Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of this party. If this party isn't aided soon, then will come the time for all good embalmers to come to the aid of the gossip corpse. Into the Valley of Death ride the "400."

Phony man in the ZBT house, uncontested to the end, is Sheldon Kaufmann who held up one end of a telewacky conversation until it was perpendicular with Coo Omega Jo Thurston the other eve. The session lasted for an hour and five minutes with a long line of brothers getting plenty disgusted. Finally, in desperation they barricaded the door and left him sitting there for another sixty minutes, then dragged him out. The boy then had the brass to bust out with "That's the best company I've been in since I moved in the house." . . . Alphy Phee Lois Christie mended her crazy quilt with Alpha Sig Robin Hyde and likes the rejuvenation of their dormant affair.

Popping Past.

The fire across the street from the Sig Elf house Wednesday eve and Beta Jack Stewart's candid crack—"I knew the Sig Alphas couldn't keep that still there this long without a fire." . . . It's funny how people's pasts keep popping up. Here's a tangy tale Pappy Ed Calhoun of the ATO house was wrapped up in on his sojourn to Minnesota for the game there last season. . . . Ed coming back to the chapter house there late one eve, saw a chappie who looked like he was on the tipsy side of life. Ed offered to help him get home only to find to his utter chagrin the chap was dean of one of the leading colleges on the Minny campus. . . . This story comes to you with the courtesy of Ed's playmate, Georgia Covey.

Leaves of Grass.

That fast growing student favorite, Don Reid and his band, play for the third consecutive weekend at the Turnpike, starting this eve. Astute followers like ATO Tom Tom Miller and Kappa A Craft will be there for their third helping come Sattiday eve. . . . Back like a flash was Sig Hep Bob Busby to wise up brothers on his engagement to an Omaha lass, then to whip off for army fun at Fort Benning. . . . D U Don Young has a mutache that reminds us of one of Whitman's poems "The Leaves of Grass." . . . We're done now.

Facts on File Fill in Details Of Knowledge

If you wish to know what kind of dandelion produces the greatest amount of rubber, or what film of 1941 was voted the best; if you want the New York Times weekly business index, or a synopsis of the Pope's peace plan, the quickest way to find this information is to consult Facts on File. This is a weekly index of world events edited by Bernard Person. The synopsis of events is subdivided into nine sections: National Defense (now, United States War), National Affairs, Foreign Affairs, Latin America, Finance and Economics, Arts and Science, Education and Religion, Sports, and Miscellaneous.

A cumulative index makes the material in each section readily available. The advisory board includes prominent educators, journalists, historians, and other authorities in their respective fields.

Since Facts on File comes each week, it is more up-to-date than the New York Times index, and is not restricted to information from one paper.
