K State's Leading Hurdler...

Courtesy Lincoln Journal. Ed Daren, one of the loop leading hurdlers, is shown above clearing one of the high timber barriers in anticipation of the Kansas State-Nebraska track meet on the indoor track tonight at 7:30. In the Aggies first meet of the season, Daren was clocked in the highs at 7.9 seconds and in the lows in 7.2 seconds. He won both of them. He is expected to give Huskers Ralph King and Bill Smutz plenty of competition.

Correction, Please!

A mistake has been made and everyone and his brother has told us about it! We wish to clear it up. The cut of Red Littler yesterday was the cause of it all. The wrong cut was procured and instead of one showing him breaking the tape in the 60 yard dash, the cut showed him 6.2 seconds earlier before he started. The explanation was in fault. We're sorry.

Rounding the Curves

An important part of any track team is the part played by the weight men. As the opening of the 1942 indoor season nears, coach Ed Weir is devoting much time to such men. The reason, these men are often the balance of power in a closely contested meet.

Leading these field performers for the Nebraska squad, is N.C.

Edsel Wibbels Harold Hunt
Lincoln Journal.

A.A. pole vault champion Harold Hunt. Undeclared in Big Six competition, Hunt holds such titles as the Drake Relays, and the Illinois Relays championships.

To top his performances he has a 14-2 vault to his credit, made last year in the National Championships. Aiding Hunt is Howard Debus, state prep record holder. In practice Debus has been pushing close to 13 feet, and can be counted on for valuable points.

In the shot put, where the strong boys take over, Nebraska has material aplenty. Vic Schleich, Ed Wibbels, Kirwin Eisenhart and Howard Debus are the quartet who would make any coach sit up and take notice.

Schleich is the defending Big Six outdoor champ and along with Wibbels is pushing 50 feet, rather hard. Debus and Eisenhart are sophomores and have shown great promise. They are doing around 46 feet.

In rounding out the field events there is the high jump and the broad jump. These are the Cornhuskers' weakest events. Ed Weir is not sure which men will get the call in these events, but Don Morris, Gene Littler and Bill Smutz will probably handle the broad jumping assignment with Ralph King doing the high jumping chores.

Cyclone Team Invades Tank

... In Coliseum

AMES, Ia.—Iowa State college, defending champion in the Big Six, winds up its meet season in a road trip against Nebraska and Kansas State this week end.

The Cyclones have lost one meet this year, a 50 to 34 encounter with the University of Minnesota. Victories have been scored over Carleton, 52 to 32, and Nebraska, 50 to 34.

cause of worry it no longer exists.

Always a great ball handler and floor man, "Rambling Ralph" now is racing up and down the floor again as he did in high school. His talents as a team man have always stood him in good stead and now that he can do more on his own hook, he's a tough man to beat.

Track Squad Entertains Kansas State Cindermen

... Tonight at Stadium

Track, basketball, wrestling, gymnastics and swimming—all five of them will see Husker teams in action at home and abroad over the weekend with both conference and non-conference schools furnishing the competition.

Tonight Husker tracksters entertain the from down Manhattan way when the Kansas State squad appears for a dual meet with the Scarlet cindermen at 7:30 p. m. under the east stadium in a warm-up meet for the Saturday home engagement with Oklahoma.

Second Meet for Both.

This meet will mark the second of the indoor season for both schools. Nebraska downed Missouri 5 1/2 to 48 1/2 last Saturday and at the same time Kansas State was defeating sister school, Kansas U., 69 1/2 to 34 1/2.

Red Littler, sprint ace, may be missing from the line-up since he is nursing an injured tendon. He will, in all probability, be ready for Oklahoma. The Big Six indoor meet will be held a week after the Sooner get together and Coach Ed Weir wants to save Littler as much as he can.

Gill Will Double.

Bobby Ginn, Madison bantam-sized miler, will do double duty in the event Littler does not run. He will double in the mile and the halfmile or the two mile.

Al Rues, distance ace, will be the chief invader threat. Against K. U. he won both the mile and the two mile events. Jim Upham will have the best chance in the 140 with a clocking of 52.6. Husker quarter milers have consistently turned in times under this.

From the cinders to the maples and we shift from track to basketball, cage exponents of the Husker variety will be defending themselves from Oklahoma's hordes.

Basketball Battle.

Last Monday on the Norman court, Nebraska fell to the same Sooner squad by a 29-37 score. Nebraska will be battling to stay in fourth position and Oklahoma will be trying to maintain its conference lead shared jointly with Kansas.

Ralph Tucker, overpowering tower of Soonerdom, will be attempting to show up Sid Held, Nebraska ace, once again. While Held was making one point in the last fracas, Tucker was good for 17 of the needed tallies when the two teams got together the last time.

Adam's Boys Wind Up.

Coach Jerry Adam's proteges of doubtful talent are not exhibiting much in the victory line but are proving good pupils as they are taking the count from every mat team that they have faced. They concluded their road trip fiasco last night against Michigan State.

Newt Copple, Ed Copple and Herb Jackman are the only consistent winners on the eastward jaunt. They will return today or tomorrow.

Swimmers Entertain.

Swim artists have their initial chance to show off before home people on Friday night when they re-entertain Iowa State in a dual meet in the coliseum tank. The swimmers under Coach Tommy Lee's tutelage have not been overly impressive in the three meets preceding.

They lost to Iowa State and Kansas State, setting Oklahoma down Saturday evening of the past week.

Gym Trip Doubtful.

The gymnasts are not certain as to what they are going to do. If officials do not cancel the trip, Husker gymnastic stars will turn to the Rocky Mountains. Tentative schedules list meets with Colorado at Boulder on Thursday Colorado Teachers at Greeley and a three team meet on Saturday at Greeley.

It promises to be a week well filled with sports.

Former Husker

Jayhawk Remarks

LAWRENCE, Kas.—"Rambling Ralph" Miller, the race horse of the court, is running rampant once again. On the sidelines last year to allow an injured knee to strengthen, the University of Kansas basketball ace came back this season rarin' to go.

The year's layoff from basketball and a hard season of football resulted in Miller's getting off to a slow start this winter, but he is moving in high gear now.

Several weeks ago the K. U. individual scoring record of 27 points fell before Miller, as he zoomed 30 points thru the net against Wichita U. Howard Engleman had set the old mark in 1939.

Chanute Had Him. When Ralph graduated from Chanute high school, he was touted as one of the two greatest Kansas high school basketball players of all time. Only the great "Red" DeBarnard of Iola was accorded a place on the same level with Miller.

For three years of high school competition, he had an average of 19.7 points a game to show. A good share of his points had been rolled up against the stiffest competition to be found in the state.

Promise Aplenty.

Consequently great things were expected of him when he chose to enroll at the University of Kansas, the home of nationally prominent basketball teams, year after year.

But a severe knee injury, incurred in the fifth football game of the season his sophomore year, changed things for Miller completely. His first two years on the varsity basketball team found him slowed down greatly by the necessity of his knee always being tightly bound.

Boosted Average.

Despite that handicap, he managed to average 6.75 points a game as a sophomore. Because of his knee, his playing time that year amounted to an average of only 23 minits a game.

In his junior year, Ralph got more used to being hobbled and boosted his average that season to 9.7 points a game. In Big Six games his average was 11.6, good enough for second place in the scoring race.

Now, following two operations on his knee and a year on the sidelines, the joint is sound and as a
