comment

Bulletin

Editorial Jhe Daily Nebraskan

Subscription Rates are $1.00 Per Semester or $1.50 for the College Year. $2.50 Mailed. Single copy, 5 Cents. Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice in Lin-coln, Nebraska, under Act of Congress March 3, 1879, and at special rate of postage provided for in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917. Authorized September 30, 1922.

Published Daily during the school year except Mondays and Saturdays, vacations and examinations periods by Students of the University of Nebraska under the supervision of the Pub-lications Board.

Night-2-7193. Journal-2-3330. Offices Day-2-7181.

EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT.

Member Nebraska Press Association, 1941-42

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT.

Assistant Bus Managers .... Betty Dixon, Phi Kantor Circulation Manager .... Stuart Muskin

All unsigned editorials are the opinions of the editor and hould not be construed to reflect the views of the ad-distration or of the university.

Letterip

(The following article was printed in the Omaha World-Herald and sent to us by some one in Grand Island who calls hilmself "Dad." Note accompanying the clipping asked if we "have any defense of student use of cars."

College students are still riding around in cars. And plenty of them aren't old piles of junk. There are still big cars on college campuses-in which students will still ride to and from fraternity houses, go to out-of-town dances, and drive home for week-ends.

What's the matter with that picture? Well, just this: All over the country there are men with families whose livelihood depends on their having an automobile-with tires.

When their cars and their tires are gone -their means of earning a living will be gone, too.

Cars are no luxury to them. So it must make them wonder a little just what goes on when they see a nice big car piled full of students who are riding around just for the fun of it.

Wouldn't it be a good idea if college president would call their students together and ask them to start walking or riding bicycles, and saving both automobiles and tires for some purpose more important—at least in war times -than having fun?

Of all the groups in the country who could get along without cars-college students certainly should lead the list. They're young and plenty able to walk to and from classes. And there is always enough going on in a college town so that they don't have to leave it to find amusement.

There ought to be enough patriotism among students to make them look down their noses at the student who is still driving a car, when his own two legs could take him everywhere he has to go.

Awgwan Concocts Excuse,

Claims Press Is Broken

Dear "Dad"-We have none.

It's Happened Again . . .

By Marsa Lee Civin.

Students were allowed only one week vacation instead of the usual two at Christmas, according to an action of the university senate in 1917. The question of a spring recess was still in doubt but the general impression was that it would at least be shortened.

Steps were taken to arrange dates so that school could be dismissed early to let men get back to the farms to help with the spring crop.

Professor M. M. Fogg of the department of rhetoric had a war bulletin board to post communications from the men in the service.

Seventeen hundred surgical dressings were sent from the university Red Cross office to Red Cross headquarters from whence they will be sent to France.

A bulletin from Chancellor Avery to faculty and other employees follows:

"In accordance with the request of the federal government through Dr. Garfield, fuel commissioner, efforts must be made to economize as much as possible in the university.

"It is hoped professors will work as much as possible outside of business and teaching hours at home in order that coal for heating purposes be saved."

On Other Campuses By Marjorie May

"The Case of the Missing Orchid" is still being enacted at the University of Ohio law school. Future lawyers have turned detectives in an attempt to solve the mystery of the missing orchid, the only corsage at their annual formal dance.

In harmony with the university policy of cutting expenses for social events during the war, the law students voted to deny themselves the privilege of presenting their partners with corsages. However, they decided to have one orchid to be worn by each lady for a period of ten minutes during the

The orchid was carefully preserved in an oblong cellophane box. The transfer of flowers at the end rolled students. They should be of scheduled intervals was made possible by the use of hemp cord attached to a box and the placing of the cord over the young lady's shoulders.

Said flower of beauty was to be awarded to the winner of the "httle Jug" contest at midnight but at 11:40 said article promptly disappeared.

Maybe the next exchange issue of the Ohio paper will disclose the culprit.

Over two hundred students have enrolled for Red Cross first aid courses at the University of Washington. Two credits are given all students who take the course, and all who pass the final examination are entitled to the standard Red Cross first aid card.

Lectures, and demonstrations are given in the types of bandaging, treatment for wounds and burns, artificial respiration, fractures, poisons, unconsciousness and common emergencies.

Collegiate Oddities...

BDOC Filings Open Again as Requested

... By Students

Because students have asked contest will be placed on display that filings for BDOC be reopened, in the Union lounge today. Also next week and filings have been extended until Saturday roon.

Students are urged to circulate petitions and submit them before at the Prom and will be photothe deadline as it cannot be extended again. Petitions to be valid must be signed by 25 en- licity will be given to the univer-

BDOC Candidates

Carlos Atkison Ren Bukacek Wally Engdahl Ray Grimes Boyd MacDougal Jack MacPhail Ed Milder Bob Poe Spencer Porter Harry Rinder Jim Selzer Bert Smith Jack Stewart

turned into the Nebraskan business manager's office before 12 noon this Saturday.

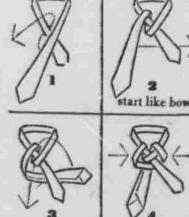

The Elgin pocket watch which will be presented at the Junior-Senior Prom to the winner of the voting has been postponed until on display are the outfits given by Harvey's, Magee's, Simon's and Golds.

The new BDOC will be presented graphde by representatives sent to Lincoln by Esquire. Much pubsity by Esquire when the 11 BDOC's from universities all over the U. S. will be shown.

here's how to tie the Windsor Knot correct dressing Esquire's fashion staff

Do you wear the fashionable widespread collar? Here's how to tie the correct knot to go with it - the Windsor Knot . ...

Listing Grievances . . . Students Strike Demanding Omaha U President Resign

mimeographed manifesto listed these grievances: 1. "He has been consistently unfair in his dealings with the faculty," 2. "His financial policies hurt the North Central conference athletic

Bookstore . . .

(Continued from Page 1.) Comstock read, "It is our belief that if the legislature had intended to include the state of Nebraska, its agencies and government subdivisions within the purview of this (the fair trade) act, they would have no expressly stated in the act.

"We find no place where the state, its agencies or subdivisions is expressly included in the act, and further find no provision of the act which we believe includes these offices will be announced in the state, its agencies or governmental subdivisions, by implica-

Omaha university students have university, the students, the fac-called a strike demanding the ulty and the taxpayer," 3. "He resignation of university president has tried to exert control over the Rowland Haynes. The strike is be- board of regents thru his partial ing lead by student leaders who and unfair reports of the univer-

Apparently the spark which set off the active movement to ask for his resignation was the university's decision to discontinue

The manifesto was signed by the student council, "O" club women's athletic association, "Feathers" (pep club), independents, inter-fraternity council, inter-sorority council, (student newspaper), and Tomahawk (year book).

LORT Man's gold Hamilton wrist watch, Morrill hall 4:30 Treestay, Reward

Lutherans Hold Lenten Services

in the machine (a fine excuse!).

for a political office and so, busy was the usual race to the presses,

Lutheran students will hold Lenten services beginning Sunday in Union parlors Y and Z at 10:45 a. m. Rev. Henry Erck will speak on symb s taken from the passion history as a basis of his sermon "The Crowing Cock."

So it's happened again. The as all politicians are, he just Awgwan will NOT appear as didn't have time to print the col- called three mass meetings Mon- sity's activities. scheduled-again, This time there lege humor magazine.

... But Appears Tonight

However, Awgwan pursuaded him to take a little time off, get something which should never be his hands out of that cramped poin publishing any publication, and sition and do a little work. So, he then the presses wouldn't print it. Not that it isn't any good, for did, and pushed the little button to start the presses and-not a this is another case of "what's thing happened, not a single thing.

good is worth waiting for," but Excuse number 2: the presses were broken. Awgwan got their handy-man out, Melvin Tannen-baum, and fixed the thing. this time the printer was the cog Seems Mr. Printer is running

Awgwan promises, again, that Awgwan will be on the stands

(Continued from Page 1.) of the Nebraska Foundation, and the Student Council committee.

Foundation . . .

The successful candidates for the Daily Nebraskan the first of next week.