig Eps, who were the victims of a 19-5 win by the ATOs.

ZBT Has Hopes.

Zeta Beta Tau will attempt to break its two-game losing streak and the DU two-game winning streak when the two teams meet tonight. The hot Sigma Nu team, which wasn't quite hot enough to defeat the DUs in the highest scoring contest thus far, will do its best to break into the win column by beating the undefeated Sammys.

That is the situation of interfraternity basketball up to tonight. The last results were: Phi Gam 17, Phi Delta Theta 13; Phi Psi 8, Delta 10; SAM 13, ZBT 7; DU 24, Theta Xi 12; ATO 11, Delta Tau AGR 4; Beta Sig 12, SA E11; Delta Sig 14, Alpha Sig 13.
